

Contents

PART ONE: INITIAL POSITIONS

I. Jesus and purity: an introduction	2
I.1 The idea of impurity	2
The Jewish impurity system	2
Purity laws during the Second Temple period	5
I.2 Jesus' attitude	7
The problem	7
Sources	8
Contents and structure	9
II. Jesus and history: problems and possibilities	12
II.1 The historical Jesus and purity	12
Trends and tendencies in the "quests"	12
A Jewish Jesus	16
Jesus and purity issues	22
II.2 Continuity and authentic traditions	25
More than a problem of criteria	25
Words are not enough	28
Tradition is redaction too	30
Constraints and plausibility	31
II.3 The limits of historical reconstruction	34
History is more than facts	34
Causation, intention, and "thick description"	37
Getting down to what?—authenticity, reality and rétrodictio n	39
Summary: A case for the historical Jesus as conscious reconstruction	40

PART TWO: LAW, PURITY AND BODY

III. Jesus and the law: much debated conflict stories	44
III.1 Evaluating legal issues	44
Identifying Jesus' adversaries	44
Identifying points of conflict	48
Identifying contemporary legal material	51
The Sabbath as a test case	55
III.2 Mark 7, hand-washing, and the impurity system	60
Structure and content	60
Tradition, redaction, and authenticity	62
Hand-washing and eating at the time of Jesus	67
An expansionist purity practice in Second Temple Judaism	72
Degrees of impurity and contamination chains	78
Liquids, stone vessels, and the impurity of hands	81
Summary: A case for purity as a wide-spread concern in Second Temple Judaism	86

IV. Jesus and defilement through contact: a neglected issue	89
IV.1 An alternative approach	89
Beginning with non-conflict traditions	89
Dealing with miracle stories	91
Tracing historical reminiscences	95
IV.2 Skin disease / "leprosy"	98
"Lepers" in gospel traditions	98
The Markan non-conflict tradition	100
Jesus' gestures	104
Biblical legislation concerning "leprosy"	107
The exclusion of "lepers" in the Second Temple period	109
The contamination of "lepers"	112
"Leprosy" as punishment	116
The Lukan tradition	117
Papyrus Egerton 2	120
Jesus and "leprosy"	127
IV.3 Bodily discharges	127
The major dischargers	127
The bleeding woman and Markan sandwich construction	129
A purity issue in the Markan tradition	132
Dischargers in Lukan traditions?	136
Interpreting the purity issue: biblical legislation	138
Excursus 1: Explaining discrepancies
a) By the impurity of discharges	144
b) By the exclusion of women from the cult	146
Expulsion or isolation of dischargers during the biblical period	147
Equalization and strictness in the Second Temple period	150
Equalization and leniency in rabbinic interpretation	154
Exclusion and isolation at the time of Jesus	156
The bleeding woman and contamination by touch	161
Jesus and discharges	164
IV.4 The corpse	164
The nature of corpse-impurity	164
A purity issue in resurrection stories?	167
The Markan tradition about Jairus' daughter	169
The widow's son in Lukan tradition	174
The impurity of graves and Jesus' attitude	177
Was corpse-contamination avoided?	181
Purification and the first-day ablution	185
The good Samaritan and a presumptive corpse	189
Excursus 2: ἡμιθανής as seemingly dead	191
Priestly purity and priority	193
Jesus and corpse-impurity	196
Summary: A case for Jesus' attitude as seemingly indifferent	197

PART THREE: EXPLANATORY MODELS

V. Purity and morality	200
V.1 Immorality and bodily defilement in ancient Judaism	201
Sin and impurity	201
Excursus 3: Impurity as a metaphor	204
Ritual and moral in biblical legislation	207
Excursus 4: The $\square\aleph\aleph\aleph$ sacrifice	211
A moral trajectory	214
Alternative categories: inner and outer	219
V.2 Jesus: inner and outer impurity	222
Traditions and sources	222
Inner and outer impurity in Q and the Gospel of Thomas	223
Mark 7 revisited	228
V.3 John and Jesus: inner and outer purification	231
John the Baptizer	231
The Baptizer and Qumran	235
Excursus 5: Immersion and covenant renewal in the Community Rule	239
Jesus and baptisms in gospel traditions	243
Jesus and purification rites	248
Papyrus Oxyrhynchus 840 and inner purification	256
Summary: A case for Jesus as part of a moral trajectory in Judaism	261
VI. Purity and diversity	263
VI.1 Common Judaisms	263
Generalizing tendencies and the necessity to differentiate	263
Jesus and the major parties	264
The influence of the major groups	266
Expansionists and common people	269
Jesus and the common people	272
VI.2 Social and regional differences	273
Great and little tradition	273
Popular traditions	275
Northern literary traditions	276
The Galilean population	277
What type of Judaism?	280
VI.3 Centre and periphery	285
Urbanization and hellenization	285
Town and country	287
Sepphoris or Jerusalem? Orthogenetic and heterogenetic cities	290
Beyond great and little tradition	292
Jesus and Pharisees in Galilee	293
Summary: A case for Jesus' attitude as a reaction to a Galilean dilemma on purity	297
VII. Impurity and demonic threat	300
VII.1 Demonology and impurity	301
Demons in ancient Israel	301
Healing and exorcism	303
Impurity and exorcism in the Israelite cult	305
Impurity and demons in Second Temple Judaism	310

VII.2 Jesus as exorcist	313
Traditions about Jesus' exorcisms	313
A Jewish Cynic?	316
A Galilean hasid ?	318
A Solomonic magician?	320
A messenger of the eschatological kingdom	324
Excursus 6: A power struggle in the Beelzebul pericope	328
Impurity and power struggle in the Jesus tradition	332
Summary: A case for Jesus as overruling impurity with the kingdom	338
PART FOUR: CONCLUDING REFLECTIONS
VIII. Reconstruction and interpretation	342
VIII.1 Reconstructing Jesus' attitude to impurity	342
Legal situation	342
Historical evidence	343
Priorities	344
VIII.2 Interpreting Jesus' attitude to impurity	345
The inside: a moral understanding	345
Galilee: a rural, non-official context	345
Kingdom: a power perspective	346
VIII.3 Jesus then and now	347
Jesus and purity in his society	347
Jesus and purity in the early church	347
Jesus and purity today	349
Bibliography	354
Indices	386
Author index	386
Subject index	389
Source index	392

Figures:
Fig. 1	Impurity bearers and contamination in the biblical system	5
Fig. 2	The rabbinic system of impurity	6
Fig. 3	The rabbinic system of impurity. Adapted and simplified from Hannah K. Harrington	79
Fig. 4	The interposition of liquid in the rabbinic system of impurity	82
Pictures:
Miqveh with otsar near the synagogue at Jericho		42
Miqveh with otsar near the synagogue at Gamla		42
Stone vessels from the Second Temple period		42
Papyrus Egerton 2, 1recto		88
Papyrus Oxyrhynchus 840, verso		262
Miqveh from Jerusalem with remains of partition between stairs		262
Double entrance to miqveh at 'Isawiya, near Jerusalem		262