

Contents

Preface xiii

Section I

Using Psychology at Work

page 1

Chapter 1

I/O Psychology: Then and Now

page 3

Applying Psychology 4

- Prescientific Applications 4
- Applications of Scientific Psychology 5
- Branches of Applied Psychology 6
 - The Subject Matter of I/O Psychology 6*

I/O Psychology in the Past 7

- The Pioneers 7
 - Hugo Münsterberg 8*
 - James McKeen Cattell 10*
 - Walter Dill Scott 11*
 - Frederick W. Taylor and the Gilbreths 14*

Development of the Field 15

I/O Psychology Now 18

- Professional Work in I/O Psychology 19
- Professionalization of I/O Psychologists 20
 - Licensing 20*
- Education of I/O Psychologists 22

The Future of I/O Psychology 23

- Internal Conditions 23
 - The New Generation of I/O Psychologists 23*
 - Threads of the Past 25*
- External Conditions 25
 - Information Technology 26*
 - The New Work Force 26*
 - The International Workplace 27*

Chapter Summary 28

Study Questions 28

Consider This 29

Chapter 2

Methods of Study and Research

page 31

- Introducing Behavioral Research 32
 - Behavioral Causes and Effects 33
 - Programs for Solving Behavioral Problems 35
 - Assessing the Need 35
 - Techniques for Needs Assessments 35*
 - Program Development and Evaluation 37
 - Conclusions Concerning Problem-Solving Techniques 37
 - The Experimental Method 39
 - History and Definitions 39
 - The Experiment Dissected 39
 - Independent and Dependent Variables 40*
 - Experimental Controls 41*
 - Experimental and Control Groups 42*
 - Experiments in I/O Psychology 42
 - Example: An Evaluation Study 43
 - Planning the Experiment 43*
 - Analyzing Experimental Data 46*
 - The Observational Method 52
 - The Method of Direct Observation 54
 - Observational Techniques 54*
 - The Survey Method 56
 - Survey Techniques 56*
 - Questionnaire Construction 57
 - Writing Questions 57*
 - Questionnaire Structure 58*
 - The Survey Process 59
 - Planning and Development 59*
 - Data Collection and Analysis 60*
 - Analyzing Survey Data 60
 - Correlations 60*
 - Chapter Summary 63
 - Study Questions 64
 - Consider This 64
-

