

EYES UPSIDE DOWN

Visionary Filmmakers and the Heritage of Emerson

P. Adams Sitney

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

2008

Contents

- Introduction: Emersonian Poetics 3
- 1 Marie Menken and the Somatic Camera 21
- 2 Ian Hugo and Superimposition 48
- 3 Stan Brakhage's Autobiography
as a Cinematic Sequence 70
- 4 Jonas Mekas and the Diary Film 83
- 5 Hollis Frampton and the Specter of Narrative 98

- 6 Robert Beavers's Winged Distance/Sightless Measure: The Cycle of the Ephebe 123
 - 7 Beavers's Second Cycle: The Past in the Present—the Present in the Past 145
 - 8 Andrew Noren and the Open-Ended Cinematic Sequence 170
 - 9 Ernie Gehr and the Axis of Primary Thought 197
 - 10 Warren Sonbert's Movements in a Concerto 220
 - 11 Brakhage and the Tales of the Tribes 243
 - 12 Frampton's Magellan 259
 - 13 Abigail Child: Textual Self-Reliance 271
 - 14 Su Friedrich: "Giving Birth to Myself" 296
 - 15 Brakhage: Meditative Cinema 321
 - 16 Beavers's Third Cycle: The Theater of Gesture 349
 - 17 Mekas's Retrospection 372
- Conclusion: Perfect Exhilaration 392
- Appendix: Chronology of Films 401
- Index 409