

Contents

List of Writers and Detectives	vii
Preface	ix
1 Introduction	1
2 The Old Guard in the mid-1990s: Muller, Grafton, and Paretsky	17
Marcia Muller and Sharon McCone	18
Sue Grafton and Kinsey Millhone	24
Sara Paretsky and V.I. Warshawski	29
3 The Old Guard Continued: Kaminsky, Parker, and Block	39
Stuart Kaminsky and Porfiry Rostnikov	40
Robert B. Parker and Spenser	43
Lawrence Block and Matt Scudder	50
4 The Personal and the Regional: New Forms of Authenticity in Female Crime Writing	58
Private matters	58
Regionalism	67
5 Three Pictures from the Institution: Forrest, Barr, and Hightower	77
Katherine V. Forrest's lesbian cop	79
Nevada Barr's Park Ranger	84
Lynn S. Hightower's single parent	91
6 Los Angeles Police Department: Ellroy's and Connelly's Police Procedurals	96
James Ellroy	96
Michael Connelly	105
7 Private Investigation in the 1990s	113
Marlowe at the end of the millennium	113
America as grotesque	118
On the ball	122
High jinks in Trenton	124

8 The 'English Tradition' in Contemporary American Crime Fiction	129
Martha Grimes, Long Piddleton, and the twelfth Viscount Ardry	130
Elizabeth George, the eighth Earl of Asherton, and Acton, North London	134
9 Historical Mysteries	146
Ancient Rome	149
Historical New York	151
New England	153
Seneca Falls and the rights of women	154
New York revisited	156
10 In Waco's Wake: Patricia Cornwell and Mary Willis Walker	160
Mary Willis Walker	161
Patricia Cornwell	169
11 'Other' Detectives: the Emergence of Ethnic Crime Writing	175
Contemporary ethnic detectives	176
African American crime writing: Walter Mosley's Easy Rawlins	178
Dale Furutani's Ken Tanaka	183
Twice marginalized: ethnicity and sexuality	185
The past revisited: Robert Skinner's Skin Deep, Blood Red	188
12 Black Female Crime Writing	190
South and north: Barbara Neely's Blanche	191
Middle class detection in Sacramento	196
Reunion in Blue River	201
Black female PI in Newark	203
13 The Persistence of Gender: the Private Investigators of S.J. Rozan	206
Primary Bibliography	215
Select Secondary Bibliography	222
Index	225