

THE OXFORD LATIN SYNTAX

.....
VOLUME I

The Simple Clause
.....

HARM PINKSTER

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

CONTENTS

Preface	xxxix
Signs and other conventions	xxxiii
List of abbreviations	xxxiv
1 Introduction	1
.....
1.1 Latin	1
1.2 The sources	1
1.3 Written and spoken Latin	2
1.4 The diversity of the corpus	3
1.5 Varieties of Latin	4
1.6 Diachronic developments	4
1.7 The periodization of Latin	5
1.8 The corpus of texts used for this Syntax	6
1.9 The approach of this Syntax	7
1.10 The organization of this Syntax	7
1.11 The examples and their ordering	8
1.12 Text editions	9
1.13 Translations	9
1.14 Authors and works	10
2 Basic grammatical concepts	11
.....
2.1 Clause, sentence, phrase, word, clitic, and constituent	11
2.2 The clause	11
2.3 The sentence	14
2.4 The phrase	16
2.5 The word and the clitic	17
2.6 Constituents	18
2.7 The nucleus of the clause	19
2.8 Valency and verb frame	19
2.9 States of affairs	22
2.10 Satellites	24
2.11 Extra-clausal constituents	26
2.12 Semantic, syntactic, and pragmatic functions	26
2.13 Discourse and text type	32

3 Latin word classes and inflectional categories	34
<hr/>
3.1 Nominal word classes	35
3.2 The inflectional categories of number, case, and gender	35
3.3 The inflectional categories of number and case with nouns	35
3.4 The inflectional categories of number, case, and gender with adjectives and comparable word classes	37
3.5 The inflectional categories of number, case, and gender with substantively used adjectives and comparable word classes	41
3.6 Nouns	42
3.7 Adjectives	45
3.8 Pronouns, determiners, and possessive adjectives	48
3.9 Numerals	50
3.10 Verbs	50
3.11 The inflection and the inflectional categories of the finite verb forms	51
3.12 The inflectional categories of the finite verb forms	53
3.13 Non-finite verb forms	57
3.14 Substantival verb forms	57
3.15 Infinitives	57
3.16 Gerund	58
3.17 Appendix: How nominal (or substantival) are the gerund and the infinitive?	59
3.18 Adjectival verb forms	59
3.19 Participles	60
3.20 The gerundive	62
3.21 Supines	64
3.22 Non-nominal, non-verbal word classes	65
3.23 Adverbs	65
3.24 Prepositions	67
3.25 Clause and sentence linking devices	68
3.26 Interactional particles	68
3.27 Various other particles	69
3.28 Clitics	69
4 Verb frames	71
<hr/>
4.1 Methodological and practical problems in establishing the valency of a verb	72
4.2 Context	72
4.3 Distinguishing arguments and satellites	72
4.4 Support verbs	74
4.5 Problems in determining the valency of a verb: Expansion and reduction of the number of arguments	77
4.6 Final remarks	80

4.7	Some statistical information	81
4.8	One-place verbs	81
4.9	Personal one-place verbs	82
4.10	Expansion of the number of arguments of one-place verbs	84
4.11	One-place verbs that also occur in a two-place frame	89
4.12	One-place verbs with a clause as the subject	93
4.13	Impersonal one-place verbs	94
4.14	The modal verbs licet and oportet	94
4.15	'Impersonal' est	95
4.16	'Impersonal' habet	97
4.17	Two-place verbs	97
4.18	Personal two-place verbs	99
4.19	The form of second arguments	100
4.20	Personal two-place verbs governing an accusative object	101
4.21	Cognate accusative arguments with two-place verbs	102
4.22	Two-place compound verbs of motion governing the accusative	102
4.23	Two-place verbs governing a non-accusative object	103
4.24	Two-place verbs governing a dative object	104
4.25	The use of the dative with two-place compounds	106
4.26	The verb sum in the so-called possessive construction	107
4.27	The verb libet governing a dative argument	110
4.28	Two-place verbs governing an ablative object	110
4.29	Two-place verbs of abundance and lacking governing an ablative object	110
4.30	The use of the ablative with fido (and its compounds) and nitor	112
4.31	Two-place verbs of eminence or superiority governing an ablative object	113
4.32	Two-place verbs of costing or being worth that govern a price or value argument (usually in the ablative)	113
4.33	The use of the ablative with fruor , fungor , potior , utor , and vescor	115
4.34	Two-place verbs governing a genitive object	116
4.35	Two-place emotion verbs governing a cause argument in the genitive	116
4.36	Verbs of remembering and forgetting that govern a genitive or an accusative object	117
4.37	Two-place verbs governing a prepositional object	119
4.38	Two-place verbs governing an associative prepositional object with cum	119
4.39	Two-place verbs of difference governing a prepositional object	121
4.40	Further examples of prepositional arguments with two-place verbs	122
4.41	Two-place verbs governing a space argument	123
4.42	Two-place verbs governing a position in space argument	123

4.43	Two-place verbs governing a direction or goal argument	124
4.44	Two-place verbs governing a source argument in the ablative	125
4.45	Two-place verbs denoting descent or provenance	127
4.46	Two-place verbs with either a dative or an accusative second argument	129
4.47	Impersonal two-place verbs	132
4.48	Impersonal two-place emotion verbs with a genitive cause argument	132
4.49	The 'impersonal' verbs interest and rēfert	135
4.50	Three-place verbs	137
4.51	Three-place verbs with three distinct arguments	137
4.52	Three-place verbs with an accusative + dative case pattern	140
4.53	Three-place verbs with an accusative + ablative case pattern	146
4.54	Alternative patterns for verbs of supplying with	149
4.55	Alternative patterns for verbs of filling	150
4.56	Alternative patterns for verbs of mixing	150
4.57	Alternative patterns for verbs of surpassing	151
4.58	Alternative patterns for verbs of changing	151
4.59	Factors determining the choice between the accusative + dative case pattern and the accusative + ablative case pattern	152
4.60	The use of the accusative and ablative with facio (and its counterpart fio)	152
4.61	Three-place verbs with an accusative + genitive case pattern (and a few alternatives)	153
4.62	Three-place judicial verbs	153
4.63	Three-place judicial verbs with a charge argument in the genitive	154
4.64	Three-place judicial verbs with a penalty argument in the genitive (or ablative)	156
4.65	Three-place verbs of valuing governing a value argument in the genitive or ablative	158
4.66	Three-place verbs of reminding with a genitive third argument	160
4.67	Three-place verbs with a third argument in an apparent genitive case	161
4.68	Three-place verbs with a prepositional third argument	161
4.69	Three-place verbs with an associative cum -prepositional argument	161
4.70	Three-place verbs of sprinkling with both an accusative + prepositional phrase pattern and an accusative + ablative pattern	163
4.71	Three-place verbs with an accusative + accusative (double accusative) pattern	163
4.72	Verbs of teaching, asking, etc.	164
4.73	The double accusative with verbs of asking	165
4.74	The double accusative with verbs of teaching	167
4.75	Other three-place verbs governing two accusative arguments	168
4.76	Neuter pronouns and neuter forms of adjectives in the accusative	170

