Taxation of Intellectual Property under Domestic Law, EU Law and Tax Treaties edited by

Prof. Guglielmo Maisto

Vol. 16
EC and International Tax Law Series

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements v

Foreword vii

Part One
Intellectual Property under Domestic Tax Law

Chapter 1: Taxation of Intellectual Property (IP) in Domestic Tax Law 3
by Matthias Valta

1.1. Introduction 3

1.2. Role of domestic income tax law for the application of article 12 5
1.2.1. Qualification as IP under article 12(2) OECD Model/12(3) UN Model 5
1.2.2. Use (renting out) vs alienation 7
1.2.3. Use vs rendering services 8

1.3. Comparative studies 11
1.3.1. Taxation of residents 11
1.3.1.1. Royalty income 11
1.3.1.2. Expenses 12
1.3.1.2.1. IP owner 12
1.3.1.2.2. Licensee 13
1.3.2. Taxation of non-residents 14
1.3.3. Royalty income and CFC rules 14

1.4. Conclusions 16

Chapter 2: Intellectual Property (IP) Income and Tax Treaty Abuse: Relevance of BEPS Actions 5 and 8-10 for the Principal Purpose Test 17
by Robert J. Danon

2.1. Introduction 17

2.2. General considerations on the PPT 21

2.3.	Relevance of substance and value creation under the PPT analysis	24
2.4.	Relevance of BEPS Actions 5 and 8-10 in the PPT analysis	26
2.4.1.	IP company exercising DEMPE functions in the state of residence availing or not of a nexus-compliant patent box regime	26
2.4.2.	Application of the PPT in licensing and sub-licensing situations	29
2.5.	Conclusions	32

Part Two
EU Law Tax Aspects of Intellectual Property

Chapter 3:	An EU Free Movement and State Aid Perspective on the Development of IP in a Foreign PE by Sjoerd Douma	37
3.1.	Introduction	37
3.2.	Countering harmful tax practices	39
3.3.	EU free movement law	41
3.3.1.	EU case law	41
3.3.2.	Analysis	43
3.4.	EU State aid law	44
3.4.1.	Introduction	44
3.4.2.	Advantage	45
3.4.3.	Selectivity	45
3.4.4.	Anti-abuse measures	47
3.4.5.	IP regimes generally	48
3.4.6.	The modified nexus approach	49
3.5.	Conclusions	50

Chapter 4:	Open Issues in the Application of the Interest and Royalty Directive to Royalty Payments by Paolo Arginelli	51
4.1.	Introduction	51
4.2.	The definition of royalties	51
4.2.1.	In general	51
4.2.2.	The renvoi to domestic law	52
4.2.3.	The relevance of EU private law instruments on IP rights	55
4.2.4.	Using the OECD Model Commentary	58
4.3.	The subject-to-tax requirement	62
4.3.1.	A "subjective" or an "objective" requirement?	62
4.3.2.	Attempts to modify the "subject-to-tax" requirement	66
4.4.	Beneficial ownership and abuse	71
4.4.1.	Interpretation of the term "beneficial owner"	71
4.4.2.	Means to tackle abuses of the Directive	74
4.4.3.	The "minimum holding period" requirement	79
4.5.	Procedural issues	85
4.5.1.	Formal requirements introduced by Member States	85
4.5.2.	Exemption applied in the absence of attestation or decision at the time of the payment	87
4.5.3.	Recovery of the tax in the case of abuse	87
4.6.	Policy perspective	89
4.6.1.	The missing external dimension	89
4.6.2.	A possible solution: The ATRiD	90
4.6.3.	The EU external competence to conclude tax treaties	91

Part Three
Tax Treaty Issues of Intellectual Property

Chapter 5:	Source vs Residence Taxation of Royalties: A Historical Perspective by Jacques Sasseville	97
5.1.	Introduction	97
5.2.	The work of the League of Nations	97
5.3.	The work of the OEEC	101
5.4.	The 1977 OECD Model and after	114
5.5.	Conclusion	115
Chapter 6:	Article 12 OECD/UN Models: Definition of Royalties and "Overlapping" between Articles 7, 12 and 13 by Adolfo Martín Jiménez	117
6.1.	Introduction	117
6.2.	The reasons for overlapping between the royalty definition and the concept of business profits/ capital gains in the OECD and UN Models	119
6.3.	Historical evolution of article 12 OECD Model and the "unfinished job" in defining royalties	121
6.3.1.	Why is there a royalty article in the OECD Model?	121
6.3.2.	The evolution of the Commentary on Article 12 OECD Model in the period 1963-2017: An unfinished royalty definition with strong potential for overlapping with other articles	123
6.4.	The concept of royalties in article 12 OECD Model and domestic law	125
6.5.	The "contextual definition" of royalties in the Commentary on Article 12 OECD Model	128

