

Contents

PREFACE	7
I THE PRINCIPLES UNDERLYING A THEOLOGY OF THE NEW TESTAMENT	9
A. The Subject Matter of a Theology of the New Testament	9
1. A Theology of the New Testament Not as Obvious as It Might Seem	9
2. A Theology in the New Testament?— Or Derived from It?	10
3. A Single Theology or More than One; and Where in the New Testament Is It to Be Found?	10
4. The Meaning of the Term "Theology"	12
Conclusion	14
B. The Origin of New Testament Theology	15
1. The Origin and Nature of Christian Theology	15
2. Contemporaneity of the Bible and the Living Religion in the Middle Ages	16
3. Historical Separation and Biblical Thought in the Reformation	17
4. The Dilemma of Christian Theology	18
5. The Bible as the Object of Critical Investigation	19
6. The Concern for the Bible in Lutheran Orthodoxy and in Pietism	20
Conclusion	21
II BIBLICAL THEOLOGY AS PART OF A COMPREHENSIVE THEOLOGICAL TASK: JOHANN PHILIPP GABLER	23
1. Antecedents to the Achievement of Gabler	23
2. Distinguishing between the Various Theological Disciplines	24
3. The Problem of the Biblical Foundation of Theology	25
4. The Purpose of Biblical Theology	25
5. Theology as a Comprehensive Systematic Task	26
6. The Foundation of Dogmatic Theology Not Subject to Critical Scrutiny	27

7. The Mediating Function of Biblical Theology	30
8. The Distinction between Religion and Theology	30
9. The Distinction between Biblical and Dogmatic Theology	32
10. The Distinction between True Biblical Theology and Pure Biblical Theology	33
11. The Significance of Gabler's Distinctions	35
Conclusion	37
III NEW TESTAMENT THEOLOGY AS THE HISTORY OF NEW TESTAMENT RELIGION: WILLIAM WREDE AND WILHELM BOUSSET	39
Introduction	39
A. Antecedents to the Program of Wrede and Bousset	39
1. New Testament Theology as History: Ferdinand Christian Baur	39
2. The Limits of Baur's Understanding of New Testament Theology as History	41
3. The New Testament Religion and Its Primitive Christian and Non-Christian Environment: Adolf Deissmann	42
B. A Program for the History of New Testament Theology and Religion: William Wrede	45
1. The Independence of New Testament Theology	45
2. The Break with the Canon	47
3. The Problem of the New Testament as Theology	48
4. The Distinction of Levels of Meaning	49
5. The Problem of the Literary Level of New Testament Thought	50
6. The New Testament a Product of Living Religion	51
7. Toward a History of New Testament Religion and Theology	52
8. Wrede's Outline for a Theology of the New Testament ...	54
9. The Problem of the Name "Theology of the New Testament"	54
10. The Problem of a "Theology" of Paul	55
11. The Achievements and Limits of Wrede's Program	56
C. The History of Primitive Christian Religion: Wilhelm Bousset	60
1. Bousset's Relationship to the Program of Wrede	60
2. The History of the Primitive Christian Religion	62
3. The Exclusion of Jesus from the Investigation	64
Summary	65
IV THEOLOGY OF THE NEW TESTAMENT	67
A. A "True" New Testament Theology: Adolf Schlatter	67
1. The Return to a Theological Interpretation of the New Testament	67
2. Historical Investigation and Theological Interpretation ...	68
3. New Testament Theology and Dogmatics	69
4. Schlatter's Method of Interpretation: Statistics and Etiology	71
5. Schlatter and the Reformation	72
6. The Significance of Schlatter	73

B. The Problem of a "Pure" New Testament Theology:
Rudolf Bultmann	75
1. Sachkritik and Pure Biblical Theology	75
2. Bultmann's Theology of Paul a System of Ideas?	76
3. The Problem of a Systematic Theory	77
4. A Theology Based on Paul	79
5. A Theology behind John	80
6. A "Pure" Theology of the New Testament:
Herbert Braun	80
Conclusion	82
EPILOGUE: THE SIGNIFICANCE OF NEW TESTAMENT THEOLOGY	85
ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY	88