

---

Contents

Preface ix

Introductory note 3

Part 1 People one at a time
The units of management

1 People are alike: Some basic ideas 5

2 People are different: Motivation and the growth of individuality 11

3 Perception: From the inside looking out 25

4 Frustration: The roadblock 35

5 Psychological conflict:
Roadblocks on the inside 43

6 Learning, thinking, problem solving: Some reasoning parts of people 55

7 Thinking and problem solving II:
My style and yours 72

8 Attitudes, beliefs, and values:
Motherhood, Old Glory,
and civil rights 81

9 The assessment and evaluation of people: One application of personality theory 91

Part 2 People two
at a time Problems of influence
and authority

Introductory note 113

- 10 Communication: Getting information from A to B 117
- 11 Influencing behavior: Some dimensions of the problem 127
- 12 Authority: One model for influence 136
- 13 Power tactics, pressure, and coercion: A second model for influence 148
- 14 Manipulation: A slippery model for influence 156
- 15 Collaborative models: Influence without authority or coercion 162
- 16 Influencing through pay and performance appraisal: Toil and trouble 173

Part 3 People in threes to twenties
Efficiency and influence
in groups

Introductory note 189

- 17 Group decisions: Monsters or miracles? 191
- 18 Group process: What really went on in that meeting? 197
- 19 Group pressure on the individual: Conformity and deviation 213
- 20 Conflict and competition among groups: My team can beat your team 223
- 21 Communication networks in groups: Designs for getting the word around 234

	22 Developing managers: Applied ideas about influence, learning, and groups 244
	23 Groups on the shop floor: Toward the end of the assembly line? 258
Part 4 People in hundreds and thousands Problems of organizational design	Introductory note 267
	24 Managing: Working problems through, through people 269
	25 The volatile organization: Everything triggers everything else 282
	26 Structure, people, and information technology: Some key ideas and where they come from 291
	27 Organizational goals and objectives: Problem finding in action 305
	28 Managing people: Work and satisfaction 314
	29 Organizational structure: Managing the situation to manage the people 328
	30 Organizations and their environments: From back then to out there 337
	Questions 347
	Notes and suggested readings 362
	Index 375