	PARA.
1. THE ECONOMIC JUSTIFICATION FOR MERGER CONTROL
1.1 Introduction	1-001
1.2 Criteria for Assessing Market Performance	1-002
(a) Consumer welfare	1-003
(b) Total welfare	1-008
(c) Efficiency	1-009
(d) Analysis of criteria	1-010
1.3 The Effects of Mergers on Market Performance	1-012
(a) Efficiencies	1-013
(b) Market power	1-014
(c) The trade-off between efficiency and market power	1-023

1.4	Measurement of the Predicted Effects of Mergers on Market Performance	1-026
1.5	Empirical Evidence of the Effects of Mergers on Consumers	1-028
1.6	Overview of Analysis
	(a) Theories of competitive harm	1-029
	(b) Framework for analysis	1-033
	(c) Rebutting theories of competitive harm	1-034
	(d) Unifying principles—incentives and abilities	1-035
	(e) Relevance of economic theory	1-036
2.	THE SIEC TEST AND OTHER LEGAL AND METHODOLOGICAL ISSUES
2.1	Introduction	2-001
2.2	The Objectives of EU Merger Control	2-003
2.3	The Change to the Substantive Test in the EUMR
	(a) The Commission's 2001 consultation and 2002 proposals	2-008
	(b) Possible deficiencies in the “dominance” test	2-009
	(c) The adoption by the Council of “compromise” text	2-011
2.4	Interpreting the SIEC Test
	(a) Formally, the SIEC test broadens the Commission's jurisdiction	2-012
	(b) What is meant by “significant impediment to effective competition”?	2-013
	(c) The “significant impediment to effective competition” test in practice	2-019
	(d) “De minimis” exception	2-020
	(e) “Dominant position”	2-021
	(f) Mergers involving existing monopolies	2-024
	(g) “Substantial part” of the internal market	2-025
2.5	Burden and Standard of Proof
	(a) Burden of proof	2-026
	(b) Standard of proof	2-028
2.6	Period over which the Predicted Effects of the Merger are Examined	2-035
2.7	Relationship between the EUMR and arts 101 and 102, National Regulatory Systems, Contractual Restrictions and State Aids
	(a) Articles 101 and 102	2-037
	(b) National regulatory systems	2-040
	(c) Contractual restrictions	2-041
	(d) State aids	2-042
2.8	Investigative Techniques	2-049
2.9	International Comity	2-053

3.	MARKET DEFINITION
3.1	Introduction	3-001
3.2	Product Market Definition: Introduction	3-005
3.3	Product Market Definition: Demand-side Substitution
	(a) The SSNIP test	3-006
	(b) Evidence: introduction	3-012
	(c) Pricing evidence	3-013
	(d) Shock analysis or event studies and other evidence of historic switching	3-022
	(e) Switching costs	3-024
	(f) Functional interchangeability	3-025
	(g) Product characteristics	3-026
	(h) Trade relationships	3-027
	(i) Evidence of sellers' business decisions	3-029
	(j) Sellers' relative costs	3-030
	(k) Critical loss analysis	3-031
	(l) Demand characteristics	3-032
	(m) Previous cartel activity	3-033
	(n) Evidence from customers and competitors	3-034
	(o) International categorisations	3-035
3.4	Product Market Definition: Supply-side Substitution
	(a) The SSNIP test	3-036
	(b) Evidence	3-037
3.5	Specific Issues in Product Market Definition
	(a) Continuous chains of substitution	3-038
	(b) Own label goods	3-039
	(c) Original equipment/replacement goods	3-040
	(d) Differentiated products	3-041
	(e) Captive production/in-house supplies	3-042
	(f) Secondary markets	3-044
	(g) Two-sided markets	3-046
	(h) Range and cluster goods	3-047
	(i) One-way markets	3-048
	(j) Outsourcers or resellers who sub-contract to actual suppliers	3-049
	(k) Durable goods	3-050
	(l) Recycled goods	3-051
	(m) New markets	3-052
	(n) Innovation markets	3-053
	(o) Technology	3-054
	(p) Procurement markets	3-055
	(q) Exploration, production and supply	3-056
	(r) Spot and long-term contracts	3-057
	(s) Physical and paper trading	3-058
	(t) Wholesale markets	3-059

