

Mekuru: to tear
or pull something
apart to reveal
what is underneath.

Mekurumeku: to be
dazzled, be dizzy,
or to be fascinated,
losing one's reason.

"MEKURUMEKU" is a contraction of two concepts,
"Mekurumeku", a word which imagines a sense of uncertainty or perhaps a physical sense of awe, and another phrase, "Mekuru-Mekuru", which evokes a scene in which layers are peeled back over and over again, revealing new truths or information.

-Artist's statement

CONTENTS

6	DIRECTOR'S FOREWORD ELIZABETH ANN MACGREGOR OBE
10	UNQUIET WATERS: TABAIMO'S IMMERSIVE ART RACHEL KENT
26	TABAIMO: 16 YEARS AFTER HER DEBUT KAZUKO AONO
32	IMAGE PLATES
114	LIST OF WORKS
118	ARTISTS BIOGRAPHY / BIBLIOGRAPHY
120	ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS
122	ESSAYS IN JAPANESE