
Contents

| | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Foreword | ix |
| The Teaching American History Program: A Venerable Past and a Challenging Future | |
| SAM WINEBURG, STANFORD UNIVERSITY | |

| | |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|
| Preface | xiii |
| RACHEL G. RAGLAND, LAKE FOREST COLLEGE, AND KELLY A. WOESTMAN, PITTSBURG (KS) STATE UNIVERSITY | |

PART I

Emerging Practices for Historians: Introduction I

- | | | |
|---|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| 1 | Teachers as Historians: A Historian's Experiences with TAH Projects | 5 |
| | KELLY A. WOESTMAN, PITTSBURG (KS) STATE UNIVERSITY | |
| 2 | A New Focus for the History Professoriate: Professional Development for History Teachers as Professional Development for Historians | 29 |
| | PETER B. KNUPFER, MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY | |
| 3 | Engaging At-Risk Students: Teaching American Military History | 47 |
| | G. L. SELIGMANN, UNIVERSITY OF NORTH TEXAS | |
| 4 | Lost in Translation: The Use of Primary Sources in Teaching History | 62 |
| | LAURA M. WESTHOFF, UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI-ST. LOUIS | |

PART II

Emerging Practices for Classroom Teachers: Introduction 79

- | | | |
|---|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| 5 | Through the Lens of Local History: Enriching Instruction Using Regional Primary Sources | 83 |
| | DONALD D. OWEN AND KATHERINE BARBOUR, URBANA, IL SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 116 | |

- 6 Introducing Teachers to Archives and Archivists (and Vice Versa) 104
TIM RIVES, EISENHOWER PRESIDENTIAL LIBRARY AND MUSEUM
- 7 Teachers' Voices in Teaching American History Projects 119
DAVID GERWIN, QUEENS COLLEGE/CUNY
- 8 History in Every Classroom: Setting a K-5 Precedent 137
ELISE FILLPOT, UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

PART III

Emerging Practices for Professional Development: Introduction 159

- 9 Teaching American History Projects in Illinois: A Comparative
Analysis of Professional Development Models 163
RACHEL G. RAGLAND, LAKE FOREST COLLEGE
- 10 Finding Common Ground: Conditions for Effective Collaboration
Between Education and History Faculty in Teacher Professional Development 202
DAWN ABT-PERKINS, LAKE FOREST COLLEGE
- 11 Designing and Implementing Content-Based Professional Development for Teachers of American History 216
ANN MARIE RYAN, LOYOLA UNIVERSITY, CHICAGO, AND FRANK VALADEZ,
CHICAGO METRO HISTORY EDUCATION CENTER
- 12 Artifacts as Inspiration: Building Connections Between Museum
Educators and Classroom Teachers 240
D. LYNN MCRAINEY AND HEIDI MOISAN, CHICAGO HISTORY MUSEUM
- 13 How to Evaluate Teaching American History Projects 265
EMILY LAI, JULIE KEARNEY, AND DONALD YARBROUGH,
UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

PART IV

Emerging Practices in the Larger Perspective: Introduction 283

- 14 Mirrors, Mutuality of Interest, and Opportunities to Learn:
The TAH Program, Assessment, and Faculty 285
ROBERT E. ROOK, TOWSON UNIVERSITY

| | | |
|----|-----------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 15 | Teaching American History: Observations from the Fringes | 301 |
| | CARY D. WINTZ, TEXAS SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY | |
| | Contributors | 319 |
| | Index | 321 |