

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction: The Politics and Poetics of Gardens	ix
1. Botanical Modernisms	1
Virginia Woolf: Vision ('Kew Gardens' (1919))	6
Katherine Mansfield: Memory ('Prelude' (1922))	21
Elizabeth Bowen: History ('Summer Night' (1941))	35
Eudora Welty: Myth ('A Curtain of Green' (1941))	44
2. Natural History and Postmodern Grafting	61
John Updike: Entropy ( The Witches of Eastwick (1984))	69
A. S. Byatt: Evolution ( Angels and Insects (1992))	85
Jeanette Winterson: Gravity ( Sexing the Cherry (1989))	98
Carol Shields: Space ( Larry's Party (1997))	112
3. Postcolonial Landscapes	127
J. M. Coetzee: Belonging/Marginalisation ( Life and Times of Michael K (1983))	138
Toni Morrison: Reconciliation/War ( Paradise (1998))	156
V. S. Naipaul: Migration/Rootlessness ( The Enigma of Arrival (1986))	174
Leslie Marmon Silko: Hybridity/Homogeneity ( The Gardens in the Dunes (1999))	186
4. How Does Your Cyber Garden Grow?	205
John Wyndham: The Day of the Triffids (1954)
Philip K. Dick: Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep? (1968)
Donna Haraway: 'A Cyborg Manifesto' (1985)
Don DeLillo: White Noise (1984)
William Gibson: Virtual Light (1993)
5. Conclusion: Coevolutionary Histories – the Poetics of a Paradox	223
Michael Pollan: The Botany of Desire: A Plant's-Eye View of the World (2001)
Jamaica Kincaid: Among Flowers: A Walk in the Himalayas (2005)
Select Bibliography	231
Index	243