

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
1. A Convict Dream: James Tucker's Ralph Rashleigh	16
2. A Woman "Lifer": Caroline Leakey's The Broad Arrow	31
3. "Poet of Our Desolation": Marcus Clarke's His Natural Life	47
4. Price Warung and the Convicts: A View from (and of) the Nineties	62
5. The Strange World of Sir William Heans (and the Mystery of William Hay)	75
6. Brian Penton's Thirties Novels: The "Roots of the New Psyche"	91
7. The "Precarious Present" and the Future: Eleanor Dark's The Timeless Land	108
8. Convict Legends, Australian Legends: Price Warung, the Palmers and Others, 1927-1970	122
9. The "Duties of Innocence": Hal Porter's The Tilted Cross	130
10. "The Present Rendered Fabulous": Thomas Keneally's Bring Larks and Heroes	139
11. The City or the Desert: Patrick White's A Fringe of Leaves	151
Conclusion	167