

TABLE OF CONTENTS

FOREWORD by Jonathan B. Imber	xi
INTRODUCTION by Joy Gordon	xiii
PREFACE: Another Voice Lesson and an Occasional Screech	xxi
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	xxiii
ONE. AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL
Ch. I. "The Personal History of an Émigré"	3
Looking Backward and Forward (1)	14
Ch. II. First Notes on Surrender and Autobiography	16
(1)	16
(2)	18
(3)	20
(4)	25
Looking Backward and Forward (2)	28
Ch. III. "Authenticity in Loma and of 'Loma' "	29
(1)	29
(2)	30
(3)	31
(4)	33
(5)	33
(6)	35
(7)	36
(8)	37

(9)	39
(10)	39
Looking Backward and Forward (3)	42
Ch. IV. "Trying Sociology," Sociology of Knowledge, Surrender-and-Catch	44
TWO. SURRENDER-AND-CATCH AND OTHER APPROACHES TO THE WORLD
Ch. V. The Sociology of Knowledge and Surrender-and-Catch	55
(1)	55
(2)	56
(3)	58
(4)	60
(5)	62
(6)	63
(7)	64
Looking Backward and Forward (4)	67
Ch. VI. Surrender-and-Catch and Sociology	68
(1) The Place and Time of Surrender-and-Catch	68
(2) The Concrete Origin of Surrender-and-Catch	70
(3) Surrender-and-Catch and Sociology	71
a. Surrender and Community Study	71
b. Surrender Is No Panacea	73
c. Prerequisites of the Possibility of Surrender-to	74
d. The Radicalness of Surrender-and-Catch	76
e. Study Tasks that Have Arisen in Reflecting on Surrender	79
f. Relations between Surrender and Sociology	82
(4) On the Human Subject in Sociology Today	85
Looking Backward and Forward (5)	90
Ch. VII. Surrender-and-Catch, Poetry, Sociology, Morality	92
(1) Autobiographical	92
(2) Why No Sociology of Poetry?	93

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ix

(3) Language	94
(4) Sociology and Poetry	96
(5) Meaning and Making	97
(6) Three Kinds of Words	100
(7) The Words of Sociology	101
(8) The Palimpsest Character of Language	102
(9) Decline of Intrinsic Interpretation	103
(10) The Moral Nature of Surrender-and-Catch	104
Looking Backward and Forward (6)	111
Ch. VIII. Surrender-and-Catch and Phenomenology	112
(1) On My Brush with Phenomenology	112
(2) Bracketing	117
(3) Intersubjectivity and Intersubjective Understanding	122
(4) Two Truths	124
(5) Sociology, Phenomenology, and Surrender-and-Catch	126
Ch. IX. Surrender-and-Catch and Hermeneutics	131
(1) Tongue-in-Cheek	131
(2) On Hubris and Surrender	132
(3) Relativism	134
(4) Play	138
(5) Surrender-and-Catch and Hermeneutics	142
Looking Backward and Forward (7)	145
Ch. X. Surrender-and-Catch and Critical Theory	149
(1) Author and Work	149
(2) Critical Theory and Relativism – Preliminary	150
(3) What Is Critical Theory?	151
(4) Critical Theory and Relativism – Concluded	156
(5) Emancipatory Knowledge or Truth	157
(6) The Touch of the Absolute in Critical Theory	159
(7) Surrender-and-Catch and Critical Theory	160
Looking Backward and Forward (8)	165

THREE. OUR TIME AND ITS SOCIOLOGICAL ANALYSIS

Ch. XI. From Nothing to Sociology	169
(1) Then	169
(2) Questions about Sociology	170
(3) Sociology?	172
(4) A Sociological Approach to the History of Sociology	176
(5) Sociology of Puppets	179
(6) Sociology and Meaning	181
(7) From Philosophy of Sociology to Sociology of Philosophy?	183
 Looking Backward and Forward (9)	 191
 Ch. XII. "Nineteen-Eighty-Four" and Surrender-and-Catch	 194
 Looking Backward and Forward (10)	 200
 Postscript after Two Years	 203
 INDEX OF NAMES	 205
 INDEX OF SUBJECTS	 208