

CONTENTS

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS	ix
NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS	x
SERIES PREFACE	xiii
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	xv

Introduction. This is real life: Shakespeare and social justice as a field of play David Ruitter	1
--	---

PART ONE: THE SHAKESPEARE AND SOCIAL JUSTICE INTERVIEWS

1.1 Deconstructing social hierarchies Erin Coulehan	25
Chris Anthony	27
Erica Whyman	30
Arthur L. Little, Jr	34
Ewan Fernie	38
Farah Karim-Cooper	41

PART TWO: THE PRACTICE OF SHAKESPEARE AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

2.1 Active Shakespeare: A social justice framework Ayanna Thompson and Laura Turchi	47
2.2 Bending toward justice: From Shakespeare's Black Mediterranean to August Wilson's Black Atlantic Peter Erickson	60
2.3 Black Hamlet , social justice, and the minds of apartheid Arthur L. Little, Jr	74
2.4 Shakespeare and civil rights: Rhetorical universalism Jason Demeter	94
2.5 Shakespeare's Disabled, Disabled Shakespeare Adelle Hulsmeier	109
2.6 Social justice in the academy: Reflecting on Shakespeare's royal women Christie Carson	125

PART THREE: THE PERFORMANCE OF SHAKESPEARE AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

3.1 William Shakespeare's Enrique IV, primera parte : Common [battle]grounds between medieval England and Mexico's present Alfredo Michel Modenessi and Paulina Morales	143
---	-----

3.2	King Lear and gender justice in India Preti Taneja	160
3.3	Re-enacting Hamlet in Southern Africa Malcolm Cocks	175
3.4	'Shakespeare in prison': A South African social justice alternative Kevin A. Quarmby	190
3.5	Romeo and Juliet with Chinese characteristics: Questions of usefulness and engagement in twenty-first-century China Julie Sanders and Li Jun	207
3.6	Social justice, social order and political power in NTCC's adaptation of Richard III Chee Keng Lee	222

PART FOUR: THE ECONOMIES OF SHAKESPEARE AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

4.1	The empathetic imagination and the dream of equality: Shakespeare's 'poetical justice' Kiernan Ryan	235
4.2	The idea of communism in Shakespeare Peter Holbrook	251
4.3	'Leftward, ho!': Shakespeare and Lenin in the tempest of class politics Jeffrey Butcher	265
4.4	Social justice and the reign of Regan in Shakespeare's King Lear Geraldo U. de Sousa	280
	ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY	300
	INDEX	323