
American Autobiography

after 9/11

Megan / Brown

The University of Wisconsin Press

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	3
1 Keeping It Real: “Fraud” Memoirs and Representations of Ethnic Authenticity	17
2 Learning to Live Again: Contemporary U.S. Memoir as Biopolitical Self-Care Guide	34
3 Memoirs of Empire: Encountering Difference in the Global Marketplace	50
4 Babies, Blow Jobs, and Bombs: The Bromoir and/as Anxiety	65
5 Selling Subjectivity: Business Memoirs as Biopolitical Management	86
6 The Memoir as Provocation: A Case for “Me Studies” in Undergraduate Classes	99
Afterword	117
Notes	121
Bibliography	137
Index	145