4.77	The double accusative with compound verbs in Late Latin	171
4.78	Bitransitivization through preverbs	172
4.79	Object incorporation	173
4.80	Three-place verbs with a spatial third argument	174
4.81	Three-place verbs requiring a position argument	174
4.82	Three-place verbs requiring a direction or goal argument	178
4.83	Three-place verbs requiring a source argument	178
4.84	Three-place verbs requiring an extent of space argument	181
4.85	Three-place manipulation verbs	183
4.86	Three-place verbs with two non-accusative arguments	184
4.87	Three-place verbs with an object and a complement	186
4.88	Three-place verbs governing an accusative object + accusative complement	188
4.89	Three-place verbs governing an ablative object + complement	192
4.90	Zerovalent verbs	192
4.91	Copula and copular verbs	195
4.92	The copula sum	195
4.93	Auxiliary sum	197
4.94	Existential sum	200
4.95	Sum with an adverb as the second argument	201
4.96	Nominal sentences	201
4.97	Copular verbs	204
4.98	Auxiliary verbs	210
4.99	Valency of adjectives	215
4.100	Adjectives governing a dative argument	217
4.101	Adjectives governing an ablative argument	219
4.102	Adjectives governing a genitive argument	222
4.103	Adjectives governing a prepositional argument	226
4.104	Extent of space expressions with dimensional adjectives	228
5	Active/passive, reflexivity, and intransitivization	230
<hr/>
5.1	Active/passive variation	230
5.2	The uses of the passive	230
5.3	The frequency of active and (true and impersonal) passive forms	233
5.4	The personal passive	236
5.5	True (or semantic) passives	236
5.6	Restrictions on the use of the true passive	239
5.7	Accusative constituents with true passive forms	242
5.8	Agent/cause expressions in passive clauses	245
5.9	The use of prepositional phrases with per + accusative for the agent in passive clauses	249
5.10	The choice between active and true passive clauses	250

5.11 Additional remarks on true passives	253
5.12 Other forms of 'deagentivization'	253
5.13 The use of passive auxiliaries with true passive infinitives	254
5.14 Passive participles in active constructions	256
5.15 Diachronic developments	257
5.16 The use of the passive perfectum forms instead of passive infectum stem forms	257
5.17 Alternative passive auxiliaries	257
5.18 Decausative passives	258
5.19 Autocausative passives	260
5.20 Verbs in the autocausative passive governing an accusative object	264
5.21 The impersonal passive	267
5.22 Reflexivity	272
5.23 True (or semantic) reflexives	273
5.24 Autocausative reflexives	273
5.25 Decausative reflexives	275
5.26 Reciprocal interpretation of reflexives	276
5.27 So-called passive reflexives	278
5.28 Idiomatic verb + reflexive pronoun combinations	278
5.29 'Redundant' reflexive pronouns	279
5.30 Intransitivization	279
5.31 Autocausative use of active forms	280
5.32 Decausative use of active forms	281
5.33 Deponents	282
5.34 Deponent verb forms with a passive meaning	283
5.35 The voice value of the gerund and gerundive	285
5.36 The seemingly active value of the gerund	286
5.37 The voice value of the gerundive	288
5.38 The seemingly passive value of the gerundive	290
5.39 Types of verbs found in the gerundival construction	290
5.40 The type of agent and its formal expression with the gerundive + sum construction	296
5.41 The so-called deontic value of the gerundive	298
5.42 Excursus: The relationship between the gerund and the gerundive (or: Are there a nominative and a non-prepositional accusative of the gerund?)	301
6 Sentence type and illocutionary force	306
.....
6.1 Declarative sentences	308
6.2 Modulation of the assertive illocutionary force of declarative sentences	309
6.3 Declarative sentences with an indirect interrogative illocutionary force	310
6.4 Declarative sentences with an indirect directive illocutionary force	311

6.5 Interrogative sentences	315
6.6 Types of interrogative sentences	315
6.7 Simple questions	316
6.8 Sentence questions	316
6.9 Sentence questions without a question particle	321
6.10 Sentence questions with a question particle	322
6.11 Sentence questions with the question particle -ne	323
6.12 Sentence questions with the particle nonne (and with the negator non)	326
6.13 Sentence questions with the particles num and numquid	328
6.14 Sentence questions with the particle an	330
6.15 The use of en in sentence questions	333
6.16 The use of utrum as a question particle in sentence questions	333
6.17 The use of si as a question particle in sentence questions in Late Latin	334
6.18 Sentence questions with indefinite pronouns, adjectives, adverbs, and particles formed with ec-	334
6.19 Constituent questions	336
6.20 Multiple questions	339
6.21 Modulation of the illocutionary force of interrogative sentences	341
6.22 Interrogative sentences with an indirect illocutionary force	342
6.23 Interrogative sentences with an indirect assertive illocutionary force	343
6.24 Interrogative sentences with an indirect directive illocutionary force	345
6.25 Elliptical interrogative sentences	346
6.26 Ut clauses functioning as indignant questions	347
6.27 Imperative sentences	348
6.28 Imperative sentences with a directive illocutionary force	349
6.29 Modulation of the directive illocutionary force of imperative sentences	350
6.30 Control and imperative sentences	356
6.31 Commands and prohibitions in the past	357
6.32 The so-called jussive infinitive (infinitivus pro imperativo)	358
6.33 Imperative sentences with an optative illocutionary force	359
6.34 Imperative sentences with a concessive illocutionary force	360
6.35 Exclamatory sentences	361
6.36 Responses	368
6.37 Responses to questions	370
6.38 Answers to constituent questions	370
6.39 Answers to sentence questions	371
6.40 Affirmative answers to sentence questions	371
6.41 Rhetorical questions serving as an affirmation in reaction to a question	374
6.42 Negative answers to sentence questions	375

