

MLA GUIDE TO

Digital Literacy

---

Third Edition

Ellen C. Carillo

NICHT AUSLEIHBAR

The Modern Language Association of America
New York 2026

Contents

Acknowledgments	xi
List of Illustrations	xiii
Preface for Instructors	1
<hr/>
Why Digital Literacy?	1
Features of This Guide	4
New to the Third Edition	5
The Crucial Role of Librarians	6
1. What Is Digital Literacy?	7
<hr/>
Principles That Inform This Guide	8
How This Guide Is Organized	14
2. Understanding Filters and Algorithms, Bots, and Visual Manipulation	16
<hr/>
Filters and Algorithms	16
Algorithmic Bias	19
Bots	22
Visual Manipulation	23
Read about It	26
“The Polarization of Extremes,” by Cass R. Sunstein	27
3. Understanding Generative Artificial Intelligence (GenAI) Tools	33
<hr/>
What Is GenAI?	34
How Is GenAI Trained?	35

Uses of GenAI Tools 36
GenAI and Reading 38
Search Engines and Additional Research Tools Powered by GenAI 40
Prompting GenAI 43
Evaluating GenAI Output 45
Ethical Considerations Surrounding GenAI 47

TRY IT 53

1. Ponder the benefits and limits of GenAI.
2. Research and try out a GenAI tool.
3. Practice prompting a text based GenAI tool.
4. Create an image using GenAI.
5. Use a GenAI tool to locate sources.

---

4. Understanding Online Searches 55

What Is the Difference between the World Wide Web and the Internet? 55
Understanding Domain Names 57
Scholarly Peer Review 58

TRY IT 59

1. Represent the relation between the Internet and the World Wide Web.
2. Practice keeping track of your daily website visits.
3. Test your knowledge of domain names.
4. Ponder the role of domain names in judging credibility.
5. Review types of online information sources.

---

5. Conducting Online Research 61

Choosing Keywords to “Catch the Tenor” of the Conversation 61
Conducting Broad Searches 62
Conducting Narrow Searches 64
Navigating Google Scholar 69
Practicing Inclusive Search and Citation Habits 69
Using a Search Engine’s Help Features 71
Searching Library Catalogs and Databases 71

---

Reviewing Your Search Results	72
Determining a Source's Relevance	73
TRY IT	77
1. Contemplate your role in source-driven writing.
2. Understand relevance.
3. Recognize the value of inclusive search and citation practices.
4. Practice documenting a broad search.
5. Practice narrowing online searches.
6. Go to the (Primary) Source!	81

---

What Are Primary and Secondary Sources?	81
I Found the Primary Source—Now What?	87
TRY IT	100
1. Practice finding primary sources.
2. Practice distinguishing primary sources from secondary sources.
3. Practice rhetorical reading.
4. Compose a rhetorical analysis of a visual source.
5. Practice writing a twenty-five-word summary.
7. Surveying the Conversation by Reading Laterally	102

---

What Is Reading Laterally?	102
Lateral and Vertical Reading Compared	103
Planning Where to Go Next	107
Understanding Your Biases and Emotional Responses As You Read Laterally	108
Recognizing Psychological Phenomena As You Read	113
TRY IT	113
1. Understand what it means to read laterally.
2. Practice reading laterally.
3. Practice recognizing your emotional responses to sources.
4. Address the implications of psychological phenomena on your research.

8. Exploring the Credibility of Sources 115

---

Exploring an Author's Credibility 115

Exploring a Source's Credibility through Publication Context 117

Recognizing Bias: A Closer Look 120

What about the Credibility of Wikipedia and Other Wikis? 125

Can GenAI Technologies Like ChatGPT Help Me Find Credible Sources? 126

Recognizing Misinformation and Disinformation 126

TRY IT 130

1. Practice determining an author's credibility.
2. Practice determining sources' biases.
3. Pay attention to an author's word choice.
4. Notice labeling.
5. Explore Wikipedia.

Read about It 132

"A Real History of Fake News," by John Maxwell Hamilton and Heidi Tworek 133

9. Working with Your Sources 140

---

How to Use Sources 140

Synthesizing Your Sources 141

Avoiding Plagiarism 142

TRY IT 143

1. Explore how an author uses sources.
2. Explore how an author contributes ideas to a conversation.
3. Practice using sources for more than support.
4. Annotate to reflect on your use of sources.
5. Conduct research about how a discipline uses sources.

10. Additional Strategies and Resources 147

---

Fact-Checking Websites and Chatbots 147

Conducting Reverse Searches 150

GenAI Resources 154

TRY IT 158

1. Ponder the uses of reverse searches.
2. Practice conducting a reverse image search.
3. Practice using fact-checking sites.
4. Locate other fact-checking sites and determine their biases.
5. Determine hoaxes.

11. Composing in Digital Spaces 159

Drawing on What You Already Know about Digital Composition 159

Creating Multimodal Projects in Digital Spaces 160

Rhetorical Considerations for Multimodal Composing in Digital Spaces 162

Additional Considerations for Composing in Digital Spaces 163

TRY IT 166

1. Identify the five modes of communication.
2. Practice working with the modes of communication.
3. Practice conveying a visual argument.
4. Understand accessibility.
5. Define Creative Commons licensing.

12. Customizing Your Online Experience 168

Adjusting Your Preferences 168

Making Informed Decisions about Social Media Platforms 169

Using Sharing, Liking, and Other Social Signals to Your Advantage 170

Avoiding Clickbait 171

TRY IT 173

1. Ponder the value of customizing your online experience.
2. Research social media platforms.
3. Practice adjusting filters.
4. Develop clickbait headlines.
5. Recognize how clickbait works.

Appendix: Sample Lesson Plans 175

Lesson Plan 1: Searching for Sources and Analyzing Their Credibility 175

CONTENTS

---

Lesson Plan 2: Reading Sources 177

Lesson Plan 3: Exploring the Concept of Fake News 179

Lesson Plan 4: Understanding Algorithmic Bias and Personalization 182

Lesson Plan 5: Reading Rhetorically with GenAI 184

Works Cited 187

Index 195