6.5.1.	The move towards a "contextual definition" of royalties	128
6.5.2.	The contextual definition of "use" and "sale" in the Commentary on Article 12 OECD Model	128
6.5.3.	The contextual definition of "know-how" and the problems of technical assistance	132
6.5.4.	Conclusions	134
6.6.	BEPS and overlapping of articles 7, 12 and 13 OECD Model	136
6.7.	Building blocks? Conflicts of classification and the emergence of an "alternative UN context" for the taxation of royalties	138
6.8.	Conclusions	141

Part Four
International Developments

Chapter 7:	Royalties in the Context of the Multilateral Instrument, the Principal Purpose Test and the Limitation on Benefits Provision by Sophie Chatel	147
7.1.	Introduction	147
7.2.	The BEPS Project and Action 6 (prevention of tax treaty abuse)	148
7.3.	Implementation of the Action 6 minimum standard to prevent tax treaty abuse	149
7.3.1.	Title and preamble of tax treaties	149
7.3.2.	Principal purpose test	150
7.3.3.	The LOB provision and its interaction with the PPT	152
7.3.4.	The Multilateral Instrument and anti-abuse measures	153

7.4.	Application of the Action 6 anti-abuse standard to cross-border payment of royalties	154
7.5.	Conclusion	158
Chapter 8:	Transfers of Intangibles under Tax Treaties (Although all the Fun Stuff is in the Transfer Pricing Guidelines) by Patricia A. Brown	161
8.1.	Introduction	161
8.2.	The application of tax treaties to transfers of intangible property	162
8.2.1.	Allocation of taxing rights under the OECD and UN Models	162
8.2.2.	Treaty practice with respect to royalties and capital gains: Symmetry or cynicism?	164
8.2.3.	Delineating the boundary between article 13 and article 12	168
8.3.	Transfer of intangibles to a related party	170
8.3.1.	Determining a price for the transfer of IP to a related party	170
8.3.2.	Issues relating to contributions to capital	174
8.3.3.	Ignoring separate entities entirely	175
8.3.4.	Does it matter?	178
8.3.5.	Transfers of "non-proprietary" intangibles	180
8.4.	Conclusion	182

Part Five
Country Reports

Chapter 9:	Australia by Celeste M. Black	185
9.1.	Introduction on private law aspects of IP	185
9.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in the tax treaty definition of royalties (article 12 OECD and UN Models) and the evolution of the rights protected under the relevant private law	185

9.1.2.	Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP	189
9.2.	Taxation of IP under the domestic tax law	192
9.2.1.	Meaning of "royalties" and qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP	192
9.2.2.	Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes	199
9.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers	203
9.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	208
9.3.	Taxation of IP under EU law	209
9.4.	Taxation of IP under tax treaties	209
9.4.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1)	209
9.4.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	213
9.4.2.1.	Distinguishing royalties and payments for services or other rights	214
9.4.2.2.	Cross-border equipment leasing	217
9.4.2.3.	Payments for technical services and interaction of articles 7 and 12	221
9.4.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	225
9.4.4.	Exemption in the source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of the royalties in the residence state	226
9.4.5.	Time of taxation	226
9.4.6.	Excessive royalty payments	227
Chapter 10:	Austria by Robin Damberger and Hans-Peter Gradwohl	229
10.1.	Introduction on private law aspects of intellectual property (IP)	229
10.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in the tax treaty definition of royalties (article 12 OECD and UN Models) and the evolution of the rights protected under the relevant private law	229

10.1.2.	Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP	233
10.2.	Taxation of IP under the domestic tax law	234
10.2.1.	Meaning of "royalties" and qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP	234
10.2.2.	Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes	236
10.2.2.1.	Categories of income	236
10.2.2.2.	Income from renting, leasing and royalties	237
10.2.2.3.	Income from self-employment	238
10.2.2.4.	Income from commercial activities	240
10.2.2.5.	Reduced tax rate for exploitation of patent rights	241
10.2.2.6.	Taxation of corporations	242
10.2.2.7.	Economic ownership concept in tax law	243
10.2.2.8.	Tax premium for research activities	244
10.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers	246
10.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	248
10.2.4.1.	Switch-over for dividends stemming from low-tax jurisdictions	248
10.2.4.2.	Comparability of the Austrian rules to the ATAD	249
10.2.4.3.	Prohibition of royalty deduction in special cases	250
10.3.	Taxation of IP under EU law	252
10.3.1.	Issues of compatibility of domestic law with EU law	252
10.3.1.1.	Inbound royalties	252
10.3.1.2.	Outbound royalties	252
10.3.1.3.	Research premium	254
10.3.2.	Inbound and outbound royalty taxation with respect to third countries	255
10.3.3.	Domestic tax regime and EU State aid rules	256
10.3.4.	Open issues in the interpretation of the I&R Directive	257
10.3.4.1.	The notion of "royalties" included in article 2(b) of the I&R Directive	257
10.3.4.2.	The introduction of a "minimum effective taxation clause"	258