6.43	Responses to directive utterances	376
6.44	Affirmative reactions to directive utterances	376
6.45	Negative reactions to directive utterances	377
6.46	The corrective adverb immo	377
7	The semantic values of the Latin tenses and moods	379
.....
7.1	Some preliminary theoretical observations	379
7.2	Tense	379
7.3	Grammatical aspect and Aktionsart	380
7.4	The system of the Latin tense forms	382
7.5	The subjective nature of the category tense	385
7.6	Interference with other morphosemantic categories	385
7.7	Mood	386
7.8	The system of the Latin mood forms	387
7.9	The relationship between the semantic and grammatical uses of the subjunctive mood	390
7.10	The semantic value of the individual verb forms	390
7.11	Finite verb forms	391
7.12	Indicative verb forms	395
7.13	Present indicative tense	395
7.14	The 'actual' and 'timeless' present	396
7.15	The present tense used to refer to future events (praesens pro futuro)	399
7.16	The historic present (praesens historicum)	401
7.17	The present indicative tense and terminative states of affairs	409
7.18	Imperfect indicative tense	410
7.19	Past reference point of the imperfect	411
7.20	The 'in progress' element of the imperfect	416
7.21	Later developments of the imperfect	422
7.22	Simple future indicative tense	423
7.23	The directive use of the simple future	427
7.24	Periphrastic expressions with the future participle in -urus + a form of sum	429
7.25	Periphrastic future expressions with the gerundive + forms of the verb sum	435
7.26	Other competitors of the simple future	435
7.27	Habeo + infinitive	436
7.28	Debeo, possum, and volo + infinitive	440
7.29	Incipio + infinitive	442
7.30	Perfect indicative tense	442
7.31	Pluperfect indicative tense	455
7.32	Future perfect indicative tense	462

7.33	Future of the past	472
7.34	Diachronic developments of the forms of the perfectum stem (indicative and subjunctive)	473
7.35	'Shift' of deponent and passive forms of the perfectum stem (indicative forms)	473
7.36	'Shift' of deponent and passive forms of the perfectum stem (subjunctive forms)	476
7.37	Replacement of active forms of the perfectum stem by periphrastic forms with habeo	478
7.38	Subjunctive mood	481
7.39	The tense values of the subjunctive forms	481
7.40	'Potential' uses of the subjunctive mood	482
7.41	The use of the present subjunctive in declarative clauses	483
7.42	The use of the present subjunctive in interrogative sentences	485
7.43	Potential use of the imperfect subjunctive	487
7.44	The use of the imperfect subjunctive in interrogative sentences	489
7.45	Potential use of the perfect subjunctive	490
7.46	The use of the potential perfect subjunctive in interrogative sentences	493
7.47	Counterfactual use of the subjunctive mood	494
7.48	The counterfactual use of the imperfect subjunctive	494
7.49	The counterfactual use of the pluperfect subjunctive	496
7.50	'Deontic' uses of the subjunctive mood	497
7.51	The use of the subjunctive in sentences with a directive illocutionary force (commands and prohibitions)	497
7.52	Adhortative use of the present subjunctive	497
7.53	Second person present and perfect subjunctives in commands and prohibitions	498
7.54	The jussive use of third person present and perfect subjunctives	502
7.55	The subjunctive used in commands and prohibitions of the past	503
7.56	The use of the subjunctive in sentences with an optative illocutionary force (wishes)	504
7.57	The use of the subjunctive in realizable wishes	505
7.58	The use of the subjunctive in unrealizable wishes	507
7.59	The use of the subjunctive in sentences with a concessive illocutionary force (concessions)	509
7.60	The use of the subjunctive in indirect speech	510
7.61	The use of the subjunctive in interrogative sentences in indirect speech	510
7.62	The use of the subjunctive in imperative sentences in indirect speech	511
7.63	Imperative mood	512
7.64	The present imperative	514
7.65	The future imperative	517

7.66	Passive imperative forms	520
7.67	The temporal value of the infinitives	521
7.68	The temporal value of the present infinitive	522
7.69	The use of the present infinitive with future reference with verbs of promising, etc.	525
7.70	The prolative use of the present infinitive	526
7.71	The use of the present infinitive as main verb	527
7.72	The temporal value of the future infinitive	531
7.73	Fore ut and futurum esse ut as an alternative for the future passive infinitive	533
7.74	The development of the gerundive + esse into a future passive infinitive	535
7.75	The temporal value of the future perfect infinitive	536
7.76	The temporal value of the perfect infinitive	536
7.77	The temporal value of the participles	541
7.78	The temporal value of the present participle	542
7.79	The use of the present participle with forms of sum	544
7.80	The temporal value of the future participle	546
7.81	The temporal value of the perfect participle	547
7.82	The temporal value of the gerund and gerundive	549
7.83	The temporal value of the gerund	549
7.84	The temporal value of the gerundive	550
7.85	The use of the tenses in finite subordinate clauses	552
7.86	Factors determining the application of the sequence of tenses	558
7.87	The tense of the verb form of the governing clause as a factor for the sequence of tenses	559
7.88	The use of the tenses in subordinate clauses depending on a main clause in the perfect tense	559
7.89	The use of the tenses in subordinate clauses depending on a main clause with a historic present	559
7.90	The use of the tenses in subordinate clauses depending on a main clause with a historic infinitive	561
7.91	The use of the tenses in subordinate clauses depending on a main clause with a non-indicative finite form	562
7.92	The use of the tenses in subordinate clauses governed by a main clause with an imperfect or pluperfect subjunctive	563
7.93	The use of the tenses in a subordinate clause determined by the tense in a non-main clause in a complex sentence	564
7.94	The relative order of subordinate clause and main clause	565
7.95	The use of the tenses in various types of subordinate clause	566
7.96	The use of the subjunctive tense forms in argument clauses	567
7.97	The use of the subjunctive tense forms in imperative and declarative argument clauses	567

