

CONTENTS

1. INTRODUCTION	1
2. HISTORY AND THE NEW TESTAMENT	5
Christianity and the rise of historical consciousness	5
Past and future in the New Testament	6
The rise of modern historiography	7
The sources for earliest Christianity	8
The 'apostolic age' and the 'apostolic writings'	10
The problem of 'origins' in modern historiography	11
The critical function of historiography	11
The social history of earliest Christianity: reading between the lines	12
Historical criticism and the testimony of religious writers	13
Ancient historiography	13
The problem of source material	14
The problem of canonicity	15
Fundamentalism and exaggerated scepticism	15
Historical affirmations and faith affirmations	17
Dating the New Testament books	21
New Testament references to the fall of Jerusalem	22
Literary and theological evidence	24
The expectation of Jesus' return	25
Theological similarity as evidence for contemporaneity	26
The Gallio inscription	26
The dating of Luke-Acts	27
The testimony of the New Testament books to their contemporary situation	29

The influence of literary genre	29
The sources of the New Testament authors	30
Biblical interpretation in the first century CE	30
Interaction between 'prophecy' and 'fulfilment'	31
Interaction between Judaism and Hellenism	32
Indications of earlier sources	32
Stylistic assimilation and 'imitatio'	33
The sources of Acts	34
The sources of the Jesus tradition	34
Form criticism	36
A Scandinavian alternative	40
The gospels in the context of Graeco-Roman literature	41
3. JESUS OF NAZARETH	45
Jesus as a historical problem	46
Theological presuppositions of the 'new quest'	46
Two theories of post-Easter creation of gospel tradition	47
Jesus' condemnation and death: the starting point for historical reconstruction	48
Jesus' controversies with the scribes	51
The problem of the origin of the Jesus tradition	52
Jesus' claim of authority	54
Jesus' understanding of his mission	56
'Christ', 'Suffering Servant', or 'prophet'?	57
Jesus' miracles	60
Jesus' parables	61
Jesus and apocalyptic	62
Jesus' experience of God	62
Jesus' table fellowship with 'tax gatherers and sinners'	63
The ethics of Jesus	64
Jesus and the Baptist	65

Jesus and the new covenant	68
Conclusion	69
4. LORD AND SPIRIT	72
The beginning of the Christian mission	72
The empty tomb	75
The flight of the disciples	78
The appearances of Jesus	80
The pre-Pauline credo	81
The appearance to Peter	82
'Seeing', 'seeing that', and 'revealing'	84
The Old Testament and intertestamental literature as background	86
The resurrection of Jesus and the historian	88
The gift of the spirit	89
Conclusion	91
5. 'NEITHER JEW NOR GREEK'	93
Christian self-definition and the New Testament	93
Jewish self-understanding and the Jewish war	94
The Hellenists	96
Peter, James, and Paul	98
Paul's view of Israel	100
Paul in the Acts of the Apostles	101
Paul and Jerusalem	102
Matthew's special material	107
The Matthean community and the Jewish war	110
The Matthean community in Syria	111
The Matthean community and post-70 Pharisaism	112
The Matthean community and the Gentile mission	113
'The Gospel of Signs'	114
The Johannine community and post-70 Judaism	114

The Johannine community and other Christian groups	116
Conclusion	118
6. THE CHURCH	120
From 'the churches' to 'the church'	120
The apostle as founder	121
'Apostle of Jesus Christ'—'apostles of the churches'	123
Apostleship and association with the earthly Jesus	123
From the Easter experience to 'the word of faith'	125
'Believing through hearing'—'believing through seeing'	127
The basis for apostolic authority	127
Paul's authority in the churches he founded	128
Tradition in earliest Christianity	129
Paul and the apostles before him	131
The Twelve	133
The second generation	135
The gospels	135
The formation of the Pauline corpus	139
The appeal to apostolic authority	139
The Johannine community and the Jesus tradition	141
The Johannine community's acceptance of apostolic authority	143
Luke-Acts	146
The Pastoral Epistles	148
Relations between Christian communities	149
The Christian life	150
Gnosis	151
Conclusion	152
Bibliography	154
Index of Passages Cited	159
General Index	166