10.3.4.3.	Anti-abuse provisions and beneficial ownership clauses	258
10.3.4.4.	Procedural issues	259
10.4.	Taxation of IP under tax treaties	259
10.4.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1)	260
10.4.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	262
10.4.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	266
10.4.4.	Exemption in the source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of the royalties in the residence state	268
10.4.5.	Time of taxation	268
10.4.6.	Excessive royalty payments	269
10.5.	Summary	270
Chapter 11:	Brazil by Leonardo F. de Moraes e Castro	273
11.1.	Introduction on private law aspects of intellectual property (IP)	273
11.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in tax treaty definition of royalties (article 12 OECD and UN Models) and the evolution of the right protected under relevant private law	273
11.1.1.1.	Brazilian private law on IP	273
11.1.1.1.1.	Copyrights and scientific discoveries	274
11.1.1.1.2.	Industrial property	274
11.1.1.1.2.1.	Corporate distinctive factors	274
11.1.1.1.2.2.	Biotechnology	276
11.1.1.1.3.	Integrated circuit topographies and geographical indications	276
11.1.2.	Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP	277
11.1.2.1.	Forms of exploring patents	277
11.1.2.1.1.	The assignment agreement	277
11.1.2.1.2.	The licence agreement	278

11.2.	Taxation of IP under the domestic tax law	279
11.2.1.	Meaning of "royalties" and qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP	279
11.2.1.1.	Royalties definition and tax deductibility	279
11.2.2.	Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes	285
11.2.2.1.	Consideration for the assignment and licensing of trademarks and patents	285
11.2.2.1.1.	Capital gains	285
11.2.2.1.2.	Taxation of royalties paid for the exploitation of trademarks and patents	286
11.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers	288
11.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	291
11.3.	Taxation of IP under tax treaties	294
11.3.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12	294
11.3.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	295
11.3.2.1.	Brazilian case law (judicial precedents)	302
11.3.2.1.1.	Superior Court of Justice (STJ)	302
11.3.2.1.1.1.	COPESUL case (2012)	302
11.3.2.1.1.2.	Iberdrola case (2015)	303
11.3.2.1.2.	Precedents from the lower federal courts	305
11.3.2.1.2.1.	Ambev case (2017)	305
11.3.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	308
11.3.4.	Exemption in the source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of the royalties in the resident state	309
11.3.5.	Time of taxation	309
11.3.6.	Excessive royalty payments	312
11.4.	Practical issues on cross-border remittances of royalties	316
11.5.	Appendix: Taxation of WHT on IP payments from Brazil to tax treaty countries	318

Chapter 12: Canada 321
by Joel Scheuerman

12.1. Introduction to private law aspects of intellectual property (IP) 321
12.1.1. Private law meaning of terms used in the tax treaty definition of royalties 321
12.1.1.1. Copyrights 323
12.1.1.1.1. Scope of protection 324
12.1.1.2. Patents 325
12.1.1.3. Trademarks 326
12.1.1.4. Industrial design 327
12.1.2. Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP 328

12.2. Taxation of IP under the domestic tax law 329
12.2.1. Meaning of royalties and qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP 329
12.2.1.1. R. v. Saint John Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co. 330
12.2.1.2. Is the payment for services rendered? 331
12.2.1.3. Is the payment actually business profit? 332
12.2.1.4. The Canada Revenue Agency's view 333
12.2.2. Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes 334
12.2.2.1. Acquisition of IP 334
12.2.2.1.1. Current expenses 334
12.2.2.1.2. Capital expenditure 336
12.2.2.1.3. Know-how 337
12.2.2.1.4. Expenses incurred in the pursuit of SR&ED 338
12.2.2.2. Disposition of IP 339
12.2.3. Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers 340
12.2.4. Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income by non-resident entities under controlled foreign affiliate and similar rules 341
12.2.4.1. Foreign affiliate and controlled foreign affiliate basics 341

