

The Road to Winesburg

A Mosaic
of the Imaginative Life of Sherwood Anderson

by
William A. Sutton

The Scarecrow Press, Inc.
Metuchen, N. J.      1972

Contents

	Page
Preface	v
Sources for This Book	vii
List of Mosaics	xi
Part One. The Road to Winesburg	xiii
Chapter
1. "A Fair and Sweet Town"	17
2. A Callow Youth	53
3. The Right War	63
4. Interim	87
5. For He Was Studious	92
6. An American Advertising Man	101
Chronological Bibliography of Anderson Publica- tions, 1900-1906	145
7. Sherwood Anderson, President	151
8. Exit to Elsinore	162
9. A Hero to Himself	209
Section A: The Peculiar Difficulties of My Position	209
Section B: To Forgive My Idiosyncrasies	233
Section C: "Dear Brother"	271
Section D: A Certain Satisfaction	326
10. "The Road Is So Long"	343
Section A: Windy McPherson and the Little     Magazines	343
Section B: Marching Men	368
Section C: Mid-American Chants	382
Section D: Winesburg, Ohio	428
Section E: Primarily for My Benefit	456
Part Two. Family Addenda
I Something Special in His Life	462
II On Parental Portraits	467
III One Who Enjoyed This Life	469
IV The Italian Grandmother	476
V Fine in Every Way	481
VI A Collector of Tales	484

	Page
VII The Mutually Attracted	493
VIII "I. M. Anderson, Harness"	496
IX A Most Estimable Lady	502
X The Lovable, Improvident Fellow	512
XI Irwin's Second Marriage	530
XII Emma Anderson: Pre-Clyde	533

Part Three. Appendices

A. Sherwood Anderson's Imagination	536
B. Genealogy	543
C. Anderson's Letter About Clyde	547
D. Elyria Documents	552
E. Miscellaneous Travel References	566
F. Sherwood and His Brothers and Sisters	571
G. The Children of Sherwood Anderson	574
H. Sherwood Anderson Publications, 1913-1918	578
I. Periodical Publications of Winesburg, Ohio	580
J. Reader's Analysis of "Mary Cochran"	581
K. Reader's Analysis of "Talbot Whittingham"	584
L. "Quick Impressions," Finley Letters, 1916	589
M. Chicago Reviews of Winesburg, Ohio	597
N. Comment of Floyd Dell	607
O. Comment of Waldo Frank	613
 Bibliography	 615
Index	631