

ROBERT FROST
HIMSELF

Stanley Burnshaw

George Braziller New York

---

CONTENTS

I. TO THE READER, 3

Denis Donoghue meets Lawrance Thompson, 1957 • “Evident that the [official] biography would be a work of riddance” • Frost, America’s “best loved poet,” dies (1963) • In August 1970 portrayed as “a monster” • Lack of published protests • Frost to Burnshaw: “I’m counting on you to protect me from Larry” (1959)

II. ROADS TAKEN AND NOT TAKEN, 7

Discovering Frost • His letter to me: “chance” in the making of poems • “Hired Man” Wade Van Dore • My weekend visit with Frost • His “Golden Talk”: England, Pound, Yeats • Elinor Frost • Lunch: string beans and ice cream • a “bear-able” job • Family griefs • Turns from farming to teaching • Sister Jeanie’s commitment • Daughter Marjorie’s death • “deeply smitten through my helm” • Norton lectures, Harvard • Critical attacks from the Left • Elinor’s illness • “Please burn [the letter]” • Elinor’s death • Private poetry and public poetry • Collected Poems • Prescott and Frost • Invitations to visit him • New Masses • Controversy with Poetry • “I’m all on your side” • “Provide, Provide” • “I’m not horribly anti-Roosevelt” • Leftwing attacks on A Further Range • “Build Soil” • The Reactionaries”: Eliot, Agrarians, Yeats • Emerson and Whitman • Frost: a political animal •

CONTENTS

World War II: the “Separatist” • “I’ve been crazy for the last six months” • Period of “blackness” • Cambridge, Ripton Farm, Pencil Pines • Son Carol’s suicide • Asks Van Dore to be his partner • A Witness Tree, the Masques, Steeple Bush • The “final idea” of his writing • Untermeyer’s political persecution • Frost “dangerously near isolationist” • Rift with Untermeyer • 80th birthday dinner • “We could talk all night about Robert”

III. FROST’S LAST FIVE YEARS AND “THE HOLTS,” 87

Eliot’s toast • Frost’s companion and editor • Blumenthal reception • “Seeing” Marianne Moore home • Frost: “Poet in Waiting” • The Pound Case • U.S.A., U.S.S.R: “two great ideas” • You Come Too • Nixon vs. Trilling • Predicts Kennedy’s election • Trilling’s birthday speech • “Do I terrify you?” • “Something my ear refused” • Jealous of MacLeish’s J.B. • “Passionate preference” • Santayana • “Protect me from Larry! Remember!” • “Nothing is irredeemable” • “Poetry has always been a beggar” • “The Secret” in French translation • Soviet Writers visit Frost at the U.N. • “I love you for your difference” • Revising poems • Baseball talk • Seeing “Brewster Village” • Eliot visits Frost • “You discuss [foreign poems] into English” • Dinner for Sergeant’s biography • “In Divés Den” • Plans a trip to Israel • Thompson’s story of Frost’s scheming at the Kennedy Inauguration • “Desert me! Desert me!” • “Believe peace into existence” • A sonnet? $12,000 • Melville’s Quarrel with God • Editing In the Clearing • Life’s photographic session • “stealing things to new uses” • Visit to Pencil Pines • Reminisces about his father • Autographs special edition • Kay Morrison enraged at Frost • “A master conversationalist” • Lesley’s scars of suffering • “Why don’t you write a book about me?” • 88th birthday dinner • Letter to me on “The Trial by Existence” • The New Criticism • A cultural mission to Russia • “New York: the greatest city that ever was” • Last public words: “It’s a wonderful world. . . . To hell with it.” • Enters hospital • Cabal against Frost as Nobel laureate • Bollingen award • Death and memorial programs • Saturday Review “Frost Issue” • Editing The Letters of Robert Frost to Louis Untermeyer • Editing his Selected Letters • Hall’s An Evening’s Frost • The “first of Larry’s three projected mayhems,” The Early Years

IV. THE FABRICATION OF THE “MONSTER” MYTH, 210

Thompson to Donoghue: “I’ll tell you the REAL truth about that monster” (1957) • Thompson’s birthday paean to Frost (1959) • The Frost-Thompson relationship: 1939-1963 • “The first downward trend from which it can never recover” (1953) • “I really don’t care whether I ever see him again, alive or dead” (1963) • Editing Robert Frost: The Early Years • Thompson and a book-reviewer create the “monster” myth (1970) • Thompson suffers cerebral hemorrhage (1971) • Winnick’s account of the making of Robert Frost: The Later Years (1977) • New York Times Book Review prints protest letters • “Discovering” and examining Thompson’s unpublished “Notes on Robert Frost” • Pages 966-1464 inexplicably missing • “Notes” compared with the published biography • Thompson’s problems with Kay Morrison • “Frost and Elinor Frost: psychotics; Carol, Irma, Lesley, insane” • Thompson and “facts” • Ten other portrait books on Frost • His Complete Poems: 1949 replaced by Lathem edition • Protests • Eliot: “verse is itself a system of punctuation”

V. TOWARD THE “KNOWABLE” FROST, 241

“It’s ‘temper’ I have to watch” • Ciardi sees Frost plain • “Revelation” • Public performer • “Subtlest and most elusive poet” • Elinor Frost portrayed • Frost as parent • Family tragedies • “Survivalist” • New living arrangements • “just seeking, questing” • Teaching career: 1906-1912; 1917— • Educational “heresies” • Conversationalist • The “individual” and “self-cultivation” • Unfinished letter to Norman Thomas • Jealousy, “a passion I approve of” • “You’ve got to score” • Tutored in self-promotion • A “public self” • Friendships • Encouraging, aiding, praising other writers • Frost’s “problem behavior”: eight examples • Racist? • Mythologist? • “It’s a funny world” • “Outer seriousness: inner humor; outer humor: inner seriousness” • Play • Dramatic and open-ended poetry • Statements on poetry • The “sound of sense” • Emblemism, not symbolism • “trip the reader head foremost into the boundless” • Being “rightly taken” • Mind, science • Limits of human thought • Contrarities • “I am the conflicts, I contain them” • “All truth is a dialogue” • Thoughts on religion • “something” • James and Berg-

CONTENTS

son • “There is such a thing as redemption” • “Form: everybody’s sanity to feel it and live by it” • Momentary stays against confusion • Nine “givens” of Frost’s existence • “The Draft Horse” • A gathering of lines of verse • “There are roughly zones. . . ” • “Neither Out Far Nor in Deep” • Acceptance

A CHRONOLOGY: (1874–1978), 307

REFERENCE NOTES, 313

INDEX, 331

ILLUSTRATIONS

following page 54

Facsimile of “Provide, Provide”

following page 176

Robert Frost as senior class poet • Elinor White • Frost in England • The poet at his writing desk • The Frost family in Bridgewater • Frost in Washington • Bread Loaf Writers Conference • Frost playing baseball • Frost with his dog Gillie • Frost with the Morrisons • Frost’s 80th birthday party • At John F. Kennedy’s inaugural • Frost resting in a field