Section II

Establishing a Strong Work Force

page 65

Chapter 3

Preparing for Employee Selection

page 67

Unfair Employment Discrimination 69

Legal History of Employment Discrimination 69

Uniform Guidelines of 1978 71

Discrimination Defined 71

Assessing Adverse Impact 72

Rectifying Adverse Impact 74

Affirmative Action 74

Determining Job Requirements 76

Uses of Job Information 76

Job Evaluation 77

Types of Job Information 77

Job Analysis Methods 78

Task Analysis 81

Critical Incidents 81

Job Element Method 82

Position Analysis Questionnaire 84

Recruiting Job Applicants 86

Discrimination and Affirmative Action in Recruitment 86

Recruitment Techniques 87

College Recruiting 88

Realistic Job Previews 88

Chapter Summary 90

Study Questions 90

Consider This 90

Chapter 4

The Selection of Effective Personnel

page 93

Making Hiring Decisions 94

Personal History Assessments 95

Applications and Biographical Inventories 96

Standard Application Blanks 96

Weighted Applications and Biographical Inventories 98

Biodata Items 100

OPM's Behavioral Consistency Method 101

Résumés 101

Letters of Reference 103

Assessments of Current Behavior 106

Interviews 106

Interview Validity 107

Interview Problems and Solutions 107

Interviewing Recommendations 112

Assessment Centers 113

Rationale and Method 113

Assessment Center Activities 115

Effectiveness of Assessment Centers 116

Chapter Summary 119

Study Questions 120

Consider This 120

Chapter 5

Using Psychological Tests in Selection

page 123

Requirements of a Good Selection Test 124

Standardization of Tests 125

Controlling Test Scoring 125

Testing Disabled Applicants 126

Reliability of Tests 127

Test-Retest Reliability 128

Alternate Forms Reliability 128

Split-Halves Reliability 128

Interitem Reliability 129

Validity of Tests 130

Setting Cutoff Scores 130

Fairness in Selection Testing 131

Assessing the Utility of the Testing Program 132

Validation of Selection Tests 134

Criterion-Related Validity 134

Predictive Technique 134

Concurrent Technique 135

Criterion Measure of Performance 135

Synthetic Validity 136

Content Validity 136

Construct Validity 137

Validation Study Decisions 138

Validity Generalization 138

Types of Tests 140

Differences in Test Administration 142

Pencil-and-Paper and Performance Tests 143

Differences in the Behavior/Trait Measured 143

Cognitive or Mental Ability Tests 143

Perceptual and Motor Ability Tests 144

Personality Tests 146

Honesty Tests 148

Using Computers in Testing 149

Chapter Summary 152

Study Questions 152

Consider This 153

Conducting Training at Work: Preparation 157

- Training Needs Assessment 157
 - Training and Motivational Needs* 157
 - Sources of Information on Training Needs* 158
- Training Design 159

Using the Research on Learning in Training Design 162

- Importance of Practice 162
 - Pacing and Content of Practice Sessions* 163
 - Mental Practice of Physical Tasks* 164
- Motivation and Learning 165
 - Feedback and Reinforcement* 165
- Individual Differences in Trainees 166
 - Existing Trainee Knowledge and Abilities* 166
- Transfer of Training 167

Training Methodology 170

- Choosing Training Techniques 172
- Techniques for Training Knowledge and Skill 172
- Techniques for Modifying Attitudinal States 174
- Site-Specific Training Methods 175

- Apprenticeship* 175
- On-the-Job Training (OJT)* 176
- Vestibule Training* 177

University Education 178

Training Program Evaluation 179

- Training Validity 180
 - Threats to Validity* 180
- Evaluation Research Designs 182
 - One-Group Testing Designs* 182
 - Experimental Designs* 183

Special Training Needs 186

- Multicultural Issues in Training 186
 - Equal Opportunity* 186
 - Multicultural Diversity Training* 187
- Trainees with Special Needs 188
 - Women in Management* 188
- Preparing for Special Work 189
 - Management Training* 189

Chapter Summary 191Study Questions 191*Consider This 192*The Uses of Performance Evaluation 197

- Legal Issues 198
 - Fair Employment* 198
 - Employment-at-Will* 199
 - Seniority* 200

Sources of Evaluation 201

- The Evaluators 201
- Performance Information 202
 - Production Measures* 202
 - Personnel Data* 203
 - Judgmental Measures* 203

Appraisal Rating Systems 204

- Graphic Rating Scales 204
- Validating the Rating System 205
- Rating Errors 207
 - Halo and Related Errors* 208
 - Problems of Restricted Range* 210
 - Comparing Ratings from Different Raters* 210
- Training Raters to Rate 211

Special Rating Scales 213

- Behaviorally Anchored Rating Scale (BARS)* 213
- Behavioral Observation Scale (BOS)* 216
- Mixed Standard Rating Scale (MSRS)* 216

Nonrating Evaluation Methods 219

- Checklists 219
 - Weighted Checklist* 219
 - Forced-Choice Technique* 220
- Comparison Methods 220
 - Rank Order Procedure* 221
 - Paired Comparisons* 222
 - Forced Distribution* 222

Personal and Dyadic Influences 223

- Gender and Race Effects 224
 - Rater and Ratee Gender* 224
 - Rater and Ratee Race* 224
- Rater Cognition and Affect 225

