

Contents

Part One : The Task of Philosophy

- |   |   |    |
|---|---|----|
| 1 | Philosophy as Self-Appropriation .....              | 3  |
| 2 | The Demands of Intellectual Self-Appropriation .... | 19 |

Part Two: Moral Self-Appropriation

- |   |   |    |
|---|---|----|
| 3 | Moral Freedom and Moral Impotence ..... | 35 |
| 4 | The Search For Love .....               | 49 |
| 5 | Love and Its Paradoxes .....            | 61 |
| 6 | Love and Sexism .....                   | 79 |
| 7 | Moral Conversion, Love and Faith .....  | 89 |

Part Three: Religious Self-Appropriation

- |    |   |     |
|----|---|-----|
| 8  | Passion and Liberty of Spirit .....               | 111 |
| 9  | The Mystical Journey .....                        | 125 |
| 10 | Religious Conversion and Theological Virtue ..... | 137 |

Part Four: Psychological Theories of Personality: A Critique

- |    |   |     |
|----|---|-----|
| 11 | Psychological Theories and PhilosophicalAssumptions ..... | 151 |
| 12 | Freud's Theory of Sexuality .....                             | 159 |
| 13 | Adler's Theory of Social Interest .....                       | 171 |
| 14 | Maslow's Theory of Self-Actualization .....                   | 183 |
| 15 | A Twofold Synthesis .....                                     | 195 |

- |                    |     |
|--------------------|-----|
| Bibliography ..... | 205 |
|--------------------|-----|