

Contents

Preface	vii
Abbreviations	ix
Introduction	1

Part One: Prolegomena

1. Preexistence in Earliest Christianity	23
Excursus: “Prophetic Dialogue” in Hebrews	43
2. The Transcendence of Christ in Matthew, Mark, and Luke	46

Part Two: The Advent and Mission of Jesus

3. The “I Have Come” + Purpose Formula in Matthew, Mark, and Luke	83
Excursus: Three Red Herrings	88
4. False Perspectives on the “I Have Come” Sayings	92
Excursus: “Coming” Language in the Dead Sea Scrolls	111
5. Use of the “I Have Come” + Purpose Formula by Angels	113
6. A New Reading of the Synoptic “I Have Come” Sayings	148

CONTENTS

7. The Mission of Jesus in the Synoptic Gospels	177
Part Three: Jesus, the Incarnation of Preexistent Wisdom?
8. A Critique of the Wisdom Christology Hypothesis	193
9. The Preexistent Christ and the History of Israel (Matthew 23.37)	210
Excursus: An Incipient Logos Christology in Luke-Acts?	221
Part Four: The Titles of Jesus in Matthew, Mark, and Luke
10. "Messiah" and "Anatolē" (Luke 1.78)	231
11. "Lord"	243
12. "Son of Man"	253
13. "Son of God"	272
14. Some Aspects of the Contemporary Theological Debate	284
Conclusion	293
Select Bibliography	298
Index of Authors	326
Index of Subjects	332
Index of Ancient Sources	334