

Contents

List of Figures	ix
List of Tables	xi
List of Contributors	xv
Introduction Marina Costa Lobo and John Curtice	1
 Section 1. Political or Not? Where Do Leader Evaluations Come From?
1. Leader Evaluations and Partisan Stereotypes—A Comparative Analysis Amanda Bittner	17
2. What Comes First, Character Traits or Political Assessments? An Experimental Study Sascha Huber	38
 Section 2. Systematic or Not? When Do Leader Evaluations Matter?
3. The Impact of Leaders in Parliamentary and Presidential Regimes John Curtice and Marco Lisi	63
4. Personality Politics in Single-Party and Coalition Governments Solidea Formichelli	87
5. Leader Effects and Party Polarization Romain Lachat	105
 Section 3. Sophisticates or Uninformed Electors? Who Takes Leader Evaluations into Account?
6. Political Sophistication and Media Consumption as Factors of Personalization Guillem Rico	127

Contents

7. Party Dealignment and Leader Effects Marina Costa Lobo	148
 Section 4. Competence or Character? What about Leaders Matters?
8. Between Leadership and Charisma, the Importance of Leaders Michael Lewis-Beck and Richard Nadeau	169
9. Determining the Components of Leader Effects in a Post-Communist Context Andrei Gheorghiță	191
10. Emotions Towards Leaders and Voting Behaviour Tatjana Rudi	215
Conclusion Marina Costa Lobo and John Curtice	241
Index	249