

Contents

Foreword by PAUL ROBERTS	ix
Preface	xxxi

The Student and the Language	1
-------------------------------------	---

Basic concepts for teaching from structural linguistics	3
J. J. LAMBERTS

Meanings, habits and rules	10
W. F. TWADDELL

Linguistics and English composition	18
ALBERT H. MARCKWARDT

The relation of linguistics to the teaching of English	27
PAUL ROBERTS

The "Use of English" and the use of literature	38
JOHN HOLLOWAY

Correctness	45
--------------------	----

Correctness and style in English composition	49
ARCHIBALD A. HILL

Our national mania for correctness	57
DONALD J. LLOYD

One can use an indefinite "you" occasionally, can't you?	63
DORA JEAN ASHE
Contexts	67
S. I. HAYAKAWA
The possessive apostrophe in names	71
ROBERT L. COARD
Some structural ambiguities	76
NORMAN C. STAGEBERG
Language and dialect	86
STANLEY RUNDLE
Area linguistics and the teacher of English	90
HANS KURATH
Linguists and Their Critics	97
Snobs, slobes and the English language	99
DONALD J. LLOYD
The retort circumstantial	107
JACQUES BARZUN
Grammar and writing	111
BERTRAND EVANS
Grammar or gramarye?	125
JAMES SLEDD
Where our grammar came from	139
KARL DYKEMA
Grammar	137
A Re-examination of grammar	152
HUNTER DIACK

Progress in grammar	158
KARL DYKEMA
Terms in phonemics	167
GEORGE P. FAUST
Something of morphemics	176
GEORGE P. FAUST
The teacher and the world of English	182
HENRY LEE SMITH, JR.
Generative grammar: toward unification and simplification	192
OWEN THOMAS
Related Matters	203
Thirty years to a more powerful vocabulary	205
DONALD J. LLOYD AND HARRY WARFEL
A defense of English spelling	217
SIR ARCHIBALD SLUTER
Spelling by folk etymology	225
J. J. LAMBERTS
Pejorative terms for midwest farmers	228
HAROLD B. ALLEN
Dictionaries and the English language	236
ALBERT MARCKWARDT
The language of The Catcher in the Rye	249
DONALD P. COSTELLO
Languages and logic	259
BENJAMIN LEE WHORF

The Science of Language	271
The independence of grammar NOAM CHOMSKY	275
Grammaticality ARCHIBALD A. HILL	280
Some methodological remarks on generative grammar NOAM CHOMSKY	290
Patterns and ranges ANGUS MCINTOSH	309
The psycholinguists: on the new scientists of language GEORGE A. MILLER	327