

CONTENTS

Foreword vii

- 1 "Save Humanity with Science and Sanity" 1
- 2 "... it was so heavy he had to spend four cents in mailing it" 25
- 3 "If he wants to kill himself . . ." 43
- 4 "... piggish indifference and ingratitude . . ." 65
- 5 "... ears that had long since shrivelled into uselessness" 85
- 6 "A country yokel, just what we expected" 101
- 7 "That's five cents, Isaac" 131
- 8 "My God, ears!" 151

- 9 Like the remnants of an exploded planetoid . . . 171
- 10 "There she is, the little mother of science fiction" 191
- 11 "Let D. and E. be fricasseed and fried!" 217
- 12 ". . . and then, in 1941, I would have been killed in the war" 239
- 13 In some underground way I think he did know—had always known 253
- Appendix: Four Futurian Songs 259
- Index 265