

Contents

Preface	ix
----------------	-----------

1

The Concept of Fieldwork	1
---------------------------------	----------

Reasons for Becoming an Ethnographer	3
Mystique as a Communication Problem	4
Reasons for Worrying about Methods	6
How This Book Was Written	10
A Research Biography	14

2

Getting Started	21
------------------------	-----------

Picking an Area	21
A Review of the Literature	24
The Network "In"	27
Getting Funds	30

3

Who Are You To Do This?	41
--------------------------------	-----------

Personality and Cultural Background	42
Ethnography and Personality	50
Presentation of Self	54

4
Ethnography	63
The Mainstream	63
Ethnographic Research Differences	69
Goals of Ethnography	77
5
Beginning Fieldwork	83
Who Talks First	84
Asking Informal Questions	89
Analysis of Informal Interviews	103
Types of Informal Interviews	105
Interviews and Observations	107
Field Notes	111
Ethnographic Goals Revisited	114
6
Narrowing the Focus	119
Sampling People	120
Sampling Events	125
Distributions	127
The Systematic Test	132
The Formal–Informal Mix	134
The Narrowing Funnel	136
7
Informal to Formal: Some Examples	137
Simulated Situation	138
Frame Elicitation	139
Hypothetical Situation	149
The Three Methods in Use	150
Systematic-Test Methodology	156
An Example from Houston	163
Hypothesis-Testing Revisited	171
Coda	173
8
The Ethnographic Research Proposal	175
Budget	178
Staff	180

The Research Context	181
Human Subjects	183
9
Ethnography in Context	189
Theory in Ethnography	189
A Language for Culture Theory	192
When Is an Ethnography Not an Ethnography?	193
Accounting for the Accounts	198
The Pragmatic Context	199
Ethnography in Prospect	203
References	205
Index	215