

TWENTIETH CENTURY
INTERPRETATIONS
OF
A FAREWELL
TO ARMS

A Collection of Critical Essays

Edited by
JAY GELLENS

Prentice-Hall, Inc.

Englewood Cliffs, N. J.

Contents

Introduction, by Jay Gellens	1
-------------------------------------	---

PART ONE—Interpretations

The Unadulterated Sensibility, by Ray B. West, Jr.	15
Loser Take Nothing, by Philip Young	28
Learning to Care, by Earl Ro vit	33
The Tough Romance, by Robert W. Lewis, Jr.	41
Symposium on Sensibility and/or Symbol in A Farewell to Arms	54
Malcolm Cowley: Rain as Disaster	54
Louis L. Martz: The Unreferable Rain	55
Carlos Baker: The Mountain and the Plain	56
E. M. Halliday: Hemingway's Ambiguity: Symbolism and Irony	64
The "Dumb Ox" in Love and War, by Wyndham Lewis	72
Ciphers at the Front, by D. S. Savage	91

PART TWO—View Points

John Killinger: The Existential Hero	103
Norman Friedman: Small Hips, Not War	105
Frederick J. Hoffman: The Secret Wound	108
Leslie Fiedler: Love and Death	111

Edgar Johnson: Farewell the Separate Peace	112
Maxwell Geismar: The Human Will	114
Chronology of Important Dates	116
Notes on the Editor and Contributors	119
Selected Bibliography	121