CONTENTS

(u)	Use of demand- and supply-side analysis	3-060
(v)	Programme and catalogue sales	3-061
3.6	Geographic Market Definition: Introduction	3-062
3.7	Geographic Market Definition: Demand-side Substitution
(a)	The SSNIP test	3-063
(b)	Evidence: introduction	3-064
(c)	Pricing	3-065
(d)	Trade flows and buying patterns	3-071
(e)	Transport and other transaction costs	3-076
(f)	Legal restrictions and capacity constraints	3-078
(g)	Customer requirements for local support services	3-079
(h)	Conditions of competition	3-080
(i)	Customers' procurement policies	3-081
(j)	EU harmonisation and procurement legislation	3-082
(k)	Other harmonisation of product standards	3-083
(l)	National preferences, language and culture	3-084
3.8	Geographic Market Definition: Supply-side Substitution	3-085
3.9	Specific Issues in Geographic Market Definition
(a)	"One-way" markets	3-086
(b)	Continuous chains of substitution	3-087
(c)	"Route by route" markets	3-088
(d)	Suppliers competing in both national and local markets	3-089
(e)	Smaller Member States	3-090
(f)	Multi-plant operations	3-091
(g)	Competitive tenders and inplants	3-094
3.10	Temporal Market Definition	3-095
4.	MARKET SHARES AND CONCENTRATION LEVELS
4.1	Introduction	4-001
4.2	Market Share Data
(a)	Units for measuring market shares	4-002
(b)	Calculating market shares	4-015
(c)	The use by the Commission of market share data	4-026
(d)	Interpreting market share data	4-029
4.3	Concentration Data	4-036
5.	THE COUNTERFACTUAL
5.1	Introduction	5-001
5.2	The Counterfactual	5-002
5.3	Other Transactions
(a)	Parallel mergers	5-005
(b)	Overlapping mergers	5-006

(c)	Applying the counterfactual to parallel and overlapping mergers	5-007
6.	MARKET OPERATION
6.1	Introduction	6-001
6.2	Principal Economic Models of Market Operation	6-002
	(a) The Stackelberg leader-follower model	6-003
	(b) Limit pricing theory	6-004
	(c) Game theory	6-005
6.3	Dynamic Effects: Changes in the Market over Time
	(a) Expanding markets	6-007
	(b) Static or declining markets	6-008
	(c) New markets	6-009
	(d) Innovation	6-011
	(e) Naturally concentrated markets	6-012
6.4	Competitive Interaction	6-013
	(a) Pricing	6-014
	(b) Costs	6-022
	(c) Products	6-023
	(d) Contractual terms	6-025
	(e) Network effects	6-026
	(f) Two-sided markets	6-028
	(g) Tender or bidding markets	6-029
	(h) Derived demand	6-031
	(i) Connected markets	6-032
	(j) Not-for-profit organisations	6-033
6.5	EU Procurement and Harmonising Legislation	6-034
6.6	National Champions	6-035
7.	HORIZONTAL MERGERS: NON-CO-ORDINATED EFFECTS
7.1	Introduction	7-001
7.2	Merging Firms have Large Market Shares	7-002
7.3	Differentiated Products	7-003
7.4	Competitors are Unlikely to Increase Supply if Price Increases	7-008
7.5	Other Factors which may give Rise to Non-Co-ordinated Effects	7-009
	(a) Limited possibilities of switching supplier	7-010
	(b) Merged group's ability to hinder expansion	7-012
	(c) Loss of an important competitive force or a "maverick"	7-013
7.6	Efficiencies Generated by the Merger and Other Aspects of the Merged Group's Market Position

