

CONTENTS

Introduction		1
Chapter 1	The Medicine Man David W. McCurdy	4
Chapter 2	Trouble in the Tank James P. Spradley	17
Chapter 3	Rights, Responsibilities, and Reports: An Ethical Dilemma in Contract Research Carol J. Pierce-Colfer	32
Chapter 4	The Underdevelopment of Anthropological Ethics Michael A. Rynkiewich	47
Chapter 5	The People of Enewetak Atoll versus The U.S. Department of Defense Robert C. Kiste	61
Chapter 6	The American Indian Movement and the Anthropologist: Issues and Implications of Consent Fay G. Cohen	81

Chapter 7	The Ethics of Fieldwork in an Urban Bar Brenda J. Mann	95
Chapter 8	Studying Elites: Some Special Problems Barbara Harrell-Bond	110
Chapter 9	The Anthropologist in the Field: Scientist, Friend, and Voyeur Judith Friedman Hansen	123
Chapter 10	Secret Societies and the Ethics of Urban Fieldwork Noel J. Chrisman	135
Chapter 11	Ethnology in a Revolutionary Setting June Nash	148
Chapter 12	Professional Standards and What We Study Laura Nader	167
Appendix	Principles of Professional Responsibility Adopted by the Council of the American Anthropological Association, May, 1971	183