

History of Infectious Disease Pandemics in Urban Societies

Mark D. Hardt

LEXINGTON BOOKS
Lanham • Boulder • New York • London

Contents

Prologue	ix
1 The Past: Human Populations Prior to Sedentary Lifestyles	1
2 Origins of the Urban Death Penalty: Civilized Diseases	25
3 The First Rural-Urban Turnaround	47
4 Infectious Diseases and Medical Traditions in the Levant	67
5 Emergence of the Enlightenment	101
6 Advancement of Science and Medicine	127
7 Inoculation and Infectious Disease	155
8 A Review of the Urban Death Penalty	183
9 Postlogue	211
Bibliography	235
Index	243
About the Author	247