12.3. Taxation of IP under tax treaties 344
12.3.1. Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1) 344

12.3.2.	Meaning of royalties and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	345
12.3.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	346
12.3.4.	Exemption in the source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of the royalties in the residence state	347
12.3.5.	Time of taxation	348
12.3.6.	Excessive royalty payments	349
Chapter 13:	China (People's Rep.) by Na Li	351
13.1.	Introduction on private law aspects of intellectual property (IP)	351
13.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in the tax treaty definition of royalties (article 12 OECD and UN Models) and the evolution of the rights protected under the relevant private law	351
13.1.1.1.	Definition of the terms for or relating to "royalties" under Chinese private law	351
13.1.1.1.1.	Copyright of literary, artistic or scientific work	351
13.1.1.1.2.	Patent, design or model	352
13.1.1.1.3.	Trademark	352
13.1.1.1.4.	Plan, secret formula or process, information concerning industrial, commercial or scientific experience	353
13.1.1.2.	Whether qualification for private law purposes would have an impact on the qualification of the income from the IP for domestic tax and tax treaty purposes	354
13.1.1.3.	New trend and evolution of the rights which can be protected by IP or industrial property legislation	355
13.1.2.	Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP	356
13.1.2.1.	Domestic private law legislations governing (may result in applying different treaty provisions (article 12, 13 or 7))	356
13.1.2.2.	Whether the private law meaning of ownership of IP is based exclusively on legal ownership or if, in the context of certain transactions, it is recognized as the concept of economic ownership	357

13.2.	Taxation of IP under the domestic tax law	358
13.2.1.	Meaning of "royalties" and qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP	358
13.2.1.1.	Domestic tax law meaning (definition of "royalties")	358
13.2.1.2.	SAT's interpretation for "royalties" used in Chinese tax treaty provisions	360
13.2.1.3.	Whether technical assistance is treated or characterized as royalty, especially where technical assistance is connected with a licence of the relevant IP	363
13.2.1.4.	Whether domestic tax law rules or practice exist on aggregation and/or disaggregation of transactions that include both technical assistance and licensing of IP	363
13.2.2.	Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes	364
13.2.2.1.	Categories or subcategories of income	364
13.2.2.2.	Tax regimes applicable to IP income derived by resident taxpayers	364
13.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers	366
13.2.3.1.	Rules applicable to non-resident taxpayers in general	366
13.2.3.2.	Tax exemption for non-resident taxpayers	367
13.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	367
13.2.4.1.	Taxation rules applicable to IP income derived by entities falling within the scope of CFC regulation	367
13.2.4.2.	Other domestic anti-abuse rule targeted on IP income sourced in/connected to tax havens or countries with privileged tax regimes	368
13.3.	Taxation of IP under tax treaties	370
13.3.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1)	370
13.3.1.1.	Maximum withholding tax rates on royalties are decreasing	370
13.3.1.2.	Scope of royalties becomes narrower	371
13.3.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7 and 12	372

13.3.2.1.	Including rental income for "the use of, or the right to use industrial, commercial or scientific equipment" in "royalties"	372
13.3.2.2.	A tax case for conflict of qualification between "royalties" and "business income"	373
13.3.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	377
13.3.4.	Anti-tax avoidance	379
13.3.5.	Time of taxation	380
13.4.	Conclusion	380
Chapter 14:	France by Mathieu Daudé	383
14.1.	Introduction on private law aspects of intellectual property (IP)	383
14.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in the tax treaty definition of royalties (article 12 OECD and UN Models) and the evolution of the rights protected under French private law	383
14.1.1.1.	Industrial property rights	383
14.1.1.1.1.	Patents	383
14.1.1.1.2.	Designs or models	384
14.1.1.1.3.	Trademarks	385
14.1.1.2.	Artistic and literary rights	385
14.1.2.	Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP	386
14.2.	Taxation of IP under the domestic tax law	387
14.2.1.	Meaning of "royalties" and qualification of income derived from utilization of IP	387
14.2.1.1.	Scope of IP rights eligible to the favourable regime of patents (article 39 terdecies of the FTC)	387
14.2.2.	Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes	389
14.2.2.1.	Corporate taxpayers	389
14.2.2.1.1.	Ordinary regime	389
14.2.2.1.1.1.	Taxation of IP income	389
14.2.2.1.1.2.	Taxation of capital gains made on the disposal of an IP asset	389
14.2.2.1.1.3.	Deduction of royalties paid in connection with IP assets	389