7.98	The use of subjunctive tense forms in indirect questions	570
7.99	The use of the tenses in declarative quod and quia argument clauses	572
7.100	The use of the subjunctive tense forms in adjunct clauses	573
7.101	The use of the subjunctive tense forms in purpose (final) adjunct clauses	573
7.102	The use of the subjunctive tense forms in result (consecutive) adjunct clauses	574
7.103	The use of the subjunctive tense forms in reason and concessive/adversative clauses	578
7.104	The use of the subjunctive tense forms in disjunct clauses	579
7.105	The use of the tenses in subjunctival relative clauses	579
7.106	The retention of semantically based subjunctives in subordinate clauses	579
7.107	The expression of posteriority in certain subjunctival subordinate clauses	581
7.108	The use of the tenses in second degree subordinate clauses	582
7.109	The use of the tenses in second degree subordinate clauses depending on finite first degree subordinate clauses	583
7.110	The use of the tenses in second or lower degree subordinate clauses depending on non-finite clauses (accusative and infinitive clauses excluded)	583
7.111	The use of the tenses in subordinate clauses depending on an accusative and infinitive clause	586
7.112	The use of the tenses in subordinate clauses in indirect speech	591
7.113	The use of the tenses in subordinate clauses belonging to an accusative and infinitive clause in indirect speech	591
7.114	The use of the tenses in imperative sentences in indirect speech	597
7.115	The use of the tenses in interrogative sentences in indirect speech	599
7.116	Variation of the tenses in subordinate clauses	601
7.117	Why the sequence of tenses is particularly relevant to the subjunctive	601
7.118	Sequence of tenses in indicative subordinate clauses	602
7.119	A few remarks on the diachronic development of the sequence of tenses	604
7.120	Remarkable uses of the indicative tense forms in subordinate clauses	605
7.121	The use of the historic present in subordinate clauses	605
7.122	The use of the historic infinitive in subordinate clauses	608
7.123	Some particularities in the use of the tenses in temporal clauses	609
7.124	The use of the imperfect (indicative) in clauses with postquam and related subordinators	609
7.125	The use of the (indicative) tenses in temporal cum clauses	611
7.126	The use of the present indicative in certain temporal dum clauses	615

7.127 Tense variation in time clauses denoting anterior events	616
7.128 The use of the moods in subordinate clauses	617
7.129 The use of the moods in finite argument clauses	621
7.130 Ut argument clauses in which the subjunctive is regular	621
7.131 The use of the moods in quod and quia argument clauses	626
7.132 The use of the moods in si argument clauses referring to an undetermined situation	627
7.133 The use of the moods in indirect questions (and exclamations)	628
7.134 The use of the indicative in indirect questions	629
7.135 Apparent indirect questions with idiomatic expressions	632
7.136 Formal overlap of indirect questions and relative and comparative clauses	633
7.137 Diachronic changes in the use of the moods in indirect questions	635
7.138 The use of the moods in finite satellite clauses	636
7.139 The use of the moods in spatial adjunct clauses	638
7.140 The use of the moods in temporal adjunct clauses	638
7.141 The use of the moods in clauses with future-oriented temporal subordinators (donec, dum, quoad and antequam, priusquam).	638
7.142 The use of the moods in temporal cum clauses	641
7.143 The use of the moods in causally interpreted cum clauses	644
7.144 The use of the subjunctive in temporal dum clauses	645
7.145 The use of the moods in reason clauses	646
7.146 The use of the moods in quia and quod reason clauses	647
7.147 The use of the moods in quoniam reason clauses	650
7.148 The use of the moods in quando etc. reason clauses	651
7.149 The use of the moods in quatenus reason clauses	651
7.150 The use of the moods in siquidem reason clauses	651
7.151 The use of the moods in purpose (final) clauses	651
7.152 The use of the moods in stipulative clauses	652
7.153 The use of the moods in result (consecutive) clauses	653
7.154 The use of the moods in conditional clauses	654
7.155 The use of the indicative in the si clause	654
7.156 The choice between the potential and counterfactual subjunctives in the si clause	655
7.157 Sentence type and moods and tenses of the apodosis	657
7.158 The use of the moods in concessive clauses	662
7.159 The use of the moods in manner clauses	663
7.160 The use of the moods in relative clauses	663
7.161 The use of the moods in comparative constructions	664
7.162 The use of the moods in clauses depending on a clause with a subjunctive	666
7.163 The use of the moods in subordinate clauses in indirect speech	668

7.164	The use of the indicative in subordinate clauses in indirect speech	669
8	Negation	672
.....
8.1	Negation by negation adverbs	674
8.2	Negation of clauses by negation adverbs	674
8.3	Negation of declarative sentences and subordinate clauses by negation adverbs	675
8.4	Negation of interrogative sentences and subordinate clauses by negation adverbs	681
8.5	Negation of imperative sentences and subordinate clauses by negation adverbs	682
8.6	Negator climbing	683
8.7	Local negation by negation adverbs	684
8.8	Litotes or negatio contrarii	686
8.9	Coordination of locally negated constituents	688
8.10	Additional remarks on individual negation adverbs	691
8.11	Haud and non	691
8.12	Nec and neque	692
8.13	Ne	694
8.14	Ne...quidem	695
8.15	Ni	696
8.16	Neve/neu	697
8.17	Alternative negative expressions	697
8.18	Nihil (nil)	697
8.19	Male	698
8.20	Minus	699
8.21	Further negator-like expressions	699
8.22	Negative subordinators	700
8.23	The negative subordinator ne	700
8.24	The use of the subordinator ne in argument clauses	700
8.25	The use of the subordinator ne in satellite clauses	703
8.26	The subordinator quin	703
8.27	The use of quin without a negative meaning in argument clauses	704
8.28	The use of quin with a negative meaning in argument clauses	705
8.29	The use of quin with a negative meaning in satellite clauses	706
8.30	The subordinator quominus	706
8.31	The use of quominus without a negative meaning in argument and satellite clauses	706
8.32	The use of quominus with a negative meaning in argument and satellite clauses	707
8.33	Negation of sentences and clauses by zero quantifiers	708
8.34	Negation of sentences and clauses by negative verbs	712

