

Contents

List of illustrations ix

Acknowledgements xi

1. The sun never rises 1
2. Home sweet home 9
3. The lie of the land 14
4. Plates in the air 18
5. The most powerful thing 24
6. Demands for reform 28
7. The Terrible Twins 34
8. What happened to the gentry? 43
9. Car crazy 46
10. Little hammers in their muffs 50
11. The Orange card 59
12. The black sun 67
13. Forced to fight 80
14. The regiment of women 93
15. The clock stops 101
16. England's Irish question 114
17. Gay as you like 123
18. Labour at the summit 128
19. Where is the match? 136
20. Get on, or get out 148

21. Crash 152
22. The rituals of suburbia 164
23. Now we can have some fun 175
24. The country of the dole 182
25. The Fasci 191
26. The bigger picture 198
27. The Spanish tragedy 209
28. This is absolutely terrible 216
29. The alteration 231
30. The march of the ants 238
31. Would you like an onion? 243
32. The pangs of austerity 249
33. The cruel real world 254
34. An old world 265
35. The washing machine 271
36. Plays and players 274
37. Riots of passage 282
38. North and south 293
39. Elvis on a budget 303
40. This sporting life 311
41. Old lace and arsenic 316
42. The new brutalism 325
43. The soothing dark 332
44. In place of peace 337
45. Bugger them all 341
46. The first shot 353
47. The fall of Heath 358
48. The slot machine 366
49. Let us bring harmony 372
50. Here she comes 379

51. The Falklands flare-up 384
52. The Big Bang 387
53. The Brighton blast 390
54. Was she always right? 399
55. Money, money, money 404
56. The curtain falls 414
57. The fall of sterling 420
58. One's bum year 428
59. Put up or shut up 432
60. The moral abyss 437
61. A chapter of accidents 439
62. The unhappy year 446
63. The princess leaves the fairy tale 451

Bibliography 463

Index 475