

Contents

Preface	vii
Introduction	xi
Part I: The Temperament Framework
1. A Three-Dimensional System for the Measurement of Temperament	3
2. Trait Arousability—An Alternative to Trait Arousal	13
3. Personality Measures Analyzed in Terms of the Temperament Framework	25
Part II: A Comprehensive Psychometric Analysis of Eating-Related Characteristics
4. Relationships Among Obesity, Anorexia, and Personality Measures in the Literature	45
5. Preliminary Measures of Obesity and Anorexia: Temperament Correlates	49
6. Revised and Improved Measures of Eating-Related Characteristics: Temperament Correlates	62
7. Supplementary Measures of Eating-Related Characteristics: Temperament Correlates	74
Part III: Effects of Emotion States on Food Consumption
8. The Influence of Emotion States on Appetite and Eating	95

9. Combined Influences of Emotion States and Individual Characteristics on Appetite and Eating	103
--	-----

Part IV: Appendices

A. Eating-Related Characteristics Questionnaire (ECQ): Scales, Scoring, and Norms	111
B. Supplementary Eating-Related Characteristics Questionnaire (SECQ)	123

References	129
Index of Names	137
Subject Index	141