

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
List of Abbreviations	xi
List of Contributors	xiii
Preface	1
Section I: Professions
1 Bram Stoker, Dracula , and the English Common Law Terry Hale	9
2 “Receptive Emotion”? Stoker and Irving—Collaboration, Hagiography, Self-fashioning Rui Carvalho Homem	33
3 The Impress of the Visual and Scenic Arts on the Fiction of Bram Stoker Matthew Gibson	51

Section II: Science, Technology, and Ideas

- 4 “Sure we are all friends here!”: Bram Stoker’s Ideal of Friendship and Community in the Context of Nineteenth-century Bio-social Thought 77
Sabine Lenore Müller
- 5 Communication Technologies in Bram Stoker’s Dracula: Utopian or Dystopian? 101
Anne DeLong
- 6 Tracking the Unruly Cadaver: Dracula and Victorian Coroners’ Reports 121
Rebecca E. May

Section III: Politics and Society

- 7 Bram Stoker, Geopolitics, and War 149
Jimmie E. Cain
- 8 Black Eyes, White Skin: An Aristocratic or Royal Type in Bram Stoker’s Writings 177
Damian Shaw
- 9 Bram Stoker’s Ambivalent Response to the Frontier and the American Frontiersman 195
Carol Senf
- Coda: An Unpublished Letter from Bram Stoker to Laurence Hutton 215
- Notes 219
- Index 255