

Michael Rodgers • Susan Elizabeth Sweeney
Editors

Nabokov and the Question of Morality

Aesthetics, Metaphysics, and the Ethics of Fiction

palgrave
macmillan

CONTENTS

1	Introduction: Nabokov's Morality Play	1
	Michael Rodgers and Susan Elizabeth Sweeney
	Part I Responsible Reading	19
2	"And So the Password Is—?": Nabokov and the Ethics of Rereading	21
	Tom Whalen
3	Nabokov and Dostoevsky: Good Writer, Bad Reader?	33
	Julian Connolly
4	The Will to Disempower? Nabokov and His Readers	51
	Michael Rodgers
	Part II Good and Evil	71
5	Nabokov's God; God's Nabokov	73
	Samuel Schuman
6	By Trial and Terror	87
	Gennady Barabtarlo

7	The Aesthetics of Moral Contradiction in Some Early Nabokov Novels David Rampton	109
Part III Agency and Altruism		127
8	Loving and Giving in Nabokov's The Gift Jacqueline Hamrit	129
9	Kinbote's Heroism Laurence Piercy	143
Part IV The Ethics of Representation		159
10	Whether Judgments, Sentences, and Executions Satisfy the Moral Sense in Nabokov Susan Elizabeth Sweeney	161
11	The Art of Morality, or on Lolita Leland de la Durantaye	183
12	"Obnoxious Preoccupation with Sex Organs": The Ethics and Aesthetics of Representing Sex Elspeth Jajdelska	197
13	Modern Mimesis Michael Wood	213
Notes on Contributors		225
Index		229