14.2.2.1.1.4.	Transfer taxes/registration duties	390
14.2.2.1.2.	Favourable regime applicable to patents and assimilated	391
14.2.2.2.	Individual taxpayers	392
14.2.2.2.1.	Categories of personal income tax	392
14.2.2.2.1.1.	Wages	393
14.2.2.2.1.2.	Industrial or commercial profits	393
14.2.2.2.1.3.	Non-commercial profits	393
14.2.2.2.1.4.	Professional capital gains	393
14.2.2.2.2.	Copyrights	393
14.2.2.2.2.1.	Ordinary regime: Non-commercial profits	393
14.2.2.2.2.2.	Option for a smoothing mechanism	394
14.2.2.2.2.3.	Taxation of authors and composer's copyrights as wages	395
14.2.2.2.3.	Patent or trademark licence income	396
14.2.2.2.3.1.	Professional income taxed as industrial or commercial profits	396
14.2.2.2.3.2.	Income received by inventors or their heirs	396
14.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers	397
14.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	399
14.3.	Taxation of IP under EU law	401
14.3.1.	Issues of compatibility of domestic tax law with EU law	401
14.3.2.	Open issues in the implementation of the Interest and Royalty Directive	402
14.3.2.1.	The notion of "royalties" included in article 2(b) of the Interest and Royalty Directive	402
14.3.2.2.	The introduction of a "minimum effective taxation clause"	402
14.3.2.3.	Anti-abuse provisions	403
14.3.2.4.	Procedural issues	405
14.4.	Taxation of IP under tax treaties	406
14.4.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1)	406
14.4.1.1.	Sourcing rules	406
14.4.1.2.	Division of taxing rights	408
14.4.1.3.	Procedural issues	409

14.4.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	409
14.4.2.1.	Alienation of IP assets or rights	410
14.4.2.2.	Use of industrial, commercial or scientific equipment	410
14.4.2.3.	Information concerning know-how and secret processes or industrial, commercial or scientific equipment	411
14.4.2.4.	Technical services	411
14.4.2.5.	Transfer of software	412
14.4.2.6.	Copyrights and similar rights	412
14.4.2.7.	Royalties paid for the use of mines, quarries and natural resources	413
14.4.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	413
14.4.4.	Exemption in the source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of the royalties in the residence state	415
14.4.5.	Time of taxation	417
14.4.6.	Excessive royalty payments	417
Chapter 15:	Germany by Florian Schmid	419
15.1.	Introduction on private law aspects of intellectual property (IP)	419
15.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in the tax treaty definition of royalties (article 12 OECD and UN Models) and the evolution of the rights protected under relevant private law	419
15.1.2.	Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP	422
15.2.	Taxation of IP under the domestic tax law	423
15.2.1.	Meaning of "royalties" and qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP	424
15.2.2.	Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes	427
15.2.2.1.	Income from rental and leasing	428
15.2.2.2.	Business income	429
15.2.2.3.	Self-employment income	433

15.2.2.4.	Section 4j EStG: Recently introduced limitation of the deductibility of expenses for the right to use IP	433
15.2.3.	Tax treatment of income derived from IP by non-resident taxpayers	436
15.2.3.1.	Section 49(1)(2)(a) EStG: Business income	436
15.2.3.2.	Section 49(1)(2)(f) EStG: Business income in the form of rental, leasing or sale	438
15.2.3.3.	Section 49(1)(3) EStG: Independent personal services	442
15.2.3.4.	Section 49(1)(6) EStG: Rental and leasing	442
15.2.3.5.	Section 49(1)(9) EStG: Know-how	443
15.2.3.6.	Recent draft paper concerning software and databases	443
15.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	445
15.2.4.1.	CFC rules	445
15.2.4.2.	Transfer pricing rules	447
15.2.4.3.	General anti-abuse rule (GAAR)	449
15.3.	Taxation of IP under EU law	449
15.3.1.	Issues of compatibility of domestic tax law with EU law	449
15.3.2.	Open issues in the implementation of the I&R Directive	452
15.4.	Taxation of IP under tax treaties	455
15.4.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1)	455
15.4.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	457
15.4.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	462
15.4.4.	Exemption in the source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of the royalties in the residence state	464
15.4.5.	Time of taxation	465
15.4.6.	Excessive royalty payments	466

