

Contents

Introduction.	Harry Finestone and Michael F. Shugrue . . .	v
Public Hostility to the Academy: What Can Chairmen of Departments of English Do?	John C. Gerber	1
To See It Feelingly.	Maynard Mack	9
The American Scholar Reconsidered.	Theodore L. Gross	26
The Scholars and the Anti-Self.	Caroline Shrodes	37
The Management of English.	Paul Olson	46
Thawing the Frozen Curriculum.	Wallace W. Douglas	61
Beyond Literacy.	Alan M. Hollingsworth	78
Facing Up to the Problems of Going Interdisciplinary.	John H. Fisher	90
Prolegomenon to a Definition of Interdisciplinary Studies: The Experience at Governors State University.	Daniel Bernd	95
The Politics of Change in the Research-Oriented Department.	Richard H. Green	105
Interdisciplinary Studies and the English Department.	Barry A. Marks	114
Science, Literature, and the New Consciousness.	Irving Deer	125

Planning Qualitative Disruption.	William M. Birenbaum	139
The Relevance of Language.	Roger Starr	148
Teaching and Revolution.	Harold Taylor	156
Interdisciplinary Studies: Variations in Meaning, Objectives, and Accomplishments.	Henry Winthrop	168
Appendix
Change in English (Report of the Grove Park Institute English Group)		187
The Gull Lake Conference		190
The Bellwether Conference on Graduate Education		194
MLA-ADE Manpower Survey		196
Obiter Dicta on the Bellwether Conference (Joseph Frank, University of Massachusetts at Amherst)		197
Resolutions Adopted by the 1971 San Fernando Valley State College-ADE Seminar		198
Northwestern ADE Seminar: Toward a Definition of Literacy for the Seventies		199
Tampa Workshop Reports		202
Interdisciplinary Studies—The View from Texas: A Report on the Texas ADE Meeting (Jeff H. Campbell, Southwestern University)		209
Reports from the National Conference on the Future of Graduate Education in English, Knoxville, Tennessee, 22–24 April 1971		211
ADE-CCNY Seminar, April 1972		240
ADE San Francisco Seminar, June 1972		243