Postappraisal Interview 226

- Performance Feedback* 226
- Conducting the Interview* 227

Chapter Summary 228Study Questions 229*Consider This 229

Section III

Creating an Effective Social Organization

page 231

Chapter 8

The Motivation to Work

page 233

What Is Work Motivation? 234

Motivation Related to Performance 236

Work Motivation Theory 236

Need Theories of Motivation 238

Maslow's Need-Hierarchy Theory 238

Research and Application 239

Herzberg's Two-Factor Theory 241

Research and Application 241

Achievement Theory 242

Research Evaluation 244

Cognitive Theories of Motivation 245

Expectancy Theory 245

Research Evaluation 248

Equity Theory 249

Research Evaluation 251

Goal-Setting Theory 252

Research and Application 253

Reinforcement Theory 255

Research and Application 257

Using Motivation Theory at Work 259

Intervention Programs 259

Pay Incentive Plans 260

Job Redesign 260

Behavior Modification 261

Chapter Summary 262

Study Questions 263

Consider This 263

Chapter 9

Satisfaction with Work

page 265

History of Job Satisfaction Research 266

Job Satisfaction as a Job Attitude 268

Theories of Job Satisfaction 269

Locke's Value Discrepancy Theory 270

Lawler's Facet Theory 271

The Social Influence Hypothesis 271

Landy's Opponent Process Theory 273

Measurement of Job Satisfaction 274

Conducting a Satisfaction Survey 274

Standardized Rating Scales 276

Job Descriptive Index (JDI) 277

Minnesota Satisfaction Questionnaire (MSQ) 277

Need Satisfaction Questionnaire (NSQ) 277

Faces Scale 280

Components of Job Satisfaction 281

Satisfaction with the Work Itself 281

The Job Characteristics Model 281

Satisfaction with Pay 283

Satisfaction with Supervision 284

Differences Between People: Who Is Satisfied? 286

Dispositional Differences 286

Demographic Differences 286

Age and Career Stage 288

Education 289

Gender 290

Ethnicity and Culture 292

The Relationship of Job Satisfaction to Other Behaviors 294

Satisfaction and Productivity 294

Satisfaction and Withdrawal Behavior 295

Absenteeism 296

Turnover 296

Chapter Summary 299

Study Questions 299

Consider This 300

Chapter 10

Leadership at Work

page 303

Researching Leadership 304

Leadership as a Personal Characteristic 306

Leadership as a Trait 307

Leadership as a Behavioral Style 308

Employee-Oriented and Production-Oriented Behavior 309

Consideration and Initiating Structure 309

Leader Behavior: A Two-Factor Concept 310

Charismatic Leadership 311

Leadership as a Work Role Relationship 312

Fiedler's Contingency Model 313

Leader Style 313

Situational Control 314

The Leader-Situation Match 314

Descriptive and Normative Leadership Models 315

Vroom and Yetton's Normative Model of Decision Making 316

Path-Goal Theory: Motivating Subordinates 318

Leadership as a Reinforcing Social Relationship	320
A Social Transaction Perspective	320
Leader-Member Exchange in the Vertical Dyad	320
Upward Influence	321
Multiple Linkages in Leadership Effectiveness	322
New Directions	325
Transformational Leadership	325
Implicit Theories of Leadership	326
Training Leadership Skills	328
Instructional Techniques	328
Laboratory Training	328
Behavior Modeling	329
Special Leaders and Special Situations	330
Gender Differences in Leadership	330
Ethnic Minorities in Leadership Roles	331
Cross-Cultural Patterns of Leadership	332
Chapter Summary	334
Study Questions	334
Consider This	335

Chapter 11

Designing Effective Work Organizations page 337

The Nature of Organization 338

The Elements of Organizational Structure 339

Division of Labor 339

Job Specialization 340

Span of Control 341

Groups of Organizational Members 342

Horizontal Differentiation 342

Vertical Differentiation 342

Authority and Power in the Organization 343

Centralization 344

Formalization 345

Integration of the Organization 345

Matrix Organization 345

Theories of Organization 347

Focus on Organizational Structure 347

The Bureaucracy 347

Evaluation of the Bureaucracy 349

Mechanistic and Organic Organizations 350

Focus on Human Relations in Organizations 352

McGregor's Theory X and Theory Y 352

Theory Z and Japanese Organizations 353

Argyris's Developmental Model 353

Likert's Organizational Systems 354

Evaluation of Human Relations Theory 355

Focus on Environmental Contingencies 356

Mintzberg's Configurational Theory 357

Sociotechnical Systems Theory 358

Focus on Organizational Dynamics 360

Lawrence and Lorsch's Contingency Model 360

Galbraith's Information-Processing Model 361

Uncertainty about Environmental Uncertainty 362

Culture Theory 362

Applications of Organizational Theory 364

Employee Participation 364

Environmental Uncertainty and Organizational Innovation 366

Organizational Development 368

The Methodology of OD 369

The Action Research Cycle 370

OD Interventions 371

Evaluation: The Success of OD 372

Chapter Summary 374

Study Questions 374

Consider This 375

Chapter 12

The Dynamics of Interaction page 377

Communication in the Organization 378

The Elements of Communication 379

Communication Language 379

The Mode and Purpose of Communication 380

The Flow of Communication 381

Formal Communication Channels 381

The Direction of Communication 381

Communication Loss and Distortion 383

The Grapevine: An Informal Network 383

Barriers to Communication Reception 384

Formal and Informal Work Groups 387

Goals and Objectives of Work Groups 388

Participative Management 388

The Purpose of Informal Groups 389

Group Processes 389

Group Functions: Task and Maintenance 391

Behavioral Roles and Group Norms 393

Social Influence 394

Group Cohesiveness 395

Group Work: Problem Solving and Decision Making 396

Group Problem Solving 396

Group Decision Making 397

Effective and Ineffective Decisions 398

Groupthink 398

Conflict in the Organization 399
 Observing the Conflict Process 401
 Behavioral Styles of Conflict Management 402
Styles Reflecting the Links Between Goals 402
Styles Reflecting the Comparative Value of Goals 403
 Conflict Outcomes and Interventions 405
The Outcomes of Conflict 405
Intervention: Changing the Level of Conflict 406
Intervention: Changing the Conflict Management Style 406

