

Contents

Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	1
Carla Mulford

Part I: Issues, Themes, Methods

Beyond the Boundaries of the Americas

The Old Wisdom: Introducing Native American Materials	11
James Ruppert
Diversity and Difference in African American Writings	27
Amy E. Winans
Early Women's Texts	48
Sharon M. Harris
Figuring Multicultural Practice in Early American Literature Classrooms	63
Pattie Cowell

Resisting Colonialism Carla Mulford	75
Spanish and French Colonial Writings
Colonial Spanish Writings E. Thomson Shields, Jr., and Dana D. Nelson	97
Early French North American Writings Rosalie Murphy Baum	112
British Colonial and Postcolonial Writings
The Literature of England's Staple Colonies David S. Shields	129
The Literature of Colonial English Puritanism Philip F. Gura	143
The American Enlightenment and Endless Emancipation Frank Shuffelton	155
Federalism and Conflict Nicholas D. Rombes	170
Genre Studies
Early Anglo-American Poetry: Genre, Voice, Art, and Representation William J. Scheick	187
Early American Prose Fiction and the Anxieties of Affluence Joseph Fichtelberg	200
Early American Drama and Theater Jeffrey H. Richards	213
American Self-Fashioning and the Problems of Autobiography Gregory Eiselein	229
Captivity Narratives Kathryn Zabelle Derounian-Stodola	243

Part II: Selected Courses

The Early American Literature Survey	259
Russell Reising
Gender, Genre, and Culture: A Two-Quarter Graduate Seminar	272
Karen E. Rowe
Common Ground on Different Borders: A Comparative Study of Chicano/a and Puritan Writers	297
José F. Aranda, Jr.
From "The Melting Pot" to Multiculturalism	309
Dennis D. Moore
New Worlds, 1450–1750: A Historian's Perspective on the Study of Colonial America	321
Gary L. Hewitt

Part III: Resources

Resources for Early American Studies: A Selective Guide	338
Edward J. Gallagher
Notes on Contributors	387
Index	393