Chapter 16:	Italy by Alberto Brazzalotto	469
16.1.	Introduction on private law aspects of intellectual property (IP)	469
16.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in the tax treaty definition of royalties (article 12 OECD and UN Models) and the evolution of the rights protected under relevant private law	469
16.1.2.	Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP	476
16.2.	Taxation of IP under the domestic tax law	479
16.2.1.	Meaning of "royalties" and qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP	479
16.2.2.	Qualification of income and applicable tax regimes	485
16.2.2.1.	Tax treatment of IP	486
16.2.2.1.1.	Income assimilated to self-employment income	486
16.2.2.1.2.	Miscellaneous income	489
16.2.2.1.3.	Business income	489
16.2.2.1.3.1.	Italian patent box regime	492
16.2.2.2.	Tax treatment of neighbouring rights	495
16.2.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from industrial, commercial or scientific equipment	496
16.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers	497
16.2.3.1.	Sourcing rules	497
16.2.3.2.	Taxing rules	499
16.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	500
16.2.4.1.	CFC legislation (article 167 ITC)	500
16.2.4.2.	Rules on fictitious interposition of entities (article 37(3) Decree 600/1973)	503
16.3.	Taxation of IP under EU law	503
16.3.1.	Issues of compatibility of domestic law with EU law	503
16.3.1.1.	Inbound royalties	503
16.3.1.2.	Outbound royalties	504
16.3.1.3.	Domestic tax regime and EU State aid rules	506

16.3.2.	Open issues in the interpretation of the I&R Directive	508
16.3.2.1.	The notion of "royalties" included in article 2(b) of the I&R Directive	508
16.3.2.2.	Introduction of a "minimum effective taxation clause"	509
16.3.2.3.	Anti-abuse provisions	511
16.3.2.4.	Procedural issues	513
16.4.	Taxation of IP under tax treaties	514
16.4.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1)	515
16.4.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	518
16.4.2.1.	Definition of "royalties" under article 12 OECD Model and in Italy's treaty practice	518
16.4.2.2.	Overlapping between articles 12 and 13 OECD Model	521
16.4.2.3.	Overlapping between articles 12 and 7 OECD Model	523
16.4.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	529
16.4.4.	Exemption in the source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of the royalties in the residence state	532
16.4.5.	Time of taxation	532
16.4.6.	Excessive royalty payments	534
Chapter 17:	Netherlands by Zoya Zalmai	535
17.1.	Introduction on private law aspects of intellectual property (IP)	535
17.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in the tax treaty definition of royalties (article 12 OECD and UN Models) and the evolution of the rights protected under relevant private law	535
17.1.1.1.	Patents	536
17.1.1.2.	Plant breeders' right	539
17.1.1.3.	Copyright	540
17.1.1.4.	Trademarks	541
17.1.1.5.	Design or model	541

17.1.2.	Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP	542
17.2.	Taxation of income from IP under the domestic law	545
17.2.1.	Meaning of "royalties" and qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP	545
17.2.2.	Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes	547
17.2.2.1.	Intangible asset	550
17.2.2.2.	Self-developed	552
17.2.2.3.	R&D asset and/or patent	554
17.2.2.3.1.	R&D certificate	555
17.2.2.3.2.	Patents	556
17.2.2.3.3.	Definition of income	556
17.2.2.3.4.	The nexus approach	560
17.2.2.3.5.	WBSO	562
17.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers	563
17.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	564
17.3.	Taxation of IP under EU law	567
17.3.1.	Issues of compatibility of domestic tax law with EU law	567
17.3.1.1.	Compatibility with fundamental freedoms	567
17.3.1.1.1.	Outbound investment through a PE vs outbound investment through a subsidiary	570
17.3.1.1.2.	Investment through a domestic subsidiary vs investment through a foreign subsidiary	571
17.3.1.2.	Compatibility of the Dutch innovation box with State aid rules	572
17.3.1.2.1.	An economic advantage must be granted to an undertaking	573
17.3.1.2.2.	The aid is provided by a Member State and financed through state resources	574
17.3.1.2.3.	The aid potentially distorts competition and affects EU trade	575
17.3.1.2.4.	It favours certain undertakings or the production of certain goods ("selectivity")	575

17.3.1.2.5.	Review of the Dutch innovation box under article 107(1) TFEU	578
17.3.2.	Open issues in the implementation of the I&R Directive	583
17.4.	Taxation of IP under tax treaties	584
17.4.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1)	584
17.4.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	587
17.4.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	589
17.4.4.	Exemption in the source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of the royalties in the residence state	591
17.4.5.	Time of taxation	592
17.4.6.	Excessive royalty payments	593
Chapter 18:	Spain by Elizabeth Gil García	595
18.1.	Introduction on private law aspects of intellectual property (IP)	595
18.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in the tax treaty definition of royalties (article 12 OECD and UN Models) and the evolution of the rights protected under relevant private law	595
18.1.2.	Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP	598
18.2.	Taxation of IP under the domestic tax law	599
18.2.1.	Meaning of "royalties" and qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP	600
18.2.2.	Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes	601
18.2.2.1.	Qualification of income deriving from IP	601
18.2.2.2.	Tax regime applicable to IP income	604
18.2.2.2.1.	Qualifying taxpayers for the patent box regime	605
18.2.2.2.2.	Eligible IP assets for the patent box regime	607
18.2.2.2.3.	Calculation of the IP box base	610
18.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers	613

