

INHALT DER 8. LIEFERUNG

H. Suzuki: Racial history of the Japanese	7
Introduction	7
I. Historical survey of the theories concerning the origin of the Japanese	9
1. Substitution theory	9
2. Metisation theory	11
3. Transformation theory	12
II. Prehistoric and historic inhabitants	12
Prehistoric geography	12
2. Pleistocene man and the culture	15
3. Middle Pleistocene man	17
4. Late Pleistocene man	17
5. Neolithic Jomon age	20
a) Changes of social traits from the Jomon age to the present	20
b) Skeletons of the Jomon age	22
6. Aeneolithic Yayoi age	25
7. Protohistoric Kofun age	29
8. Historic Age	30
9. Secular changes of physical characteristics	31
a) Stature	31
b) Cranial form	31
c) Face	33
d) Nasal root	33
e) Prognathism	34
f) Non-metric features of the face	35
g) Development of the aristocratic characteristics in the Edo era	36
III. Recent Japanese	38
1. Recent Japanese among Asian populations	38
a) Stature	38
b) Head form	41
c) Facial form	43
d) Finger prints	43
e) other polymorphic characters	46
2. Local differences of the recent Japanese	48
a) Honshu	48
b) Nansei Islands	54
Conclusion	54
Acknowledgements	59
References	59
S. Watanabe: Ainu	71
I. Short History of the Ainu	73
II. Physical Characteristics of the Ainu	73
1. Skin	73
2. Hair	73
3. Face	73
4. Stature	74
5. Skull	74
III. Ethnology of the Ainu	75
IV. The problem of the racial classification of the Ainu	75
1. The Europid theory	76
2. The Oceanic race theory	76
3. The Mongoloid theory	77
Bibliography	77

J. GLINKA: Racial history of Indonesia	79
Introduction	79
I. Fossil history and prehistoric physical anthropology	79
1. The paleogeographic situation	79
2. Fossils and their stages of evolution	81
3. Homo sapiens-findings	85
a) Niah	85
b) Wadjak	88
c) Mesolithic period	89
d) Neolithic and early metal period	92
II. Recent populations	92
1. Distribution of physical anthropological characters	92
a) Stature	94
b) Cephalic index	94
c) Facial index	94
d) Nasal index	94
e) Hair form and skin colour	95
f) ABO-blood groups	95
2. Multivariate analysis	98
a) The Negrito	99
b) The Paleo- or Proto-Malayids	103
c) The Dayakids	104
d) The Neo- or Deutero-Malayids	105
e) The Madagassians	105
III. Racial history	106
1. Hitherto existing theories	106
a) The Four-Strata-theorie	106
b) The Two-Strata-theory	107
2. Presumable racial evolution	108
References	110

Oceania

By W. W. HOWELLS, Cambridge/Mass., and I. SCHWIDETZKY, Mainz	115
Introduction	115
A. Melanesia und Australia	118
I. Prehistoric physical anthropology, prehistory and linguistics	118
II. The recent populations	122
1. Serological characters	123
2. Physique and cranial form	127
3. Intergroup variation-distances	133
4. Dermatoglyphics	138
B. Polynesia and Micronesia	139
I. Archeology: The Lapita complex	140
II. The recent populations	142
1. Blood group variation	142
2. Physique and cranial: form	147
3. Intergroup variation – distances	151
C. Conclusions	157
Bibliography	160