

Greg W. Zacharias

Henry James and the Morality of Fiction

PETER LANG

New York • San Francisco • Bern • Baltimore
Frankfurt am Main • Berlin • Wien • Paris

Table of Contents

	Introduction	xi
I	Art and the Moral Imagination: Roderick Hudson and the Construction of Literature as “a criticism of life”	1
II	Turning Toward the Later Style at Washington Square	27
III	Eloquence and Power in The Bostonians	49
IV	The Princess Casamassima and the Drama of Incomplete Redemption	69
V	The Awkward Age and James’s “Civic Use of the Imagination”	93
VI	Fabular Art, the “Civic Use of the Imagination,” and James’s Criticism of Life in The Golden Bowl	111
	Notes	149
	Works Cited	161
	Index	173