

Contents

Contributors	vii
Preface	ix
Photograph Acknowledgments	xi
Chapter 1 Emerging Interventions for Children with Autism: Longitudinal and Lifestyle Implications Robert L. Koegel, Lynn Kern Koegel, William D. Frea, and Annette E. Smith	1
Chapter 2 Communication and Language Intervention Lynn Kern Koegel	17
Chapter 3 Overselective Responding: Description, Implications, and Intervention Jennifer Rosenblatt, Patricia Bloom, and Robert L. Koegel	33
Chapter 4 Spontaneous Language Use Don Hawkins	43
Chapter 5 Social-Communicative Skills in Higher-Functioning Children with Autism William D. Frea	53
Chapter 6 “Teach the Individual” Model of Generalization: Autonomy Through Self-Management Robert L. Koegel, Lynn Kern Koegel, and Deborah Rumore Parks	67
Chapter 7 Parent Education and Parenting Stress Douglas Moes	79
Chapter 8 Social Support for Families Ann Leslie Albanese, Stephanie K. San Miguel, and Robert L. Koegel	95
Chapter 9 Friendships Between Children with and without Developmental Disabilities Christine M. Hurley-Geffner	105
Chapter 10 Integrated School Placements for Children with Disabilities Diane Hammon Kellegrew	127
Chapter 11 Parent–Professional Collaboration and the Efficacy of the IEP Process Michelle Wood	147
Chapter 12 A Parent–Professional Consultation Model for Functional Analysis Kimberly B. Mullen and William D. Frea	175
References	189
Index	227