

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Preface	xi
Chapter One: Varieties of Political Experience	1
Chapter Two: Power: An Outline of the Concept and of its Manifestations	15
Chapter Three: Political Power Un-Manned: A Defence of the Holy Trinity from Michael Mann's Military Attack	27
Chapter Four: State and Society: Modern Trends of a Problematic Relationship	43
Chapter Five: Juridical Aspects of European State-Making: A Retrospect	53
Chapter Six: Citizens and the State: A Retrospective View and an Attempt at Prospecting	63
Chapter Seven: Challenge and Response in the Relationship Between the State and the Liberal Public Sphere	75
Chapter Eight: Relations Between Political and Economic Power: A Conceptual Narrative	85
Chapter Nine: The Secularization of the State: Aspects of a Major Historical Development	111
Chapter Ten: The Westphalian Design of the Modern States System	121
Chapter Eleven: The Genesis of Weber's Talks on the Vocations of Science and of Politics	139
Bibliography	155
Appendix: The Concept of Power (Heinrich Popitz)	159
Index	179