A Special Interaction: Labor-Management

Negotiation 407
 Collective Bargaining 408
Impasse Resolution 409

Chapter Summary 410

Study Questions 411

Consider This 411

S e c t i o n I V

Solving the Human Problems of Work
page 413

C h a p t e r 1 3

Stress and Its Effects on Work
page 415

Background of Stress Research 416

What Is Stress? 417

Stressful Occupations 418
Managers and Executives 419
Medical Professionals 419
Air Traffic Controllers 420
Police Officers 420

Theoretical Models of Stress 421

Selye's General Adaptation Syndrome 421
Physiological Processes of Stress 422
 The Stressful Life Events Model 422
 Person-Environment Fit Theory 424
 A Facet Model of the Job Stress Sequence 425
 A General Perspective on Stress 427

Stressors 428

Physical Stressors 429
The Effects of Noise 429
Heat Stress 431
 Sociopsychological Sources of Stress 432
Relocation and Migration 432
 Job Stressors 433
Work Overload 433
Role Ambiguity and Conflict 434

Individual Differences in Stress Vulnerability 435

Cognitive and Personality Differences 436
Type A Behavior 437

The Outcomes of Stress 439

Physical Illness and Behavioral Disturbance 440
Job Burnout 441
 Coping with Stress 442
Reducing Work Stressors 442
Obtaining Social Support 443
Stress Management Programs 444

Chapter Summary 445

Study Questions 445

Consider This 446

C h a p t e r 1 4

Employee Health Problems and Organizational Interventions
page 449

Mental Health Problems at Work 451

Anxiety and Depression 451

Work-Related Injuries and Illnesses 452

Accidents at Work 452
 Occupational Disease 453
Causes of Occupational Illness 454
 Repetition Injury Disorders 456

Problems Resulting from Substance Abuse 457

Alcohol Abuse 457
Behavioral Effects of Alcohol Use 458
Work-Related Risk Factors 458
 Drug Abuse 459
Detection of Drug Use 461

Use of Domesticated Drugs 461

Perspectives on Intervention 463

Preventing Injuries and Illnesses 464

Interventions to Reduce Workplace Hazards 465
Hazardous Conditions 465
Warning Signs and Signals 466
Personal Protection 467
 Interventions to Modify Unsafe Behavior 467
Motivational Interventions 467

Interventions for Improving Personal Control 469

Handling Anxiety and Depression 469
Relaxation Training 470
Type A Intervention 471
 Health Promotion Programs 471
Smoking Cessation 472

Employee Assistance Programs 472

EAP Structure 474

Alcoholism Treatment 475

Chapter Summary 477

Study Questions 477

Consider This 478

Chapter 15

Designing the Work Environment

page 481

Arranging Time for Work 482

Fixed and Flexible Working Hours 483

The Compressed Workweek 483

Part-Time Work 483

Shift Work 484

The Night Shift 485

Rotating Shifts 486

Designing the Space for Work 486

The Physical Environment 486

Illumination 487

Arranging Workspaces 488

Work Surfaces and Chairs 490

Designing Workspaces for Disabled Workers 491

Designing Effective Work Systems 492

The Nature of Human-Machine Systems 493

General Systems Theory Perspective 494

Allocation of Work Functions 495

Designing the User into Equipment 498

Effective Machine Displays 498

Visual Displays 499

Auditory Displays 501

Information Processing and Decision Making 502

Serial and Parallel Processing of Information 502

Cognitive Workload 503

Working without and with Machines 505

Handling Materials by Hand 505

Use of Hand Tools 506

Hand Differences 506

Tool Handle Design 507

Machine Control Devices 507

Types of Controls 508

Feedback in Control Operations 509

Special Machines 510

Computers 510

Human Problems in Computer Use 511

Robots 512

Chapter Summary 514

Study Questions 514

Consider This 515

End Matter

Appendix

Page 517

Glossary

Page 519

References

Page 531

Photograph Credits

Page 561

Name Index

Page 563

Subject Index

Page 571