

contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Some First Words: The need for a text to critically evaluate Bahamian literature	ix
The Long View: Bahamian literary production and dependency
1 Arawaks and Pirates	1
2 Cotton, Slavery, Rum, Tourism and Obeah	11
3 Resorts, Tax-Havens, Grassroots and Hully-Gullies	27
From Pirates to Politics:
Bahamian Literature 1724-1953
4 A Pirate Skit	37
5 Assimilation or the White Way	43
6 'Picture-Perfect': the Tamed Face of the Bahamian Black	61
7 The Trickster and Obeah-Man	73
8 Bahamian Literature 1924-1953: the View from the Crow's Nest	91
Entering the Promised Land:
Bahamian Literature 1953-1992
9 Family and Exile	113
10 The Promised Land	123
11 The Ambivalent Male	137
12 The Rise of the Feminine	149
13 The Country as Host	159
14 Dialect and Bahamian Literature	169
15 Contemporary Bahamian Literature: the View from the Crow's Nest	177
Bibliography	199
Index	205