

Table of Contents

I.	Introduction: Discovery, 'Reason's Conscience', the Human Sciences Roberta Kevelson	1
II.	Pragmatic Aspects of the Political Economy of Law: With Applications to Environmental Policies Pertti Ahonen	19
III.	International Law and Legal Cultures in the Present Day Context P.C. Bedwa	47
IV.	Rhetoric and the Law of Enterprise Denis J. Brion	61
V.	Jacques Lacan and Our State of Affairs: Preliminary Remarks on Law as Other David S. Caudill	95
VI.	The Law as a Liberal Art Robert Ginsberg	115
VII.	Law, Forms of Life, and Metaphysical Metaphors Michael Green	139
VIII.	Cost-Benefit Analysis in Criminal Procedure: Social Science Data, the Supreme Court, and the Exclusionary Rule W. Richard Janikowski	161

IX.	Antigone and the Law Martha Kemper	179
X.	Pragmatism, Utopic Constructions and Legal Myths: A Glance at Durkheim's View of Peirce's Method of Semiotics as Related to Legal Norms Roberta Kevelson	193
XI.	The Metaphysics of Punishing Jay Knaack	219
XII.	Semiosis as Ritual J. Ralph Lindgren	233
XIII.	Expanding Boundaries: Law and Economics as Creative Discourse Robin Paul Malloy	255
XIV.	Inadequate Stories Andrew W. McThenia, Jr.	269
XV.	Mob or People, Riot or Insurrection: Was There a Revolution in Massachusetts in November 1747? William Pencak	285
XVI.	Creating a Vocabulary and a Conceptual Ordering Device for Conferring Appropriate Rights in Information: The Challenge for Law Michael D. Pendleton	301

XVII.	The Semiotics of Justice: Reading Across the Boundaries Between Law, Ethics and Politics Michel Rosenfeld	317
XVIII.	Frege's Semiotics Sampled: The Sense and Reference of the Verb 'Own' Floyd D. Rudmin	357
XIX.	A Sign of Itself Paul Ryan	375
XX.	International Law, Liberal Democracy and Hostile Terrorist Activity Michael Saltman	395
XXI.	Codification William T. Scott	419
XXII.	A Semiotic Model of Economic Theory Gordon E. Whitney	445
XXIII.	Registers of Legal Opinion Eve Wilson	467
XXIV.	Standing on Ceremonies: Legal Rituals, Regulative Rules and the Metaphysics of Jurisprudence Peter A. Winn	495
XXV.	Is There An Anthropological Semiotics of Law? Irene Portis Winner	513

XXVI.	Prague Linguistic Circle and the Humanities Thomas G. Winner	529
XXVII.	The Body of Criminality: The Politics of Ordinariness Alison Young	545