CONTENTS

(a)	Whether efficiencies resulting from the merger may contribute to a prohibition decision	7-016
(b)	The merged group's financial resources	7-020
8.	CO-ORDINATED EFFECTS
8.1	Introduction	8-001
8.2	The Test for Identifying Co-ordinated Effects	8-004
8.3	Methodology in Analysing Co-ordinated Effects	8-007
8.4	The Nature of Co-ordination	8-008
8.5	Whether Co-ordination is Present Prior to the Merger
(a)	The Airtours decision	8-009
(b)	The practical importance of a finding of pre-merger co-ordination	8-010
(c)	Evidence	8-012
8.6	The Members of the Candidate Oligopoly	8-016
8.7	Reaching Terms of Co-ordination
(a)	Introduction	8-017
(b)	Terms of co-ordination will only emerge if they are profitable	8-018
(c)	Type of product	8-019
(d)	Facilitating practices	8-021
(e)	Similarity in costs structures	8-022
(f)	Complexity of the terms of co-ordination	8-024
(g)	Transparency of the reference point	8-025
(h)	Other factors affecting the ability to reach terms of co-ordination	8-027
8.8	Monitoring Deviations	8-036
8.9	Deterrent Mechanisms
(a)	Generally	8-041
(b)	The scope of the obligation to identify a deterrent mechanism	8-042
(c)	The incentives to comply with the co-ordinated outcome	8-044
(d)	Chances of detection and speed of punishment	8-046
(e)	The deterrent mechanism must eliminate the gains from cheating	8-047
(f)	The credibility of the retaliatory threat	8-048
(g)	Market operation	8-049
(h)	Evidence that retaliatory measures have been employed in the past	8-050
8.10	Reactions of Outsiders
(a)	Introduction	8-051
(b)	The competitive fringe	8-052
(c)	New entry	8-054
(d)	Countervailing buyer power	8-055

CONTENTS

8.11	Causation	8-057
8.12	Capacity
	(a) Introduction	8-060
	(b) Symmetry in over-capacity	8-061
	(c) Actual capacity	8-062
	(d) Tacit co-ordination on capacity	8-063
8.13	Structural Links and other Forms of Co-operation	8-064
8.14	Evidence of Historic Cartel Activity	8-066
9.	LOSS OF POTENTIAL COMPETITION AND MERGERS IN NEIGHBOURING MARKETS
9.1	Introduction	9-001
9.2	Loss of Potential Competition
	(a) General	9-002
	(b) The Commission's decision in Air Liquide/BOC	9-004
	(c) The Commission's other decisions	9-005
	(d) The approach of the US agencies	9-006
9.3	Mergers in Neighbouring Markets	9-007
10.	THE MERGED GROUP'S BUYER POWER
10.1	Introduction	10-001
10.2	Conditions for the Exercise of Buyer Power	10-003
10.3	Decisions of the Commission	10-004
11.	VERTICAL ISSUES
11.1	Introduction
	(a) Definition	11-001
	(b) Ambiguous effects of vertical integration on consumer welfare	11-002
	(c) Decisions of the European Union Courts	11-003
	(d) Notice on non-horizontal mergers	11-004
	(e) Consistent application of antitrust law	11-005
	(f) Vertical effects flow-chart	11-006
11.2	Possible Efficiencies in Vertical Mergers
	(a) Introduction	11-007
	(b) Transaction costs	11-008
	(c) Double marginalisation	11-009
11.3	Input Foreclosure
	(a) Introduction	11-011
	(b) Market share and concentration levels	11-012
	(c) The framework for analysing input foreclosure issues	11-013

CONTENTS

	(d) Identify the leveraging conduct	11-014
	(e) Ability to foreclose access to inputs	11-015
	(f) Incentive to pursue an input foreclosure strategy	11-024
	(g) Impact on competition in the downstream market	11-029
	(h) Causation	11-031
	(i) Efficiencies	11-032
11.4	Customer Foreclosure
	(a) Introduction	11-033
	(b) Market share and concentration levels	11-034
	(c) The framework for analysing customer foreclosure issues	11-035
	(d) Identify the leveraging conduct	11-036
	(e) Ability to foreclose access to customers	11-037
	(f) Incentive to pursue a customer foreclosure strategy	11-041
	(g) Impact on competition	11-042
	(h) Causation	11-044
	(i) Efficiencies	11-045
11.5	Foreclosure of New Entry	11-046
11.6	Other Concerns Arising from Vertical Integration
	(a) Co-ordinated effects and express collusion	11-047
	(b) Price discrimination	11-048
	(c) Information	11-049
	(d) Avoidance of regulatory constraints	11-050
	(e) Reduced incentive to engage in research and development	11-051
	(f) Loss of liquidity on the input market	11-052
11.7	Other Situations Giving Rise to Vertical Foreclosure Concerns
	(a) “Diagonal” overlaps	11-053
	(b) Indirect vertical relationships	11-054
	(c) Buyer power	11-055
12.	CONGLOMERATE ISSUES
12.1	Introduction
	(a) General	12-001
	(b) Ambiguous effects of conglomerate mergers on consumer welfare	12-002
	(c) Decisions of the European Union Courts	12-003
	(d) Notice on non-horizontal mergers	12-004
	(e) Grounds for intervention in conglomerate mergers	12-005
	(f) Organisation of the chapter	12-006
12.2	Generic Treatment of Conglomerate Issues—Leveraging
	(a) Market share and concentration levels	12-007
	(b) The framework for analysing conglomerate leveraging issues	12-008

