

Contents

Acknowledgements	7
Departures	9
Dale Carter	11
Introduction: The Death and Life of an Exceptional Concept
Joyce Appleby	24
Recovering America's Historic Diversity: Beyond Exceptionalism
Cultures	43
Thomas B. Byers	45
A City Upon a Hill: American Literature and the Ideology of Exceptionalism
James Mendelsohn	69
Writing, Criticism and the Imagination of Nation: American Exceptionalism and the Evolution of American Studies
Technologies	91
David E. Nye	93
Technology and Cultural Difference
Inger Hunnerup Dalsgaard	112
No Special Relation: British Perceptions of Ante-Bellum America's Growing Pains
Eric Guthey	137
Newt's Clean Slate, or American Exceptionalism in the Information Age

Institutions	165
Peter Bardaglio	167
'A Divided Empire': African Americans, the South, and the Narrative of American Exceptionalism
John Halsey and W. Bruce Leslie	197
A College Upon a Hill: Exceptionalism and American Higher Education
Laws	229
Helle Porsdam	231
'They Came to Lawyers, You Know, What Can You Do?' American Exceptionalism and Judicial Activism
Jody W. Pennington	257
'Against Any Winds that Blow': American Exceptionalism, Multiculturalism, and Judicial Review
Returns	283
Michael Kammen	285
The Problem of American Exceptionalism: A Reconsideration
Notes on Contributors	335