Research Handbook on EU Private International Law

SECOND EDITION

Edited by

Youseph Farah

Professor of International Dispute Resolution and Commercial Law, School of Law, University of East Anglia, UK

Elisabetta Bergamini

Professor of European Union Law, Universita Degli Studi di Udine, Italy

RESEARCH HANDBOOKS IN EUROPEAN LAW

Edward Elgar PUBLISHING

Cheltenham, UK · Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of contributors vii

Introduction 1
Youseph Farah and Elisabetta Bergamini

1 Arbitration and anti-suit injunction pre- and post-Brexit 8
Hong-Lin Yu

2 Finding reason in the interface between the system of Brussels I recast and arbitration following the decision of West Tankers and recent development 33
Youseph Farah and Sara Hourani

3 A critical assessment of the ever-expansive realm of party autonomy under Article 25 of Brussels I (recast) 62
Youseph Farah

4 The EU approach to parallel litigation in civil matters 81
Pietro Franzina

5 Class action and collective redress in EU private international law (a study in the field of torts) 106
Jeremy Heymann

6 The prospects of enforcing settlement agreements under the Singapore Convention on mediation – a comparative study of Nigeria and China 118
Pontian Okoli and Hong-Lin Yu

7 International sales of goods and Rome I Regulation 149
Indira Carr

8 The Rome I Regulation and the relevance of non-state law 166
Olugbenga Bamodu

9 Article 4 of the Rome I Regulation on the applicable law in the absence of choice – methodological analysis, considerations 186
Gülin Güneysu-Güngör

10 The determination of the lex arbitri in decentralised blockchain-based arbitration: proceedings functioning in a legal vacuum in the absence of a chosen seat? 206
Sara Hourani

11 Behavioural economics and EU private international law 225
Johannes Ungerer

12 Choice of law for tort claims 251
Peter Stone

13 The exclusion of defamation and privacy from the Rome II Regulation on choice of law in tort 275
David Kenny and Daniel Gilligan

14 The cultural wars of the European company and of private international law models and the EU single market: are we about to converge into a harmonised regulatory model for the free movement of companies in the EU? 296
Marios Koutsias

15 How to make EU cross-border successions easier: is regulation 650/2012 successful? 317
Elisabetta Bergamini

16 Pursuing the best interests of the child through connecting factors: the case of EU rules on jurisdiction in matters of parental responsibility 335
Francesco Deana

Index 359