8.35	Coordination of negative clauses	713
8.36	Coordination of negative declarative clauses	713
8.37	Coordination of negative interrogative clauses	716
8.38	Coordination of negative imperative clauses	717
8.39	Coordination of a negative imperative clause with a preceding positive imperative clause	717
8.40	Coordination of a negative imperative clause with a preceding negative imperative clause	719
8.41	Multiple negators in one clause	721
8.42	Local negation of zero quantifiers and negative verbs	721
8.43	Two clausal negators in one clause	724
8.44	Negator + non = positive	724
8.45	Clauses containing two negators counting as one	726
8.46	Epexegetic negation	726
8.47	Double negation	727
8.48	The use of a pleonastic negator with accusative and infinitive and prolative infinitive clause	730
8.49	The position of negation adverbs	730
8.50	Pragmatic negation	732
8.51	Lexical negation	734
9	Syntactic functions of arguments and the categories of constituents that may fulfil them	736
.....
9.1	Arguments functioning as subject (in active clauses—first arguments)	736
9.2	First and second person subjects	738
9.3	Generic first and second person subjects	743
9.4	Third person subjects	743
9.5	Nouns, noun phrases, and prepositional phrases in the function subject	744
9.6	Clauses functioning as subject	745
9.7	Infinitives and infinitive clauses functioning as subject	746
9.8	Quotations functioning as subject and object	747
9.9	Factors determining the presence or absence of an explicit third person subject	748
9.10	Identity of the third person subject inferred from the context	750
9.11	Generic third person subjects	752
9.12	Arguments functioning as object (or as subject of a passive clause)	754
9.13	Nouns, noun phrases, and prepositional phrases functioning as object (or as subject of a passive clause)	754
9.14	Clauses functioning as object (or as subject in a passive clause)	755

9.15	Infinitives and infinitival clauses functioning as object (or as subject in a passive clause)	756
9.16	Factors determining the presence or absence of explicit objects	756
9.17	Arguments functioning as 'pseudo-object'	759
9.18	Arguments functioning as indirect object	763
9.19	Other third arguments	764
9.20	Arguments functioning as subject and/or object complement	765
9.21	Arguments functioning as subject complement	765
9.22	Nouns and noun phrases functioning as subject complement and showing agreement with the subject	767
9.23	Adjectives (and participial adjectives and gerundives) functioning as subject complement	769
9.24	Quantifiers functioning as subject complement	770
9.25	Numerals functioning as subject complement	771
9.26	Identifiers functioning as subject complement	771
9.27	Anaphoric/demonstrative pronouns functioning as subject complement	771
9.28	Possessive adjectives functioning as subject complement	772
9.29	Noun phrases in the genitive functioning as subject complement	772
9.30	The possessive genitive functioning as subject complement	772
9.31	The genitive of description functioning as subject complement	775
9.32	The partitive genitive functioning as subject complement	777
9.33	Other nouns and noun phrases in the genitive functioning as subject complement	778
9.34	Nouns (rarely noun phrases) in the dative functioning as subject complement	778
9.35	Noun phrases in the ablative functioning as subject complement	782
9.36	Adverbs functioning as subject complement	783
9.37	Prepositional phrases functioning as subject complement	786
9.38	Infinitive clauses functioning as subject complement	787
9.39	Arguments functioning as object complement (or as subject complement of passive clauses)	787
9.40	Nouns and noun phrases functioning as object complement and showing agreement with the object	789
9.41	Adjectives (including participial adjectives and gerundives) functioning as object complement	790
9.42	Nouns and noun phrases in the genitive functioning as object complement	792
9.43	Nouns (rarely noun phrases) in the dative functioning as object complement	793
9.44	Nouns and noun phrases in the ablative functioning as object complement	793
9.45	Adverbs functioning as object complement	794

9.46	Prepositional phrases functioning as object complement	795
9.47	Infinitives functioning as object complement	796
10	Satellites	797
.....
10.1	Adjuncts	798
10.2	Space adjuncts	800
10.3	Position in space adjuncts	800
10.4	The use of the bare locative and ablative in position in space adjuncts	803
10.5	The use of prepositional phrases as position in space adjuncts	806
10.6	The use of adverbs as position in space adjuncts	807
10.7	Direction and goal adjuncts	808
10.8	The use of the bare accusative case in direction and goal adjuncts	810
10.9	The use of prepositional phrases as direction and goal adjuncts	812
10.10	The use of adverbs as direction and goal adjuncts	812
10.11	The use of the dative case in direction and goal adjuncts	813
10.12	Locative and ablative case forms functioning as direction adjunct	814
10.13	Source adjuncts	815
10.14	The use of the bare ablative case in source adjuncts	816
10.15	The use of prepositional phrases as source adjuncts	818
10.16	The use of adverbs as source adjuncts	818
10.17	Space expressions referring to towns, small islands, etc.	819
10.18	Extent of space adjuncts	825
10.19	The use of the bare accusative and ablative cases in extent of space adjuncts	827
10.20	The use of prepositional phrases as extent of space adjuncts	828
10.21	The use of adverbs as extent of space adjuncts	829
10.22	Path adjuncts	829
10.23	The use of the bare ablative case in path adjuncts	830
10.24	The use of prepositional phrases as path adjuncts	831
10.25	The use of adverbs as path adjuncts	832
10.26	Time adjuncts	833
10.27	Position in time adjuncts	833
10.28	The use of the bare ablative case in position in time adjuncts	835
10.29	The use of prepositional phrases as position in time adjuncts	837
10.30	The use of adverbs as position in time adjuncts	841
10.31	Extent of time adjuncts	842
10.32	The use of the bare accusative and ablative cases in extent of time adjuncts	844
10.33	The use of prepositional phrases as extent of time adjuncts	846
10.34	The use of adverbs as extent of time adjuncts	847
10.35	'Since when' and 'until when' adjuncts	848