18.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	614
18.3.	Taxation of IP under EU law	616
18.3.1.	Issues of compatibility of domestic tax law with EU law	617
18.3.2.	Open issues in the implementation of the I&R Directive	618
18.4.	Taxation of IP under tax treaties	623
18.4.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1)	623
18.4.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	624
18.4.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	630
18.4.4.	Exemption in the source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of royalties in the residence state	631
18.4.5.	Time of taxation	634
18.5.	Annex	635
Chapter 19:	Switzerland by Peter Hongler and Livia Schlegel	639
19.1.	Introduction on private law aspects of intellectual property (IP)	639
19.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in article 12	639
19.1.1.1.	Patents	639
19.1.1.2.	Copyrights	640
19.1.1.3.	Trademarks	641
19.1.1.4.	Design or model	642
19.1.1.5.	Plan	642
19.1.1.6.	Secret formula or processes	643
19.1.1.7.	Information concerning industrial, commercial or scientific experience	643
19.1.2.	Distinction between sale and licensing of IP rights	644
19.2.	Taxation of income from IP under domestic tax law	645
19.2.1.	Income and corporate income tax treatment	645

19.2.1.1.	Income tax	645
19.2.1.2.	Corporate income tax	646
19.2.2.	Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes	647
19.2.2.1.	IP box regime (Tax Proposal 17): Overview	647
19.2.2.2.	Patents according to the EPC	648
19.2.2.3.	Foreign patents corresponding to the patents mentioned in (a) and (b)	649
19.2.2.4.	Supplementary protection certificates according to the Patents Act	649
19.2.2.5.	Semiconductor topography rights	649
19.2.2.6.	Varieties of plants protected by the Varieties Protection Act	650
19.2.2.7.	Certain documents protected according to the Federal Act on Medicinal Products and Medical Devices	650
19.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers	651
19.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	651
19.3.	Taxation of income from IP under EU law	651
19.3.1.	Compatibility with the fundamental freedoms	651
19.3.2.	Taxation of royalties according to the Savings Agreement	651
19.4.	Taxation of income from IP under tax treaties	652
19.4.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1)	652
19.4.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	653
19.4.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	654
19.4.4.	Exemption in the source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of the royalties in the residence state	655
19.4.5.	Time of taxation	655
19.4.6.	Excessive royalty payments	655

Chapter 20:	United Kingdom by Anne Fairpo	657
20.1.	Introduction on private law aspects of intellectual property (IP)	657
20.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in the tax treaty definition of royalties (article 12 OECD and UN Models) and the evolution of the rights protected under the relevant private law	657
20.1.1.1.	Meaning of terms: Overview	657
20.1.1.2.	UK domestic law definitions of terms used in article 12(2): General	657
20.1.1.2.1.	Copyright	657
20.1.1.2.2.	Scope of copyright	658
20.1.1.2.3.	Patent	660
20.1.1.2.4.	Trade mark	660
20.1.1.2.5.	Design	661
20.1.1.2.6.	Model, plan, etc.	662
20.1.2.	Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP	662
20.1.3.	How is ownership determined?	663
20.2.	Taxation of income from IP under the domestic law	664
20.2.1.	Meaning of "royalties" and qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP	664
20.2.1.1.	Definition of "intellectual property" for UK domestic tax law purposes	665
20.2.2.	Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes	667
20.2.2.1.	Qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP	667
20.2.2.1.1.	Income derived from IP used directly by the owner	667
20.2.2.1.1.1.	Licensing: Distinguishing between grant of right to use and transfer of ownership	668
20.2.2.1.1.2.	Licensing income: Whether business income or non-business income	669
20.2.2.1.1.3.	Patent income derived by an individual	669
20.2.2.2.	Tax regimes applying to income from IP	670
20.2.2.2.1.	Corporate rules	670
20.2.2.2.2.	General rules	670

