

The Personalization of Democratic Politics and the Challenge for Political Parties

Edited by William P. Cross, Richard S. Katz and Scott Pruyzers

ecpr PRESS

ROWMAN &
LITTLEFIELD
INTERNATIONAL

London • New York

Contents

List of Figures	vii
List of Tables	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
1 Personalism, Personalization and Party Politics Scott Pruyzers, William P. Cross and Richard S. Katz	1
2 Personalization, Personalism and Electoral Systems Jean-Benoit Pilet and Alan Renwick	19
3 The Personalization of Parliamentary Elections? Amanda Bittner	39
4 Personalism and Election Campaigning: National and Local Dynamics Scott Pruyzers and William P. Cross	57
5 Primaries and the Personalization of Party Leadership David K. Stewart	79
6 Personalized Politics Online Gideon Rahat and Shahaf Zamir	103
7 Party Organization and Personalization Anika Gauja	125
8 Exploring the Role of Decentralized Personalization for Legislative Behaviour and Constituency Representation Mihail Chiru	143

9	Personalization, Personal Authority and Governance Jonathan Malloy	163
10	Presidentialization, Personalization and Populism: The Hollowing out of Party Government Thomas Poguntke and Paul D. Webb	181
11	Personalism, Personalization and Gender Melanee Thomas	197
12	Personalization, Party Government and Democracy Richard S. Katz	215
	References	233
	Index	261
	About the Contributors	275