

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	9
Abbreviations	11
Chapter 1
INTRODUCTION	13
A. The Problem	13
B. Narrative Criticism and the Literary Paradigm	18
1. Limitations of the Historical-Critical Paradigm and the Move to a Literary Paradigm in Gospel Studies	19
2. Literary Presuppositions	33
3. Summary	50
C. The Proposed Study	51
Chapter 2
THE USE OF 'SALVATION HISTORY' IN THE INTERPRETATION OF MATTHEW: A READER- RESPONSE CRITIQUE	55
A. Introduction	55
B. Tripartite Schemes of Salvation History in Matthew	59
1. Georg Strecker	59
2. Rolf Walker	62
3. John P. Meier	65
4. Summary and Critique	68
C. Two-Fold Schemes of Salvation History in Matthew	78
1. Hubert Frankemölle	78
2. Jack D. Kingsbury	81
3. Summary and Critique	86
D. Conclusion	89

Chapter 3
NARRATIVE TEMPORAL ORDERING, AND EMPLOTMENT, IN MATTHEW'S INCLUSIVE STORY	93
A. Introduction	93
B. Plotted Story and Narrative World	96
C. Emplotment in Matthew	110
1. Matthew 1.1–4.16	115
2. Matthew 4.17–11.1	128
3. Matthew 11.2–16.20	138
4. Matthew 16.21–20.34	145
5. Matthew 21.1–25.46	149
6. Matthew 26.1–28.20	154
D. Conclusion	158

Chapter 4
IMPLIED AUTHOR, NARRATOR, AND POINT OF VIEW IN MATTHEW'S INCLUSIVE STORY	161
A. Introduction	161
B. The Matthean Narrator and Aspects of Point of View	166
1. The Phraseological Plane	168
2. The Spatio-Temporal Plane	170
3. The Psychological Plane	175
C. Commentary and Ideological Point of View	179
1. Judgment Commentary	181
2. Generalization Commentary	184
D. The Narrator and Jesus	190
E. Conclusion	202

Chapter 5
THE IMPLIED READER IN MATTHEW'S INCLUSIVE STORY	205
A. Introduction	205
B. Evidence of Matthew's Implied Reader	212
1. The Implied Reader and the Narrator/Implied Author	212
2. The Implied Reader and Characters in the Story	218
C. The Implied Reader and the Act of Reading	243
D. Conclusion	248

Chapter 6
CONCLUSION: JESUS AS EXEMPLARY FOR DISCIPLESHIP	249
A. Summary	249
B. Jesus as Model	251
C. Conclusion	259
Selected Bibliography	261
Index of Biblical References	281
Index of Authors	289