

---

Gender in World History

---

Third Edition

Peter N. Stearns

---

Contents

---

Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	1
PART I
Agricultural Societies	II
1 The Traditional Framework: Agriculture, Patriarchy, Civilizations	17
2 Early Contacts: Influences from Cultural Diversity	28
3 Buddhism and Chinese Women	38
4 Islamic Standards outside the Heartland: Changes and Continuities in India and Sub-Saharan Africa	48
5 The Chinese Influence	60
Conclusion of Part I: Gender and Contacts in Agricultural Societies	69
PART II
New Patterns of Contact, 1500–1900	71
6 Europeans and Native Americans	77
7 Men and Women amid British Imperialism in India	89
8 Western Influences and Regional Reactions: Polynesia and Africa	104

9	Reform Movements and Gender: Beyond the Colonial Models	114
	Conclusion of Part II: Gender Contact amid Rising World Trade	128

PART III

The Contemporary World 131

10	Immigration as Culture Contact	137
11	New International Influences: Feminism and Marxism	146
12	Contact and Retract: The Middle East in the Contemporary Era	163
13	Latin America: The Role of Contacts in Basic Change	175
14	Global Consumer Culture: The Question of Impact	183
15	Globalization and Resistance	192
	Conclusion of Part III: Gender and Contact in Modern Societies	197
	Epilogue: Big picture: From Patriarchy to New Debate: The Role of Contacts in the Evolution of Gender	199
	Index	203