

Table of Contents

Acknowledgement	7
1. Living Together Across Borders Digital Media, Overseas Labour Migration, and the Chinese Context	9
2. Leaving Family for the Family Overseas Labour Migration and Chinese Transnational Families	57
3. Towards Traditional or Atypical Parenting? Gendered “Blessings and Burdens”	103
4. Left-Behind Children as Mediated Actors Beyond Receiving Care and Countering Surveillance	139
5. The “Connected” Caregivers The Bumpy Road to Collaborative Childrearing	173
6. Techno-Familial Scape Socio-Techno Family Practice, Mediated Socio-Structural Relationship, and Bottom-Up Transnationalism	219
Methodological Appendix: The Fieldwork	245
References	257
Index	283