

Contents

Foreword by Colin MacCabe	ix
Author's Note	xxi

One: Literature

1. The Letter as Cutting Edge	3
2. Finding Feminist Readings: Dante–Yeats	15
3. Unmaking and Making in To The Lighthouse	30
4. Sex and History in The Prelude (1805): Books Nine to Thirteen	46
5. Feminism and Critical Theory	77

Two: Into the World

6. Reading the World: Literary Studies in the Eighties	95
7. Explanation and Culture: Marginalia	103
8. The Politics of Interpretations	118
9. French Feminism in an International Frame	134
10. Scattered Speculations on the Question of Value	154

Three: Entering the Third World

11. "Draupadi" by Mahasweta Devi	179
12. Subaltern Studies: Deconstructing Historiography	197
13. "Breast-Giver" by Mahasweta Devi	222
14. A Literary Representation of the Subaltern: A Woman's Text from the Third World	241
Notes	269