

TABLE OF CONTENTS

| | |
|--|-----|
| PREFACE | vii |
| PART ONE: The Gentleman: His Characteristics and His Place in Society | |
| I. English Patterns for Virginia Planters | 1 |
| II. The Development of a Virginia Aristocracy | 38 |
| III. The Quality of the Gentry | 63 |
| PART TWO: The Gentleman: Evidences of His Intellectual Interest | |
| IV. The Planters' Concern over Education | 95 |
| V. Books and Their Place in Plantation Life | 117 |
| VI. William Fitzhugh: The Evolution of an Aristocrat | 155 |
| VII. Ralph Wormeley II: A Cultivated Gentleman- Planter | 187 |
| VIII. Richard Lee II: A Belated Elizabethan | 212 |
| IX. The Literate Interests of the First Carters | 235 |
| X. Robert Beverley II: Historian and Iconoclast | 286 |
| XI. The Byrds' Progress from Trade to Genteel Elegance | 312 |
| XII. The Vitality of the Tradition | 348 |
| Index | 355 |