10.36	Period of time within which adjuncts	849
10.37	The use of the bare ablative in period of time within which adjuncts	849
10.38	The use of prepositional phrases as period of time within which adjuncts	851
10.39	Adjuncts denoting frequency	851
10.40	Adjuncts denoting weather conditions and attendant circumstances	854
10.41	Adjuncts denoting the relationship between one time and another	856
10.42	Process adjuncts	857
10.43	Manner adjuncts	858
10.44	The use of nouns and noun phrases in the ablative as manner adjuncts	862
10.45	The use of neuter (mainly) singular adjectives in the accusative as manner adjuncts	865
10.46	The use of prepositional phrases as manner adjuncts	866
10.47	The use of adverbs as manner adjuncts	869
10.48	The development of the adverbial suffix -mente	871
10.49	Norm adjuncts	871
10.50	The use of nouns and noun phrases in the ablative as norm adjuncts	872
10.51	The use of prepositional expressions as norm adjuncts	873
10.52	The use of adverbs as norm adjuncts	873
10.53	Means and instrument adjuncts	874
10.54	The use of noun phrases in the ablative as means and instrument adjuncts	875
10.55	The use of prepositional phrases as means and instrument adjuncts	878
10.56	Price adjuncts	881
10.57	The use of nouns and noun phrases in the ablative as price adjuncts	882
10.58	The use of (substantival) neuter singular adjectives in the ablative as price adjuncts	883
10.59	The use of (substantival) neuter singular adjectives in the genitive as price adjuncts	884
10.60	The use of adverbs as price adjuncts	884
10.61	Quantity and degree adjuncts	885
10.62	Quantity adjuncts	885
10.63	The use of accusative neuter forms of adjectives of amount as quantity adjuncts	885
10.64	The use of adverbs derived from descriptive adjectives as quantity adjuncts	887
10.65	The use of complex expressions with quantum as quantity adjuncts	887
10.66	Degree adjuncts	888

10.67	The use of noun phrases and prepositional phrases as degree adjuncts	890
10.68	The use of adverbs as degree adjuncts	890
10.69	Beneficiary adjuncts	892
10.70	The use of nouns and noun phrases in the dative as beneficiary adjuncts	892
10.71	The use of prepositional phrases as beneficiary adjuncts	897
10.72	Associative adjuncts	897
10.73	Contingency adjuncts	899
10.74	Accompanying circumstance adjuncts	899
10.75	The use of noun phrases in the ablative as accompanying circumstance adjuncts	900
10.76	The use of prepositional phrases as accompanying circumstance adjuncts	901
10.77	Cause and Agent adjuncts	902
10.78	Cause adjuncts	902
10.79	The use of nouns and noun phrases in the ablative as cause adjuncts	903
10.80	The use of prepositional phrases as cause adjuncts	904
10.81	Agent adjuncts	905
10.82	Purpose adjuncts	905
10.83	The use of nouns and noun phrases in the genitive as purpose adjuncts	906
10.84	The use of prepositional phrases as purpose adjuncts	907
10.85	The use of adverbs and adverbial phrases as purpose adjuncts	909
10.86	Reason adjuncts	909
10.87	The use of nouns and noun phrases in the ablative as reason adjuncts	910
10.88	The use of prepositional phrases as reason adjuncts	911
10.89	The use of adverbs as reason adjuncts	912
10.90	Respect adjuncts	914
10.91	The use of nouns and noun phrases in the ablative as respect adjuncts	914
10.92	The use of nouns and noun phrases in the accusative as respect adjuncts	915
10.93	The use of animi and related nouns in the genitive as respect adjuncts	917
10.94	The use of prepositional phrases as respect adjuncts	917
10.95	The use of adverbs as respect adjuncts	918
10.96	The so-called sympathetic dative	919
10.97	Disjuncts	923
10.98	Attitudinal disjuncts	923
10.99	Truth value disjuncts	924

10.100 Degree of truth disjuncts	924
10.101 Qualified truth disjuncts	926
10.102 Dative nouns and noun phrases functioning as disjunct of qualified truth	927
10.103 Prepositional phrases with prae functioning as qualified truth disjuncts	928
10.104 Subjective evaluation disjuncts	928
10.105 Illocutionary disjuncts	930
10.106 Comments on and justifications of the wording of the speaker	930
10.107 The use of the dative as illocutionary disjunct	931
11 The noun phrase	933
.....
11.1 The structure of the noun phrase	934
11.2 Head constituents	934
11.3 Common nouns functioning as head of a noun phrase	937
11.4 Proper names functioning as head of a noun phrase	937
11.5 Pronouns functioning as head of a noun phrase	940
11.6 Personal pronouns functioning as head of a noun phrase	940
11.7 Other pronouns functioning as head of a noun phrase	941
11.8 Infinitives functioning as head of a noun phrase	942
11.9 Various so-called substantively used expressions functioning as head of a noun phrase	944
11.10 Possessive adjectives functioning as head of a noun phrase	945
11.11 Substantival use of quantifiers	946
11.12 Substantival use of identifiers	946
11.13 Substantival use of adjectives and adjective phrases	948
11.14 Substantival use of participles and participial phrases	954
11.15 Substantival present participles and participial phrases	956
11.16 Substantival perfect participles and participial phrases	958
11.17 Substantival future participles and participial phrases	960
11.18 Substantival use of gerundives and gerundival phrases	961
11.19 Substantival use of noun phrases in the genitive	962
11.20 Names of gods in the genitive	963
11.21 Substantival use of prepositional phrases	963
11.22 Substantival use of adverbs and adverbial expressions	964
11.23 Miscellaneous expressions functioning as head	965
11.24 Attributes	965
11.25 Determiners functioning as attribute	969
11.26 Demonstrative and anaphoric determiners	970
11.27 Indefinite determiners	972
11.28 Interrogative determiners	974
11.29 Possessive adjectives functioning as attribute	974

