

Chi-Hé Elder

Context, Cognition and Conditionals

palgrave
macmillan

Contents

1	Introduction	1
	References	7
2	Conditional Sentences, Conditional Thoughts	9
2.1	Conditionals and Logic	11
2.2	Conditionals, Probabilities and Conditional Probabilities	22
2.3	Using Context: Conditionals and Possible Worlds	33
2.4	'The Story of a Syntactic Mistake': Rethinking the Role of 'If'	41
2.5	Reflections on the Scope of Semantic Analysis	46
	References	53
3	Biscuit Conditionals, Conditional Speech Acts and Speech-Act Conditionals	57
3.1	Properties of Biscuit Conditionals	60
3.2	Biscuit Conditionals at the Level of Speech Acts	65
3.3	Metalinguistic Conditionals	73
3.4	Speech Acts in the Antecedent	80

3.5	Rethinking the Category of Biscuit Conditionals	88
	References	92
4	Beyond the Conditional Sentence and Towards Cognitive Reality	95
4.1	From Grice to Radical Contextualism	98
4.2	Default Semantics: A Brief Introduction	105
4.3	Conditionals and Default Interpretations	112
	References	120
5	Hypothetical and Biscuit Conditionals: Redrawing the Boundary	123
5.1	Dividing the Class of Hypothetical Conditionals	125
5.2	A Classification of Biscuit Conditionals	142
5.3	Conditionals on Two Dimensions: A Corpus Study	155
5.4	A Two-Dimensional Classification of Conditional Sentences	181
	References	183
6	In Search of Linguistic and Contextual Constraints on Primary Meanings	187
6.1	Identifying the Communicative Role of the Antecedent	189
6.2	From the Role of the Antecedent to the Primary Meaning	196
6.3	Indicative and Subjunctive (Counterfactual) Conditionals	200
6.4	Conditional Perfection	208
6.5	Representing Conditional Utterances in Default Semantics	221
	References	225
7	Towards a Pragmatic Category of Conditionals	229
7.1	Pragmatic Criteria for Conditionality	231
7.2	A Cross-Linguistic Perspective	236

7.3	Conditionals Without ‘If’	239
7.4	Conditionality: A Cognitive Universal?	250
	References	252
8	Concluding Remarks: The Need for a Contextualist Outlook on the Study of Conditionals	255
	References	259
	References	261
	Index	273