20.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers	672
20.2.3.1.	Determining non-residence	672
20.2.3.1.1.	Permanent establishment (PE) of a non-resident company	672
20.2.3.2.	Taxation of non-residents: Overview	672
20.2.3.3.	Payments of royalties from the UK: Tax withholding	673
20.2.3.3.1.	Pre-2016 approach to withholding tax on royalties	673
20.2.3.3.2.	Present approach to withholding tax on royalties	674
20.2.3.3.3.	Withholding compliance: Payment via agents	675
20.2.3.3.4.	PEs of non-resident companies: Withholding tax	675
20.2.3.4.	Domestic law exceptions to the requirement to withhold tax	676
20.2.3.4.1.	Creative professionals: Payments	676
20.2.3.4.2.	Limited software licences	676
20.2.3.4.3.	Copies of works	676
20.2.3.4.4.	Payments to associated EU companies	677
20.2.3.4.5.	Payments to recipients in treaty countries	677
20.2.3.4.6.	Anti-treaty shopping rules	677
20.2.3.5.	Sales of IP: Patents only	678
20.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	679
20.2.4.1.	Companies	679
20.2.4.1.1.	Transfer pricing	680
20.2.4.1.2.	Diverted profits tax	681
20.2.4.2.	Individuals and other non-corporates	682
20.3.	Taxation of income from IP under EU law	683
20.3.1.	Issues of compatibility of domestic tax law with EU law	683
20.3.1.1.	Income received by UK residents	683
20.3.1.1.1.	Payments made from the UK	684
20.3.1.2.	State aid	685
20.3.2.	Open issues in the implementation of the I&R Directive	685
20.3.2.1.	The notion of "royalties" included in article 2(b) of the I&R Directive (2003/49/EC)	685
20.3.2.1.1.	Minimum effective taxation clause	686
20.3.2.1.2.	Anti-abuse provisions	686
20.3.2.1.3.	Procedural issues	686

20.4.	Taxation of income from IP under tax treaties	687
20.4.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1)	687
20.4.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	688
20.4.3.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	691
20.4.4.	Exemption in the source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of the royalties in the residence state	691
20.4.5.	Time of taxation	692
20.4.6.	Excessive royalty payments	693
20.4.6.1.	Special relationships	693
Chapter 21:	United States by Larissa B. Neumann, Julia Ushakova-Stein, David N. de Ruig, Michael D. Knobler and Sean P. McElroy	695
21.1.	Introduction to private law aspects of intellectual property (IP)	695
21.1.1.	Private law meaning of terms used in tax treaty definition of royalties and evolution of rights developed under relevant private law	695
21.1.1.1.	Taxation of IP centres on the taxation of royalties	695
21.1.2.	Distinction under private law between alienation of IP and granting the right to use IP	697
21.2.	Taxation of IP under US tax law	698
21.2.1.	Meaning of "royalties" and qualification of income deriving from utilization of IP	698
21.2.2.	Qualification of income deriving from IP and applicable tax regimes	702
21.2.2.1.	Copyrights	705
21.2.2.2.	Patents	707
21.2.2.3.	Trademarks, trade names and franchises	709
21.2.2.4.	Costs of IP creation	710
21.2.2.5.	Offshoring US IP	711
21.2.2.6.	Deduction for foreign-derived intangible income	711
21.2.2.7.	Transfer of IP vs transfer of an article	712
21.2.3.	Tax treatment of income from IP derived by non-resident taxpayers	712

21.2.4.	Attribution to resident taxpayers of IP income derived by non-resident entities under CFC and similar rules	713
21.2.4.1.	Royalties	714
21.2.4.2.	Sale of IP	717
21.2.4.3.	Investment in US property	718
21.3.	Taxation of IP under tax treaties	719
21.3.1.	Taxing rights over royalties assigned by article 12(1)	719
21.3.1.1.	Overview and 2016 Model Tax Treaty	719
21.3.1.2.	Royalty withholding rates	721
21.3.1.3.	Royalty sourcing rules	721
21.3.2.	Meaning of "royalties" and overlapping between articles 7, 12 and 13	722
21.3.2.1.	Definition of "royalties" under article 12	722
21.3.2.2.	Comparison of treaty definition of "royalties" with US tax law definition of "royalties"	723
21.3.2.3.	Treaty interpretation issues and considerations	723
21.3.2.3.1.	Beneficial ownership and royalties	725
21.3.3.	Exemption in source state in cases of favourable tax regimes applicable to the beneficial owner of royalties in the state of residence	727
21.3.4.	Time of taxation	727
21.3.5.	Excessive royalty payments	728
Contributors		731
Other titles in this series		735