11.30	Third person possessive adjectives functioning as attribute	979
11.31	Identifiers functioning as attribute	981
11.32	The intensifier ipse functioning as attribute	982
11.33	Quantifiers functioning as attribute	982
11.34	The universal quantifiers omnis and cunctus	985
11.35	The determinative use of ambo	987
11.36	Distributive quantifying determiners functioning as attribute	987
11.37	Binary quantifiers	989
11.38	The totality expression totus functioning as attribute	991
11.39	Adjectives functioning as attribute	993
11.40	Participles and participial phrases functioning as attribute	994
11.41	Present participles and participial phrases functioning as attribute	995
11.42	Perfect participles and participial phrases functioning as attribute	997
11.43	Future participles and participial phrases functioning as attribute	998
11.44	Gerundives and gerundival phrases functioning as attribute	998
11.45	Nouns and noun phrases functioning as attribute	999
11.46	Nouns and noun phrases in the genitive functioning as attribute	1000
11.47	The possessive genitive functioning as attribute	1001
11.48	The genitive of description functioning as attribute	1002
11.49	The partitive genitive and the genitive of quantity functioning as attribute	1003
11.50	The partitive genitive functioning as attribute	1004
11.51	The partitive genitive functioning as attribute with pronouns and zero quantifiers	1005
11.52	The partitive genitive functioning as attribute with quantifiers	1006
11.53	The partitive genitive functioning as attribute with identifiers	1008
11.54	The partitive genitive functioning as attribute with adjectives and participles	1009
11.55	The partitive genitive functioning as attribute with nouns	1012
11.56	Nouns and noun phrases in the genitive that function as attribute with quantifying expressions (the genitive of quantity)	1015
11.57	The use of the genitive of quantity functioning as attribute with nouns and noun phrases denoting measure or quantity	1015
11.58	The use of the genitive of quantity functioning as attribute with substantival neuter singular adjectives of amount	1017
11.59	The use of the genitive of quantity functioning as attribute with neuter singular pronouns and zero quantifiers	1019
11.60	The use of the genitive of quantity functioning as attribute with adverbs of quantity	1022
11.61	The genitive of definition functioning as attribute	1023
11.62	Nouns and noun phrases in the ablative functioning as attribute	1025
11.63	The ablative of description functioning as attribute	1025

11.64	Other expressions in the ablative functioning as attribute	1026
11.65	Nouns and noun phrases in the dative functioning as attribute	1027
11.66	Nouns and noun phrases in the accusative functioning as attribute	1028
11.67	Prepositional phrases functioning as attribute	1029
11.68	Prepositional phrases functioning as partitive attribute	1034
11.69	Adverbs functioning as attribute	1035
11.70	Adnominal arguments of verbal nouns	1037
11.71	Nouns and noun phrases that function as argument with verbal nouns	1038
11.72	Prepositional phrases that function as adnominal argument	1044
11.73	Possessive adjectives that function as adnominal argument	1045
11.74	Adverbs that function as adnominal argument	1047
11.75	The hierarchical structure of the noun phrase	1047
11.76	Atypical head/attribute relations	1048
11.77	The so-called partitive use of adjectives indicating relative position	1048
11.78	The so-called enallage adiectivi	1051
11.79	Apposition	1053
11.80	Nominal apposition	1054
11.81	Restrictive apposition	1056
11.82	Non-restrictive apposition	1061
11.83	Special types of apposition	1066
11.84	Appositive phrases with noun phrases containing a possessive adjective	1066
11.85	Distributive apposition	1067
11.86	Appositives with an unexpressed first or second person	1068
11.87	Appositives with forms of address	1068
11.88	The use of measure, number, and weight nouns in partitive apposition	1069
11.89	Miscellaneous combinations of nouns that seem to have the same function in their context	1070
11.90	Clausal apposition	1070
11.91	Adjective phrase	1074
11.92	Arguments and satellites of adjectives	1074
11.93	Adjective phrases with a degree modifier	1079
11.94	Accusative forms of adjectives functioning as degree modifiers with adjectives	1080
11.95	Adverbs formed from descriptive and other adjectives functioning as degree modifiers with adjectives	1081
11.96	Adverbs of degree functioning as degree modifiers of adjectives	1081
11.97	Quamvis and quamlibet functioning as scalar degree modifiers with adjectives	1082
11.98	Complex expressions with quam and quantum functioning as degree modifier with adjectives	1083

11.99 Noun phrases and prepositional phrases functioning as degree modifiers with adjectives	1085
11.100 Referring and non-referring use of nouns and noun phrases	1085
11.101 Referring use of nouns and noun phrases	1086
11.102 Specific reference of nouns and noun phrases	1087
11.103 Definite nouns and noun phrases	1088
11.104 The deictic use of demonstrative determiners	1093
11.105 The anaphoric use of demonstrative determiners and the anaphoric determiner is	1096
11.106 The cataphoric use of demonstrative and anaphoric determiners	1098
11.107 The exophoric use of the demonstrative determiners	1099
11.108 Diachronic developments of demonstrative and anaphoric determiners	1101
11.109 Indefinite nouns and noun phrases	1101
11.110 The indefinite determiner qui(s)	1103
11.111 The indefinite determiner aliqui(s)	1104
11.112 The indefinite determiner quispiam	1106
11.113 The indefinite determiners quisquam and ullus	1107
11.114 The specifying indefinite determiner quidam	1108
11.115 Free-choice indefinite determiners	1112
11.116 The indefinite determiner uter and compounds	1113
11.117 The development of an indefinite article	1114
11.118 Generic nouns and noun phrases	1115
11.119 Non-referring use of nouns and noun phrases	1117
11.120 Pronouns	1118
11.121 Personal pronouns	1118
11.122 The so-called rhetorical use of the first person plural instead of a first person singular	1119
11.123 The use of the first and second person plural instead of the singular by and for persons of a high social standing	1120
11.124 The reflexive personal pronoun and the reflexive possessive adjective	1120
11.125 The reflexive third person personal pronoun	1121
11.126 The direct use of the reflexive third person personal pronoun	1123
11.127 The indirect use of the reflexive third person personal pronoun	1124
11.128 Co-occurrence of clause-internal and clause-external coreferentiality	1128
11.129 Coreferentiality at the phrase level	1129
11.130 The third person reflexive possessive adjective	1129
11.131 Coreferentiality within a clause or sentence not expressed by a reflexive pronoun or possessive adjective	1133
11.132 Idiomatic expressions with the reflexive pronoun	1136