CONTENTS

(c)	Identify the leveraging conduct	12-009
(d)	Ability to pursue the leveraging conduct	12-010
(e)	Incentive to pursue the leveraging conduct	12-016
(f)	Foreclosure	12-020
(g)	Causation	12-022
(h)	Efficiencies	12-023
12.3	Tying, Pure Bundling and Mixed Bundling
(a)	Introduction	12-024
(b)	The Chicago school	12-025
(c)	Ability and incentive to tie or bundle	12-026
(d)	The exclusionary effects of tying or bundling	12-028
12.4	Other Theories of Leverage	12-029
12.5	Portfolio Power or Range Effects
(a)	The scope of portfolio power theories	12-030
(b)	Applying leveraging theory to portfolio power cases	12-033
12.6	Reduced Incentive to Engage in Research and Development	12-035
13.	CO-ORDINATION IN JOINT VENTURES
13.1	Introduction
(a)	The effects of joint ventures on competition	13-001
(b)	The relationship between arts 2(4) and 2(5) of the EUMR and co-ordinated effects	13-002
13.2	Co-ordination of Behaviour
(a)	General	13-003
(b)	Identifying the markets for analysis	13-005
(c)	Identifying the mechanism for co-ordination	13-006
(d)	Assessing the parents' incentive and ability to engage in co-ordination	13-007
(e)	Appreciability	13-010
(f)	Causation	13-011
(g)	Article 101(3) analysis	13-012
14.	COMPETITION FROM ACTUAL RIVALS
14.1	Introduction	14-001
14.2	Assessing the Strength of Competition from Rivals
(a)	General	14-002
(b)	Market shares	14-003
(c)	Concentration data	14-004
(d)	Bidding studies	14-005
14.3	Viability of Alternative Sources of Supply
(a)	General	14-006
(b)	Incentive to expand output	14-007

CONTENTS

(c)	Ability to expand output	14-008
(d)	Credible alternatives for customers	14-011
(e)	Sufficiency of competitor activity	14-012
(f)	Competition from outside the market	14-013
14.4	Links between the Merged Group and its Competitors
(a)	General	14-014
(b)	Can the Commission take account of links which do not confer control?	14-015
(c)	The weight to be placed on links conferring control	14-017
(d)	The weight to be placed on links which do not confer control	14-018
15.	COUNTERVAILING BUYER POWER
15.1	Introduction	15-001
15.2	Assessing Buyer Power
(a)	General	15-003
(b)	Existence of viable alternatives or credible threats	15-004
(c)	Whether buyers have an incentive to act	15-006
(d)	Whether buyers' power is counterbalanced by similar or greater power of the merged group	15-008
(e)	The role of smaller customers	15-009
15.3	Leading Decisions on Buyer Power	15-010
16.	NEW ENTRY
16.1	Introduction	16-001
16.2	Relevant Principles
(a)	Test of likely, timely and sufficient	16-002
(b)	Likelihood of entry	16-003
(c)	Timeliness	16-004
(d)	Sufficiency	16-005
(e)	New entry as a "trump"	16-006
16.3	Barriers to Entry
(a)	Definition	16-007
(b)	Technical and strategic advantages	16-008
(c)	Entry impediments	16-014
(d)	Analysis of barriers to entry in practice	16-015
(e)	Barriers to expansion	16-017
(f)	Barriers to exit and contestable markets	16-018