11.133	Residual cases of the use of the reflexive pronoun	1137
11.134	Demonstrative and anaphoric pronouns	1137
11.135	The deictic use of demonstrative pronouns	1137
11.136	The anaphoric use of demonstrative pronouns	1139
11.137	The anaphoric pronoun is	1144
11.138	The resumptive use of demonstrative and anaphoric pronouns	1145
11.139	The cataphoric use of demonstrative and anaphoric pronouns	1145
11.140	The exophoric use of the demonstrative pronoun ille	1146
11.141	Diachronic developments of anaphoric and demonstrative determiners and pronouns	1146
11.142	The identifier idem	1149
11.143	The intensifier ipse	1150
11.144	The two uses of ipse	1150
11.145	Further properties of 'pregnant' and 'discretive' ipse	1153
11.146	To what lexical category does ipse belong?	1156
11.147	Later developments of ipse	1162
11.148	Indefinite pronouns	1164
11.149	The indefinite pronoun quis	1164
11.150	The indefinite pronoun aliquis	1165
11.151	The indefinite pronoun quispiam	1166
11.152	The indefinite pronoun quisquam	1167
11.153	The specifying indefinite pronoun quidam	1169
11.154	Free-choice indefinite pronouns	1170
11.155	Later developments	1171
11.156	Quantifying pronouns	1172
11.157	The universal quantifying pronouns omnis and cunctus	1172
11.158	The distributive quantifying pronoun quisque	1173
11.159	Binary quantifying pronouns	1174
11.160	Interrogative pronouns	1174
12	Cases and prepositions	1176
.....
12.1	The function of cases and prepositions	1177
12.2	The frequency and distribution of cases and prepositions	1179
12.3	The case and preposition system	1183
12.4	Exceptions to the generalization that the arguments of three-place verbs are always distinctly marked (nom. + acc. + other)	1185
12.5	The use of the cases for the first argument	1186
12.6	The use of cases and prepositions for the second argument	1189
12.7	The use of the dative as a marker of second arguments	1192
12.8	The use of the ablative as a marker of second arguments	1193
12.9	The use of the genitive as a marker of second arguments	1194

12.10	The use of prepositions as a marker of second arguments	1194
12.11	The use of cases and prepositions for the third argument	1195
12.12	The use of cases and prepositions for adjuncts	1198
12.13	The use of cases and prepositions for disjuncts	1203
12.14	The use of cases and prepositions at the noun phrase level	1203
12.15	Concluding remarks on the case system	1205
12.16	The individual cases	1209
12.17	Nominative	1209
12.18	Accusative	1213
12.19	Dative	1216
12.20	Ablative	1219
12.21	Genitive	1221
12.22	Vocative	1224
12.23	Prepositions	1227
12.24	Prepositions and adverbs	1228
12.25	Prepositions and the cases they govern	1230
12.26	Prepositions governing an accusative or ablative	1232
12.27	Prepositions governing a genitive	1233
12.28	Variation between a bare case and a prepositional expression	1233
12.29	Prepositions, preverbs, and cases	1234
12.30	Diachronic developments in the functioning of cases and prepositions	1236
12.31	Developments in the marking of arguments	1238
12.32	Developments in the marking of satellites	1240
12.33	Successors of the genitive as a marker of modifiers at the noun phrase level	1240
12.34	Diachronic developments in the system of prepositions	1241
13	Agreement	1243
.....
13.1	Grammatical agreement	1244
13.2	Grammatical agreement of the verb with the subject of its clause	1244
13.3	Grammatical agreement of the verb with a simple subject	1245
13.4	Grammatical agreement of the verb with a compound subject	1246
13.5	Grammatical agreement in person/number of the verb with a compound subject	1247
13.6	The subject consists of two or more animate (or equivalent) entities	1249
13.7	The subject consists of two or more inanimate or mixed animate/inanimate entities	1254
13.8	Grammatical agreement of the verb in number with the first member of a compound subject	1255

13.9 Grammatical agreement in gender of the nominal part of the verb with a compound subject	1256
13.10 Grammatical agreement of the verb with a subject modified by a non-restrictive apposition	1259
13.11 Grammatical agreement of the verb with a secondary predicate or a distributive apposition	1260
13.12 Grammatical agreement of the verb with the subject complement	1261
13.13 Grammatical agreement of the verb in a relative clause in person and number with the head in the main clause	1262
13.14 Grammatical agreement of the verb with the subject of a comparative clause and other parallel structures	1263
13.15 Grammatical agreement of nominal subject and object complements and of nominal secondary predicates with a simple subject or object constituent	1264
13.16 Grammatical agreement of nominal subject and object complements and of nominal secondary predicates with a compound subject or object constituent referring to two or more animate entities	1265
13.17 Grammatical agreement of nominal subject and object complements and of nominal secondary predicates with a compound subject or object constituent referring to two or more inanimate or mixed animate/inanimate entities	1267
13.18 Grammatical agreement of the subject complement and the secondary predicate with non-subject arguments	1270
13.19 Grammatical agreement in the noun phrase	1272
13.20 Grammatical agreement of nominal modifiers with a single noun or noun phrase	1272
13.21 Grammatical agreement of nominal modifiers with multiple nouns or noun phrases	1273
13.22 Nouns or noun phrases combined with two or more different modifiers (referring to different entities)	1277
13.23 Grammatical agreement of appositions with their head	1278
13.24 Grammatical agreement of the subject with the subject complement and of the object with the object complement, when the subject or object is a pronoun	1278
13.25 Cross-clausal and cross-sentential grammatical agreement	1282
13.26 Cross-sentential agreement of a verb with a zero subject that must be inferred from a preceding clause or sentence	1282
13.27 Cross-clausal grammatical agreement of a pronoun with a simple head	1282
13.28 Cross-clausal grammatical agreement of a pronoun with a compound noun phrase	1284

13.29	Notional agreement	1287
13.30	Notional agreement of the verb with the subject of its clause	1287
13.31	Notional agreement of subject and object complements and of secondary predicates	1292
13.32	Notional agreement of the verb across a clause or sentence boundary	1293
13.33	Cross-clausal notional agreement of anaphoric and relative pronouns	1295
13.34	Notional agreement at the noun phrase level	1298
13.35	Residual cases of notional agreement	1299
13.36	Notional agreement with metonymical expressions	1299
13.37	The constructions of mille and milia	1300
13.38	Partim, alter alter	1300
	Bibliography	1303
	Index locorum	1361
	Index of grammatical terms and Latin words	1391

Colour versions of Figures 4.1, 7.1, 7.2, 7.3, 7.4, 12.1, 12.2, 12.3, 12.4, and 12.5 can be found on the book's companion website at www.oup.co.uk/companion/pinkster.